ANNEXATION AND RAPID TRANSIT.

THE annexation of Westchester county to the city of New York seems to involve also the question of rapid transit. It is said by those favoring annexation that it is worse than folly for the city of New York to lend her capital or advantages to any scheme which contemplates the removal of any of her citizens beyond her own boundaries. It is claimed that, should a steam road be built, by which a person could travel from the city to Harlem river in twenty minutes, thousands upon thousands would not stop at Harlem river, but would quickly escape into the regions of Westchester, and thus, while earning their living in New York, would contribute their taxes and the beautifying of their homes to the adjoining county. One thing is certain, that the New York of the future, with its three million of inhabitants, must possess a larger area than her present boundaries indicate.

In this connection we have the following from Albany, taken from a morning paper:

The question of rapid transit between New York and Westchester promises to assume a tangible shape. After full and free consultation with members of both houses Senator Genet has prepared a bill to harmonize the conflicting opinions, which will, he thinks, meet with general approval. Its principal feature is that it provides for the cutting through the block bounded by Broadway and Fourth avenue—a space of 100 feet or more—for a grand railroad avenue, to run in as direct a line as possible from Chambers street to the Harlem river, and thence into some central point in Westchester county, and to lay upon the surface six or more tracks for the transfer of way passengers by horse power. Over this surface road, which will not interfere with the passage of pedestrians or officials from side streets across, will be a sub or elevated avenue of the same width, and sufficient tracks to run as many fast steam trains from one end of the island to another as may be required. The bill will also drive from the city all the present steam roads and establish a central depot for them at the terminus of this avenue in Westchester. At this depot the steam roads must have their terminus and run their passengers and freight down to the city on this elevated avenue. It will also provide for the bonding of the counties of New York and Westchester to raise money to complete the work.

GOSSIP.

WE learn that the Board of Public Parks have had laid before them a proposition to establish a Hall of Relics in the Central Park. The design is to collect and preserve specimens of all such histories, records, maps, manuscripts, papers, pictures, arms, accoutrements, costumes, utensils, furniture and other relics marking the rise and progress of the city of New York as shall serve to illustrate its history and perpetuate the memories of its earliest days. This is a very good, indeed, a grand idea. We have a Historical Society, it is true; but we see in the measure proposed something that the present generation has long needednamely, a museum, affording a familiar household and general history of the early days of the metropolis of the nation. The Board of Public Parks will be doing a public good by giving the matter an early and earnest consideration . . . A committee appointed by citizens of Morrisania to visit Albany, with a view of urging upon the Legislature the passage of a bill for the annexation of the town of Morrisania to the city and county of New York, met a similar committee appointed by citizens of West Farms, at Tremont, on Tuesday evening, for the purpose of conferring with the latter in regard to carrying out their object in the most effective manner. Some slight modifications of the bill now before the Legislature were suggested and agreed upon, to present for the consideration of the gentlemen having charge of the bill at Albany. The joint committee of Morrisania and West Farms will proceed to Albany on Monday, with numerous signed petitions in favor of the annexation scheme....The Chicago Real Estate and Building Journal says :- There is nothing particularly flattering in the condition of the real estate market to-day. Holders do not seem to be anxious to act, while buyers are not ready to crowd business. Every one seems to be waiting for something, which is, probably, suitable weather, and the further advance of the season. It is too early for those who contemplate building to do anything yet, even if they had made their selection of sites. Until the middle or latter part of February these persons will not urge matters, and speculators will abide the action of the class referred

MARKET REVIEW.

