TO PARTIES ANTICIPATING BUILDING.

THERE IS A GROWING UNEASINESS in the minds of a majority of our citizens against using water drawn through LEAD PIPES, many even causing such pipes to be removed, for cold water, and our pure and healthy TIN-LINED LEAD PIPE substituted. There are numbers who would be willing to pay an increased price for rent, or purchase, provided the great blessing of Pure and Healthy water could also be secured. To parties about building houses for sale or to rent, we would especially urge this consideration: The additional cost of introducing TIN-LINED LEAD PIPE for cold water alone, and this is all that is really essential, would be but a trifle. Who would not prefer to have the water used for cooking or drinking purposes contained and passed through pure block tin, instead of poisonous lead? There is a large quantity of our Patent TIN-LINED LEAD PIPE in constant use to the extent of over one thousand tons, some of which was introduced as early as 1863, and doing good service to the present time. The large quantity in use and the many years it has been on trial has fully established its reputation, not only as a pure and safe water pipe, but also a serviceable one.

We take pleasure in referring parties to Plumbers who are of the highest reputation and who have successfully introduced large quantities of our Patent TIN-LINED LEAD PIPE.

All communications should be addressed to

C. W. SWERT,

106 BROADWAY, COR. OF PINE STREET.

TWENTY CENTS each will be paid for No. 100 and 105 of the RECORD.

THE first official report of Dr. Carnochan, which we print this week, should have appeared in the last number of the RECORD, but was laid over through want of space. Considerable interest is taken in all matters relating to quarantine and the health of New York city; and too much care cannot be exercised by those having power to protect the city from contagious diseases. It will be seen from the report of the Health Officer that vigorous measures are necessary to keep the enemy from among us.

REPORT OF DR. CARNOCHAN.

To the Board of Health, New York:

In accordance with the requirements of the quarantine law, I beg to submit the following report in reference to vessels detained at this quarantine. From the first day of April, the beginning of the quarantine season, until the present time, there have arrived fourteen vessels having cases of small-pox on board. On these vessels the whole number of persons exposed to the disease was 11,350, of whom 10,800 were vaccinated in quarantine. The remainder had been recently and successfully vaccinated, or had previously had the disease. Twenty-five patients, sick upon arrival, were sent to the Small-pox Hospital at Blackwell's Island. During the same period there have arrived twenty-two vessels which have had cases of yellow fever, either at their port of departure or on the passage. Many of these arrived early in the season, and, after a temporary detention for the ventilation of the vessels and cargoes, were permitted to proceed. With the beginning of the warm weather it became necessary to exercise greater caution in reference to arrivals from ports infected with yellow fever, and from the 1st of June they were detained at lower quarantine. The necessity for this course has been demonstrated by the breaking out of several cases of yellow fever on board of vessels detained in the lower bay, of which several have proved fatal, and which but for this precaution would have occurred in the city. Since the beginning of the present year yellow fever has been more or less prevalent at a number of West Indian ports, and at Rio Janeiro it has been unusually malignant. St. Jago, Port au Prince, and Gonaives have been seriously infected, while no clean bills of health have been received from Havana since early in May, and both through public and private sources this department has been constantly informed of the prevalence of yellow fever in that port. At the present time vessels requiring to discharge cargo by lighters in the quarantine are confined to arrivals from three ports; namely, Havana, Port au Prince, and Rio Janeiro. In this connection it may be proper to show, by the following list of arrivals from Rio Janeiro and Port au Prince, that the efforts of merchants and consignees to bring vessels from these ports to the wharves of the city are made in their own interests, and without regard to the health of the community.

RIO JANEIRO.—Arrived. April 21—Brig Johann: Had four men sick after leaving port; was obliged to put back to Rio for another crew.

April 23.—Brig Martha Stevens: Was obliged to put back to Rio with three men sick of yellow fever.

May 4.—Bark Fairy: Captain and one man died of yellow fever on the passage, and part of the crew in hospital at Rio also.

May 5.—Brig Moraney: Several of this crew in hospital at Rio with yellow fever.

May 15.—Brig Mariposa: Left mate and one man sick with yellow fever at Rio, where the cook also died of same disease. The captain's wife died on the passage home, and all hands except one had been sick with yellow fever.