BRICKS .- In a wholesale way there has scarcely been what might be called a regular market for North River Hards. Only a few cargoes came to hand, and these were mostly engaged ahead, so in reality there was no fresh supplies, and an absence of a basis for quotations. A demand exists, however, and there is no doubt that a reasonable number of cargoes could be disposed of without much difficulty, either to dealers or bullders, particularly if the quality was fine, as most of the best lots previously accumulated are commencing to disappear. We quote as a nominal cargo-rate at $9 per M. From yard the distribution has not been quite so liberal, owing to the unfavorable condition of the weather during the greater portion of the week, but dealers consider business as merely delayed somewhat, not entirely lost, and retain their stocks with a confident feel. ing in the future. New Jersey Hards have arrived in a slow uncertain manner, the ice in the river preventing shipments; but the lots coming to hand were all sold and commanded, when at all desirable, at about $8 per M. From Long Island, receipts have continued to a fair extent, and afforded considerable relief to many buyers who were much pressed for supplies, and it is intimated that steady arrivals from this quarter may be looked for as long as the market remains firm. The prices obtained, however, seldom exceed about $8.50 per M, as the quality does not prove first-class. Pale Brick continue very firm at $6 per M for anything at all good, and sell whenever offered, though the supply is far from abundant. Croton Fronts are seldom inquired after, and have a most decidedly dull tone throughout, with much irregularity on values. Really choice stock can occasionally be squeezed up at $15 per M on small lots, but the bulk of the supply is poor and undesirable, and when a sale is effected it must be at much lower figures. Dealers, as a rule, do not appear very anxious to sell Crotons, as the margin for profit is now very small, and buyers are generally persuaded to take Philadelphias in preference, in view of the light additional cost in building, and the increased value of property when completed. Another point against Crotons is the fact that so many stone fronts are being put up that when brick is used it must be of the best quality, to admit of any competition. Philadelphia Fronts are in very fair request, the supply falling off, and prices firm at $35@38 per M from yard. tone throughout, with much irregularity on values. Really DORS, SASHAND BLINDS.—There appears to be very little of interest in this market at present, the demand from all quarters running moderate, and the general position showing a dull tone. It is as yet too early for the regular Southern demand to set in, and most sales in that direction are made on mail orders for a few special styles, etc., wanted by dealers to keep up assortments; and the local consumption has subsided for the time being, though a few manufacturers are still at work on back contracts. Quite a number of buildings are projected for the spring, and estimates for the sash and door work are already called for, though nothing important is closed as yet. The stocks now on hand are very good, fairly assorted, and the amount is rather increasing, but there is not likely to be an excess.

Values nominally as before, but price lists are under revision, and it is probable that some slight modifications will be

HAIR.—The market for plasterers' hair has for some time past ruled quite dull, but business now begins to improve somewhat, and prices are stiffening. On cattle hair there is no change except an increased firmness, but goat may be quoted higher, the asking rate in a wholesale way standing at 35c per bushel. This is owing in part to a scarcity of the grade advanced, though goat hair has for a long time been selling relatively lower than cattle. The current call includes a few Southern shipping orders, but is in the main from local dealers securing supplies against an anticipated increase of the distributive call. Holders generally are firm at ruling rates, and the different dealers are in accord, so that none of the cut-throat competition of last year may be looked for, but it is hardly possible that any combination will be formed to force up values, as this would let in foreign stock now ruled out for want of profitable margin.

LATH.—The market, in a general way, shows no important variation. The supplies coming to hand are not large, but still prove ample for the comparatively moderate demand, and though sellers succeed in realizing about fordemand, and though sellers succeed in realizing about former figures, they acknowledge to some difficulty in so doing, and call the market, for the time being, just about steady, and that is all. We find, however, a hopeful feeling as to the future, and a good many predictions are made than along in March and April an improved condition of affairs may be calculated upon. The stock in the hands of feelers, though as yet very fair, is gradually becoming reduced, and the state of building operations leads to the belief that about the time mentioned above the consumption of lath will increase sufficiently to cause a sharp demand for cargoes, and with holders at the point of production, advised of this position, the amounts now allowed to come forward are small. Most of the Maine depots are shut off by the ice, and the arrivals at present are largely from the Provinces. Sales of 300,000 at $3 per M, closing burely steady. Retailers are selling fair amounts, but gain only a small increase over the ruling wholesale rates.

LIME.—There is scarcely anything coming to hand coastwise, and only a few cargoes due unfold, and the market has a generally dull nominal tone, though for want of better, former quotations are still retained. The majority of dealers in the city now have a fair supply, but nothing liberal by any means, and with enough distribution to gradually work down the accumulation, receivers are hopeful that the next change in values will be upward. We are informed that the sieds at the kilns contain no stock to speak of, that the production has entirely ceased for the present, and that manufacturers express a determination not to resume work until fully assured that a better outlet will be offered for their goods. On the Northern Lime there is not much of interest to advise, the small stock in first hands being offered with moderation, and holders looking for full market rates generally. We quote at $1.20 per bbl for common; and $1.65 for lump. Among the dealers the reports are that business is dull, and only retail lots taken, though the aggregate movement from day to day takes out a fair amount of stock, and accumulations are gradually contracting. Prices are hardly quotable, as they vary according to quantity of purchases, &c.

LUMBER.—Business still lacks snap and vim, and though there is a little movement at various yards throughout the city, the increasing demand looked for as the month advanced continues to be more in the hope than in the realization. Manufacturers, to be sure, are working more freely, and a certain number of builders want stock, but their purchases are made on the usual close calculation to the positive wants of the hour, and do not amount to enough in the aggregate to greatly reduce the supplies piled up. With the exception of Sprace, it would be difficult to mention any wood that is really scarce, though some of the trade look for picking out before spring of most of the really desirable lots of Pine, and all the fine qualities are held with a show of firmness. We still refrain from making any important variation in our quotations, it being difficult to give very close figures in view of variations consequent upon the standing of buyers, terms of payment, &c., &c. Some of our dealers have gone into the interior to take a look around for next season's supplies, and will probably make purchases notwithstanding the disgust of the Albany lumbermen, who complain that last year their trade was much curtailed by shipments direct from the mills to customers here and other points via railroad and canal.

The wholesale market is nominally firm, as pretty much everything offered has gone off at full former rates, but in reality there is no regular market at present, in view of the exceedingly small amounts available, and it is not improbable that a very slight increase of the offering would materially alter the condition of affairs. The buyers on hand are nearly all representatives of local firms, and prime quality is special item in every call. The export demand continues very moderate, with few signs of an improvement at present, the South American advices offering would materially alter the condition of affairs. The buyers on hand are nearly all representatives of local firms, and prime entertained of an over-productio LUMBER.—Business still lacks snap and vim, and though there is a little movement at various vards through-gain no point upon which to establish an advance. We quote at $18@20 per M.for inferior to fair shipping callz; $21@23 for good stock; $24@25 for prime to choice shipping qualities: and $256@20 for selections. Yellow Pine is still in very good demand in the way of special lengths, etc., and pretty steady in price. Dealers have fair amounts available, and with a somewhat dull export trade at the South, the mills are in a condition to execute orders with some despatch. We quote at $29 per M for fair; $30@31 do for good; and $32 do for choice. There is no fresh offerings of piling, and the stock in claims selfs slowly at 5½@4½c, very choice 7c. per foot. Shingles in demand and steady, but remain quiet for want of stock.

Hard Pine Lumber.

We republish the following from one of our city journals, as it is a matter of much interest to all engaged in the lumber

"The rapid and in many instances wanton destruction of trade.