May 8.—Brig Denen: Had three of the crew in hospital at Rio with yellow fever.

May 10.—Brig Frieden: Had five men in hospital at Rio with yellow fever, three of whom died with the same disease; all the crew were more or less sick.

May 21.—Brig Moses Rogers: The captain, his wife and nephew, and all the crew but two, were sick of yellow fever at Rio. One man died at the hospital.

June 1.—Bark Brazilaria: Had five men in hospital at Rio, of whom the captain and one man died; also had one death on the passage homeward.

June 17.—Bark Lord Baltimore: Had four men in hospital at Rio with yellow fever, of whom one, the captain's son, died.

The above list comprises nearly three-fourths of the arrivals from Rio Janeiro since the first of April.

PORT AU PRINCE.—Arrived, March 31.—Steamship City of Port au Prince: Had one death on the passage from yellow fever.

March 17.—Brig S. B. Smith: One death from yellow fever at that port, and crew all sick with same disease.

April 7.—Brig Alice: Captain died at Port au Prince of yellow fever; several of the crew were also in hospital; had one death from yellow fever on the passage home.

May 16.—Brig Oliver Cutts: Lost second mate and one man with yellow fever at Port au Prince, and had three others in hospital.

May 26.—French sloop of war Latouche Treville: Had ten cases of yellow fever and one death at Port au Prince. Nine patients were admitted to the Quarantine Hospital after her arrival, of whom two, including Lieutenant Rogues, died. The remainder were discharged convalescent June 20.

June 10.—Bark R. Murray, Jr., from Mari-gonne and Port au Prince: Had no bill of health, and all the crew sick at port of departure.

J. M. CARNOCHAN,
Health Officer.

A COMPLIMENT TO THE HEALTH OFFICER.

On motion of Commissioner Manierre the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this board expresses its confidence in the judgment and prudence which the Health Officer has shown in the discharge of his duties.

THE OLD STREETS OF NEW YORK.

A WRITER in the New York Daily Times gives a number of highly interesting facts in regard to the origin and history of many of the names of the old streets of New York city, a few of which we reproduce in the RECORD as curiosities of local history. Wall street, it appears, received its name on account of a wall and a line of palisades which were thrown up as a protection in olden times from the assaults of the Indians. Stone street was so called because it chanced to be the first street paved with stone. Down the line of Beaver street a brook formerly ran which was a favorite resort for the animal whose name it still bears. The original name of Exchange place was Garden street, so called from the gardens of the Governor, along which it passed; at a later period the "Exchange House" was established there and gave rise to its present name. On State street was the headquarters of the Dutch Governors, hence its name, and at the corner of that thoroughfare and the present Whitehall street old Peter Stuyvesant had a large white house which came to be known as the White Hall, and gave its name to the street. At two or three different places roadways were opened down to the boat-landings on the shore, and these were called slips. The original opening of this kind still bears the name of Old slip, and Coenties slip was so called from Coen (Coenraet) and Anties (Jane) Ten Eyck whose house was just at that point. The slips which were opened at later times were named from the owners of the adjoining property, as Peck's slip, Burling's slip, etc. The first extension of the city to the north demolished the old wall and palisades, and fixed the limit at what is now Maiden lane, which—romantic name—had its origin in the custom of the thrifty maidens of the early colonial days going up to a clear brook which flowed through that region to bleach their homespun linen. Chatham was so called after the great British statesman the Earl of Chatham, and the upper part was called the Bowery road, now the Bowery. Fulton street was formerly called Partition street, on account of its dividing certain private possessions. Ann street was called after the name of the wife of the owner of Beekman's swamp, from whom Beekman street received its name. In 1696 Trinity Church was built on the banks of the Hudson. The practice began of filling up the land about it, and the new streets thus formed received their names from something connected with this vigorous representative of the Church of England. For instance in the immediate neighborhood are Rector street and Trinity place. Further up we have Vesey and Barclay streets, from the names of the first two rectors of the church, Wm. Vesey and Henry Barclay. Courtland, Dey, Murray, Warren and Chambers streets received their names from prominent citizens and property owners. A sort of a fortification ran across Chambers street, with a gate at each end, the eastern one being at the Boston road, and known as "Tryon's Gate," from the Provincial Governor of the time. The old Tory's name still survives in Tryon row.

GOSSIP.

THE East Side Association of this City had its annual election of officers, at No. 1,475 Third avenue, last evening. It resulted as follows: President, Charles Cray; Vice-President, Thomas Rutter; Secretary, J. E. Brush; Treasurer, C. E. Quackenbush; Trustees, George W. Beale, A. Quackenbush, Jr., E. F. Browning, P. G. Hubert, Stephen Roberts, E. Kilpatrick, J. Hillenbrand, Richard Campbell. There was also a General Committee of twenty-five members elected.... The New York and Harlem Railroad City line will commence running their cars through the tunnel, thence through Forty-second street and Madison avenue to Seventy-ninth street, on the Fourth of July. The connection at Forty-second street and Fourth avenue is completed.

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS.—The market for North River hards has continued in buyers' favor during the greater portion of the period under review, and we again modify quotations to some extent on all grades. Common stock, however, shows the greatest depression, as the accumulation on hand and holding over from day to day is mostly of the lower qualities, and owners are rather anxious to force the sale as rapidly as possible. This position of affairs does not appear to arise from any undue proportion of common brick in the production, but principally from the fact that the cost is now such that buyers prefer paying a little higher figures to secure the finest quality, and this keeps the upper grades sold well up to receipt. The current demand is almost entirely for such parcels as are wanted for early use by the larger contractors, or can be resold to immediate advantage by dealers, and it is simply impossible to induce any buyer to take more goods than the wants of the hour require. For a day or two past there has been a decided falling off in the demand, as the idea is to carry a little stock as possible over the "fourth;" but the outlets are not closed, and next week trade will undoubtedly improve again. The deliveries are in the main to points in this city, and across either river, the shipping demand slackening somewhat of late, particularly from Newark; the recent free purchases by dealers at the latter place having stocked up their yards sufficiently to enable them to work along quite easily with what they can draw from the New Jersey manufacturers. The production along the Hudson continues unabated, the weather having been most favorable during a greater portion of the past month, and there is now a goodly supply available if wanted, with most manufacturers making quite regular shipments, though a few, who have plenty of spare room, are picking out choice lots and storing them for a while. We quote at $7@7.25 per M for inferior; $7.50@8 for up river, and $8.25@8.75 for Haverstraw, with very choice lots at $9, and one or two cargoes held a little higher. New Jersey hards are in small supply, but are not inquired after, and the few offerings sell about as before, say $7@7.25 per M. Pale brick are quite irregular and without much activity. One or two very fine cargoes here appear to be wanted, and these are held firmly at about $4.50 per M—50c above buyers' views; but common and inferior grades meet with no demand to speak of, and can be bought at from $4 down to $3.50 per M. Croton fronts remain very dull, the available supply is liberal, and the market has a weak, undecided tone, though, with the advantage largely in buyers' favor. We quote at $12@14 per M. Philadelphia fronts in good supply, selling slowly, and on easy terms, though the general range remains at about $30@35 per M.

CEMENT.—The general demand for Rosendale continues moderate from all quarters, and the market has a dull tone as a rule, though here and there an agent can be found reporting a fair amount of activity. In certain quarters of the city building operations are moving forward with greater rapidity than heretofore, and the consumption of cement is increased enough to induce dealers to lay in a little stock; there is also some call for manufacturing purposes, and the shipping movement keeps up fairly. Still, all buyers are operating with caution, and few invoices are taken for which there is not an almost certain use or resale. From the mills a few shipments are being made Northward. The price remains at $1.90 per bbl, and this is an extreme, particularly on the common brands, with several parcels lying unsold at the above figures. The production continues rather slow, but is found to be equal to all necessities, and some of the manufacturers who have no contracts to fill are talking of still further reducing the number of working hours. We note exports of 600 bbls to British N. A. Colonies, and 50 bbls to Cuba.

DOORS, SASH, AND BLINDS.—Some of the manufacturers are doing a little trade on small orders for special sizes, &c., but the general volume of business is light, and the market, as a whole, has a dull tone. On local account a few sales are made now and then, and estimates are called for to a limited extent, with indications that contractors really intend building, though the aggregate is so small as compared with former years as to scarcely excite attention. From near-by towns and villages buyers are to be found in the market, but the shipping movement South is much restricted, partly by the difficulty experienced in some cases in making collections, and partly from the fact that many of the Southern distributive centres are fully stocked at present. There is nothing doing for export, and no desire to secure the trade; the Eastern manufacturers being cheerfully allowed a monopoly of this branch of the business, which barely allows a margin for profit. The stocks on hand are ample and pretty thoroughly assorted, and selections easy. We learn of no general change in prices since the revision of the spring lists, but a buyer who can offer desirable terms would probably find no difficulty in obtaining many favors, particularly on a large invoice.