"The rapid and in many instances wanton destruction of our forest trees throughout the whole country is commencing to excite attention among those best calculated to appreciate and understand the value of this source of national wealth, and not only have warning notes appeared in many of the newspapers published in the lumber regions, but we find words of cuttion coming from the General Land Office, and even the Liberal Club of this city have discussed the subject with a view to bringing it into more general notice. The Maine forests, once the principal source of supply, are already denuded of pine, and for a year or two past the spruce has been gradually deteriorating in quality, with indications that this and hemlock will soon begin to give out entirely. Most of the standing timber now left is upon the small streams, and, as with the disappearance of the trees the volume of rains decreases, it is difficult to find water enough to run the logs after they are cut. In some sections timber has been laying for two or three seasons where it was originally banked or possibly "hung up" after a short run, simply for want of an old fashioned freshet orbing it where it could be worked into merchantable condition, and during the drought and fires of last summer millions of feet were totally lost. Having cut off the best portion of the stock, lumbermen begin to look for other points where they can profitably continue operations, and though a great many go to Canada and our Western States, there has been quite a large number who have turned their attention to the Southern forests, and the axe of the woodman is already making serious inroads into the growth of yellow pine, with a prospect that more and more must be cut each year, as the consumption is rapidly increasing, and this may soon become the principal source of supply on the Atlantic scaboard. Something like fourteen or fifteen years ago the work of destruction commenced in the Western forests, and has since been rapidly increasing, until it now assumes proportions simply stupendous, and this winter preparations for cutting have been on a more liboral scale than ever. Since January 1, 1857, to date, the receipts at Chicago in round numbers reach an aggregate of 7,950,000,000 feet of lumber, to say nothing of proportionate amounts of laths, shingles, staves, etc., and though the Western pineries are sometimes needlessly called inexhaustible, at the above rate the present generation will witness the disappearance of every pine tree fit to cut. In fact, it is estimated that the one hundred million acres of timber left, will be ent over in the space of forty or fifty years unless the devastation is checked. This probably would be almost an impossibility, but cannot some means be devised to provide a remedy? It has been suggested that wood-preserving process be introduced wherever possible, especially in ship-building, etc., in order to prevent the decay of timbers, and thus reduce the consumption of wood. A very good idea so far as it goes, but hardly likely to amount to much in view of the proposed offsetting of the immense amount of lumber used yearly. One of the most practical plans yet made known is to replace the trees as fast as they are cut. An enterprising individual in Nebraska has recently planted 160 acres with walnuts, and calculates that each acre will have 650 trees which in 20 years will be worth at least $200,000. He also proposes to try the pine, though this wood requires a rather longer period to reach marketable proportions. Let every farmer throughout the country

At Charleston business generally is dull, and values unchanged. We quote timber for milling purposes from $5 67 per M; shipping timber at $$@14; 4.4 and 5.4 flooring at $11@12 per M; bright lumber, good merchantable, from city mills cut to size, from $15@22.

The shipments of Lumber since September 1, 1869, have been $21,073 feet to foreign ports; 199,228 to Boston, 345,-183 to Bhode Island; 1,389,739 to New York: 690,000 to Philadelphia: 422,491 to Baltimore and Norfolk; 265,500 to other ports.

METALS.—The demand for Manufactured Copper, though not active, has continued steady and fair, as the wants of the trade have increased slightly, and holders are enabled to obtain very full prices, but have not attempted to demand more, as the stock is full and fairly assorted, but cannot be called large. We still quote 30% 22c for new sheathing; 22@32c for yellow metals, and 19@20c for old sheathing cleaned. Ingot continues to sell slowly, to meet the actual wants of consumers who persistently refuse to accede to the demands of holders, but pick up lots held by parties outside of the regular holders, who in turn are very firm and will not grant any concessions even if a large lot would be taken. We quote 22@22%c. American Pig Iron rules quiet, and the transactions are only of a jobbing character, but full prices are current. We quote $20 per ton for No. 1; $23@20 for No. 2; and $27@28 for forge. But Iron sells slowly, and former prices rule nominally steady. We quote from store at about $75@30 for refined; $70@72.50 for common; $110 for Swedes, ordinary sizes; $97.50@$125 for serol!; $97.50 @$125 for ovals and half-round; $92.50@55 for land; $95 for horse-shoe; $102.50@140 for hoop; $$2.50@55 for rods (5-S and 3-16 incl.); and 6%@6%c per lb for nail rod, all cash. Common Sheet shows no important variation in prices since the date of our last, but the supply is full, and no difficulty is experienced by dealers in supplying their wants at former prices. We quote at 4%@6for singles, doubles, and trebles. Galvanlzed Sheet remains as before quoted, but is not very active. We quote at 106 for 14@20: 11c for 22@24; and 12c for 22@25; and 13@14c for 27@29, all net cash. Russia ßheet is in fair trade demand and steady, but enough stock offering for all demands. We quote at 10½@11c gold, according to number. Pig Lead is more active, and full sales have been made, but the tendency of prices is to favor the buyer. We quote in gold 6½@6¼. Manufactured is unchanged, and meets with a fair trade. We quote 32.6 for Bar, and 10½ c for Sheet and Pipe, less 10 per cent. to the regular trade Pig Tin is quiet, but the stock well concentrated, under complete control, and prices s cline to quote.