FOREIGN WOODS.—There appears no great amount of activity in this market, but the selling interest evidently retain the bulk of the advantage, owing to the small supplies, and extreme figures are insisted upon with much tenacity and confidence. Spanish cedar and mahogany are particularly scarce, and the desirable parcels well under control, with the former style now nearly or fully recovered from the depression current early in the spring. The prospect of any early additions to the accumulation is said to be small, importers having found little encouragement to order freely, and bringing forward only such parcels as will fill up freight room to advantage, on vessels coming from the points of growth. There is a demand for goods were they offered, principally from local dealers, many of whom have scarcely anything in yard with which to meet the wants of their customers, and even at the rates asked they would purchase suitable lots, as the general condition of affairs, present and prospective, warrants the securing of first-class stock wherever offered, in order to keep up an assortment. Advances from Europe indicate that considerable amounts have been received and are expected on direct importation, and also that the consumption is good, with a probability that judicious selections sent from here would find a fair margin. Exporters, however, are rather cautious, and though watching the market pretty closely, seldom handle goods, unless upon positive orders; freight charges in some instances interfering with shipments. From local yards there is in some instances a fair business doing, partly on country orders, which have been awaiting cheaper transportation, and partly on city account. A great many cigar-box manufacturers continue to use stained white-wood, &c., but we find some who insist upon having foreign cedar, including those who had previously been working up cheap mahogany, the supply of which is now exhausted. We note exports as follows: To Liverpool, 310 pcs lignum-vite, valued at $525; to London, 3 logs mahogany, value $300; to British N. A. Colonies, 25 pkgs mahogany, value $1,000; to Brazil, 68 logs lignum-vite, value $300. Receipts as follows: From Manatitan, 326 pcs mahogany and cedar; from Para, 210 logs cedar; from Frontera, 176 pcs and 14 log ends mahogany.

LATH.—The supply offering has at no time reached proportions of a liberal character, though the aggregate has not only been equal to, but in excess of, the current demand, and receivers found it necessary in several instances to make a little search in order to secure customers for their cargoes. Prices, under the circumstances, have shown weakness, and figures were reduced in order to sell quickly, with the regular market rates frequently quite doubtful, and quotations to a great extent nominal. A few extra fine parcels have been filed out for the fall and winter trade, but the majority of the arrivals were willingly disposed of whenever an outlet could be found. The consumptive demand, if anything, is a little more active, but this does not greatly help the market, as there is scarcely a dealer who does not now hold a little stock, and some few have a surplus. Manufacturers are working to a fair extent, and have a goodly accumulation on hand, and though, as a rule, inclined to realize at current figures, enough continue to ship to meet all the wants conswice, and prevent any great advance in values at the leading ports. The sales since our last includes 3,000,000 laths at $2.30@2.40 per M., closing mostly at $2.35, the market closing heavy.

LIME.—The demand has continued active enough to make a place for all the cargoes of Eastern coming to hand, and, indeed, some sales were made previous to arrival, prices ruling steady throughout. Very few dealers in the city hold much of an accumulation; but at the same time there is very few, if any, who are entirely out of stock, and it is a decidedly difficult matter to induce purchasers to go into yard to an extent likely to exceed early wants. The consumptive demand has improved somewhat, and some hopes are entertained that it will now continue very fair for the balance of the season; though, as compared with the past four or five years, the outlet is remarkably small. Manufacturers have started a few additional kilns, but the production is cautiously managed, and the accumulation is not likely to reach an amount in excess of the wants of trade. We quote at $1.25 per bbl for common, and $1.75 per bbl for lump. The Northern limes are in fair supply, and for the upper grade there is a good, steady demand at prices about equal to the cost of Eastern; but common moves less freely and sells a little off—in some cases at $1.10, and thence up to $1.20@1.25, according to quantity, &c., and in some cases according to brand.

LUMBER.—At the yards there has been scarcely any animation since our last, very few buyers appearing, and they merely calling for small job parcels required for some special purpose. The excessively warm weather has undoubtedly aided materially in checking the movement of goods; but, at the best, the outlet was small, and the recent slight revival of trade has amounted to nothing permanent. Dealers are accepting prices according to circumstances governing sales, but in nearly every instance a quick buyer with cash in hand finds that he may bid comparatively low and secure the stock desired. Except on certain extra sizes of joist, &c., and some of the most desirable grades of boards, the assortment appears to hold out well, and is receiving enough additions at present to make an actual scarcity almost impossible, unless the demand should suddenly improve. The call at present comes in the main from the ordinary attendance of city buyers, though a few unimportant out-of-town orders have been filled. As we close, business appears to have nearly or quite died out, as nothing can now be handled to advantage until after the national holiday.

The movement of goods in a wholesale way has been moderate, and seldom beyond the parcels arriving from day to day conswice, or a few small invoices ordered for special use from up river. Exporters will do nothing beyond such parcels as can be used to fill up unemployed freight room, and on fresh orders the shipping demand to domestic points amounts to nothing. City dealers seem as far from buying as ever, as many are well stocked with old goods, and others receive on back contract enough of the various styles to keep up assortments. Prices, however, with one or two exceptions, have not greatly varied, manufacturers and their agents showing as much, if not greater confidence than heretofore, and refusing to name any concessions on the desirable grades, and refraining from offering common stock with freedom while there is no outlet for it. The principal mills are all working, and the majority have a fair supply of logs; but it is positively asserted that in many instances orders for lumber and timber already on hand are sufficient to exhaust everything that can be turned out and that the general production will fall much below last year.

Eastern spruce at the close of our last report had rather a weak tone, and the advantage to buyers soon increased an advance in Europe. We quote at $33@36 per ton. American pig iron continues quiet for all grades and without features of general interest, prices showing considerable irregularity, and in most cases dealers call values nearly nominal. The supply offering is fair and easily available. We quote at about $32@33 per ton for No. 1; $30@31 for No. 2, and $29@30 for No. 3. Bar-iron from store is still quite dull, and former prices very difficult to realize, but still we are informed that some manufacturers are firmer in their views, with a few asking a slight advance. We quote at about $77.50 for refined, $72.50 for common, $110@112 for Swedes, ordinary sizes: $87.50@115 for scotch; $95@110 for ovals and half round; $95 for band; $95 for horse-shoe; $105@145 for hoop; $85@120 for rods (5-8 and 3-16 inch); and 7@7½ per lb for nail rod, all cash. Common sheet iron has remained quiet, and values nominally unchanged, with enough stock offering to meet all prevailing calls easily. We quote at 4½@5½c for singles, doubles, and troubles. Galvanized sheet steady and selling moderately at 10@15 per cent discount from list. Russian sheet iron is dull and heavy, though in the absence of sales we can only quote nominally at about 11½@12½ gold per lb. Pig lead continues at an almost complete stand and about former rates current, but the market shows few features of general interest. We quote at $6.20@6.45 gold for common to prime foreign. Bar, sheet, and pipe selling a little more freely and prices steady at $7.70 net cash to the trade. Pig tin has been much less active, and of late almost completely prostrate, and prices are a shade easier closing at about 35½c for English; 38c for Straits; and 39½ for Banca, all in coin. Plates are steady but quiet. Zinc dull at 9@10c from store.

NAILS.—The demand continues comparatively moderate but still in some quarters there is a fair amount of life shown, and the supplies are commencing to fall off somewhat. Exporters are rather quiet, the outlet being mainly local and coastwise. Prices as before, and holders generally steady. We quote cut at 4½c, and clinch 6c per lb. Other styles are selling at 35@36c, for copper; 22c for yellow metal, and 13c for zinc. Shipments for the week, 269 pkgs, valued at $1,423. Since January 1st, 11,710 pkgs, valued at $69,901.