NAILS—The demand does not greatly improve, and the market generally shows a dull tone. A few buyers are on hand, but they are operating slowly and cautiously, and evidently do not intend to greatly exceed positive wants for the present. The supplies on hand are small, but rather on the increase, and though prices are without positive variation, the tone cannot be called better than steady. We quote cut at 4½@4½c for 4d. and 6d. Clinch 5½@6c. Other styles are selling as follows: Copper, 3% per Ib; yellow metal, 22e do; zinc, 16c do. The exports for the week are 185 pckgs, valued at $1,011; and since January 1st, 1,052 pckgs, valued at $4,964.

PAINTS AND OILS.—There is not much if any improvement in the general demand as yet, and some disappointment is to be heard expressed in consequence, but as a rule, the trade are not by any means discouraged, and are positive that a few weeks will find business quick on all grades. Fair arrivals and the slow movement prevent any great breaking up of assortuzents, and selections can still be made with comparative ease, but there is no great excess of stock on any of the leading grades, and holders are not by any means inclined to force business, and thereby bring about a break in values. From exporters the call does not amount to much at the moment, and the outlet is mainly to the extent of the wants of the home trade. Jobbers are distributing a little, mostly on mail orders, but in many instances report that they have advices indicating that customers are preparing to come in town to make up their spring purchases. Linseed Oil has net with a very jobbing demand, and a slightly increased call from the West, but holders continued to meet the outlet without much hesitation, and prices ruled easy, closing without much strength, though further conceptions are refused.

PITCH.—There is nothing coming forward, and as the dearund is small, prices are hardly more than nominal; dealers carry enough stock to suppy their trade, but if there should be an active demand, which there is not likely to be, more stock than we have at present would be wanted. We quote at $2.25@2.27½ for city; $2.27½@2.42½ for Southern, and small lots very choice in a jobbing way from store, at $2.52½@2.48½$. Receipts for the week, none; since January 1st, 50 bbls; sume time hast year, 326. Exports for week, none; since January 1st, $60 bbls; same time last year, 265 bbls.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The market has been steady since our last, but not active, as buyers do not take very freely this season of the year. The firmer feeling is caused by moderate receipts and higher prices in the producing regions, but no large business has been done. We quote at 48½@.48e for merchantable and shipping order, and 49½@.50e for N. Y. bbl, small lots at 50½@51e, and retail lots from store 51@52e. Receipts for the week, 404 bbls: since January 1st, 3,773 bbls; and for the same period last year, 4,131 bbls. Exports for the week, 126 bbls; since January 1st, 754 bbls; and for the same period last year, 2,593.

TAR.—Trade in this article may be called moderately active, and a fair amount of sales have been reported, mostly for export: the home trade taking very moderate amounts at full and firm prices, as the amount coming forward and offering for sale is very moderate, but plenty to meet all demands at current rates. We quote at $2.35@2.47 per bbl for North County, as it runs; $2.45@2.474 per bbl for Wilmington, and $2.50@2.75 for rope, and occasionally $2.75@3 for something very choice in a small way. Receipts for the week 43 bbls; since January 1st, $256 bbls; for corresponding period last year, 2,835 bbls. Exports for week, 116 bbls; since January 1st, 473 bbls; and for corresponding period last year, 2,845 bbls.