PAINTS AND OILS.—The demand in the wholesale market has continued quite moderate, in fact, at times, almost completely prostrate, and few features of general interest are developed. Importers and dealers, however, scarcely look for much trade during the few days preceding the Fourth, and are hopeful of more activity during the middle and latter part of the month. The stocks are still comparatively light, and receiving few additions, which tends to give a feeling of confidence, but the late declining tendency of gold has thrown advantages in buyers favor in many instances, and values at the moment are somewhat unsettled. From jobbers' hands there has not much stock gone into consumption of late, and as we close the market is quite dull, with prices ruling nominally as before. Lined oil has been quiet all throughout, and though crushers are not forcing business, and generally pretend to some steadiness, prices are lower, closing weak and unsettled. The open offerings are moderate, but there is an ample supply available for all wants. We quote at 95@96c for casks, and 97@99c for bbls. Exports of the week of 212 pkgs paint, valued at $2,356; 547 gallons lined oil, valued at $602; and 250 bbls oxide zinc valued at $2,306.

PITCH.—Business for the past week has been very dull, buyers only operating in small lots from store, for present wants. The supply is liberal and rather tending to an accumulation. Holders still ask former prices, but with only a moderate degree of firmness and, in some cases, in order to dispose of stock immediately, would make some concession in prices. We quote at $2.35@2.37½ for city; $2.37½@2.45 for Southern; and small lots, very choice, in a jobbing way from store at $2.50@2.62½. Receipts for the week, 25 bbls; since January 1st, 1,942 bbls; same time last year, 2,005 bbls. Exports for week, none; since January 1st, 2,569 bbls; same time last year, 2,275 bbls.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The market for the past week has shown a little more activity, but business is still very quiet. The accounts relative to the crop are good, and this, together with the large receipts, have materially weakened prices, and we have to note a decided decline. The decline in freights has offered more encouragement to exporters, but as yet has made no perceptible effect on the market. As we close, prices are weak, with a further decline looked for. We quote at 37@37½c for merchantable and shipping order, and 38@39c for New York hbl, and small lots at 39@40c, and retail lots from store, 41@42c. Receipts for week, 783 bbls; since January 1st, 31,603 bbls; and for same period last year, 30,205 bbls. Exports for week, 103 bbls; since January 1st, 5,553 bbls; and for same period last year, 8,274 bbls.

TAR.—The amount of business transacted since our last has been very small, and confined to a few small lots, the demand being mainly to supply the present wants of the trade. Prices are weak, though sellers, as a rule, do not press business; but the accounts as to the crop are considered as favorable, the arrivals very fair, and the stock good. We quote at $1.75@1.85 per bbl for North County, as it runs; $2 per bbl for Wilmington, and $2.15 for rope, and occasionally $2.25 for something very choice in a small way. Receipts for the week, 16 bbls; since January 1st, 42,365 bbls; for corresponding period last year, 51,364 bbls. Exports for week, none; since January 1st, 13,371 bbls, and for corresponding period last year, 28,817 bbls.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus report for the week ending June 28th, 1870, is as follows:—

As is usual during the week preceding "the Fourth" the district has been quiet. Buyers have been few and a limited business done. Receipts by canal are fair and stocks are well assorted, save on spruce, which still continues in light supply. Prices are unchanged, with a pretty general opinion that they have touched bottom.

The receipts of lumber at Chicago for the week ending June 18, were 31,500,000 feet, against 33,100,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1869. The shipments for the week were 15,500,000 feet against 18,400,100 feet for the corresponding week in 1869. The aggregate receipts since January 1st, are 255,152,000 feet, against 276,137,000 feet in 1869. The aggregate shipments since January 1st, 226,945,000 feet, against 234,250,100 feet in 1869.

The following figures give the reported receipts at Buffalo and Oswego for the week ending June 27th, 1870 and 1869:

	1870.	1869.
Buffalo.....	10,732,800 feet.	7,620,400 feet.
Oswego.....	12,350,400 "	12,667,100 "
Total.....	23,083,200 "	20,287,500 "

The fourth canal week not closing until Friday, we have no further receipts of lumber to publish. They have, however, been quite free.

The receipts of lumber for the third week in June were 27,820,300 feet, the largest of any week this season, against 21,794,000 feet for the corresponding week in 1869. The aggregate receipts at Albany to 23d inst. are 101,876,900 feet, against 93,780,600 feet to the same day in 1869, showing an increase of 8,000,000 feet in the receipts of 1870. At Chicago the receipts, so far this season, are 22,000,000 feet less than in 1869.
