PERSONAL HABITS OF BROKERS.

That was an ill-tempered and unmerited aspersion which Mr. Choate cast upon brokers in his address to the Columbia law students, when he told them if they did not mean to be honest in the profession they had chosen, they had better turn brokers at once. We may assume that Mr. Choate had in his mind the class of brokers with which his profession is brought most in contact, the real estate brokers; and that he did not intend to use the term generically. Whether brokers in general or real estate brokers particularly were thus reproached we consider the reflection equally undignified and uncalled for. The hindrances and hardships of a broker's career are formidable enough without having his profession stigmatized and branded thus publicly and by an eminent citizen with the label of dishonesty, while the efficiency and dignity of his calling are sufficiently attested by the liberal and constant employment of his services by the public. From an extensive acquaintance with both the professions of law and brokerage, we feel justified in declaring that the ratio of honesty to dishonesty is quite as large in the latter as in the former. We have no hesitation in flinging back this foul aspersion in the face of Mr. Choate or any other practitioner who seeks to laud and elevate the purity of his own profession by reviling another equally honorable and respectable. All fair minded men will promptly condemn the method of odious comparisons which Mr. Choate employs in his effort to instil into the minds of fledgeling barristers a true conception of their office and a decent regard for common morality. He had no occasion to wander beyond the limits of the legal fraternity, or, indeed, beyond the circle of his own acquaintance in the profession, either for models of legal virtue or for examples of flagrant departure from the code of professional ethics and of the depth of turpitude to which learned and honored men may fall. How pungent and caustic might have been his denunciation of professional dishonesty if he had presented with his matchless oratory, for the execration of his young hearers, the bad examples of recent and notorious legal apostacies. He might have pointed with just indignation and honest scorn to the examples of Barrett, the forger, the would-be reformer of the Episcopal Church, whose membership he disgraced, who invited the trust of widows, orphans and other dependent persons only to betray it most shamefully; or to the example of Nicol, the defaulter—the founder of the Bar Association, the exemplar of the dignity, probity and learning of the bar—who was accustomed in his day to address students very much as Mr. Choate addressed them, reminding them that in discharging the duties of trustees, as they might be called upon to do, they should be careful to keep all trust monies in separate bank accounts and on no pretext to merge them with their own personal funds. Yet at the very moment, and doubtless for years previously, this man had been merging the funds of clients and wards in a most inextricable and promiscuous confusion in his own bank account, where all evidences of title and ownership were hopelessly obliterated.

The brokerage profession is accustomed, like the legal profession, to be honored with important and confidential trusts, such as the management of estates, investment of funds, and collection of income. The very nature of the business requires the broker to become the depository of the mutual confidence of the parties to a negotiation. We are not foolish enough to set up any claim of immaculateness for this profession, but we do feel called upon to claim for it a relative purity quite as conspicuous and determinable as any which may be claimed for the legal profession. The legal practitioner is practically irresponsible, his acts being reviewable only by his own fraternity, who are too apt to look indulgently upon and deal leniently with the faults and lapses of fellow practitioners. Suffering beneficiaries, clients and wards have told their tales of misplaced confidence and plundering abuse. Brokers are amenable to the courts where they find short shrift and small mercy since chicanery on their part becomes a crime in the eyes of the law and punishable as such. We have yet to hear of any noteworthy default or breach of trust by brokers. Their faults are apt to be venial, arising out of misconstruction or difference of opinion.

We desire to see the elevation and purification of both professions of law and of brokerage, which are so closely allied and whose functions in the domain of real estate transactions are and have been so inseparable. At times we have not hesitated to criticize both and to point out what we believe to be remediable defects. We have good reason to believe that our homilies and expostulations have been attended with good effect. Indeed, portions of them might have served as the text of some of Mr. Choate's remarks. Many vices and reproaches usually charged upon brokers have their inception in the practice of lawyers who are only too ready to use brokers as decoys and go-betweens in making extortionate exactions. The legal profession naturally exerts a potent and controlling influence upon the brokerage profession, and, if the spirit of reform should take possession of the former, it would be sure to produce a wholesome reactionary effect upon the latter.

In this connection we desire to present for the consideration of our broker patrons a few remarks which naturally grow out of the foregoing observations. The best and only retort that can properly be made to any such unfair derogation as that just referred to, is for the brokers themselves to live down the aspersion by their acts. We are now addressing ourselves to those brokers who hold the honor and reputation of the profession dear to them, and who recognise in their dealings the established code of business morality. No refutation of ours can so completely silence the reproach sought to be cast upon brokers, as will the determination on the part of the leading members of the profession to allow in themselves and to tolerate in others no sign or suspicion of dishonesty. Regard for truth must dominate all their dealings, whether in verbal statements or in the substance of their written contracts. A broker whose reputation for mendacity is once established may lead a precarious existence for a while, but he is sure to be avoided by dealers as soon as his character is once developed. The very breadth of the field which real estate negotiation presents for false, misleading or exaggerated statements compels dealers to place the highest value upon the virtues of honest dealing and plain truth telling. The reputation most to be coveted by brokers is that of being square dealing men.

As in certain creeds cleanliness is esteemed to be next to godliness, so in framing the ethical code of brokers we would venture to suggest a further personal consideration. It is the misfortune of many, of perhaps a majority of the brokerage profession, to be poor and to be compelled to struggle hard for a simple existence. Yet, a due regard for their customers and respect for themselves require them to present a proper personal appearance. In pursuing their business, they are called upon to conduct negotiations between gentlemen occupying the highest social and commercial positions, to enter and pass much time in punctilious law offices and sumptuous counting and banking rooms. Sometimes their duties throw them in the society of ladies. Right or wrong, it is the American habit to estimate a man by the appearance which he presents. A broker has no right to create a prejudice against himself by an untidy exterior. Without advocating habits of foppery, we assert that the occupation of a broker makes him dependent in a measure for success upon the assistance of his tailor. Whatever standard or degree of artistic decoration he may adopt, in no case except of necessity should his order of apparel be allowed to fall below mediocrity or into an unkempt and slovenly state. Above all other men, the broker should present the appearance and manners of a gentleman. It will be decidedly to his advantage if he can lay a just claim to familiarity with the customs of polite society.

Furthermore, we must deprecate the habit which prevails among brokers of indulging in the inordinate use of tobacco during business hours. It is no assistance to their clients in considering the merits of a negotiation to have successive puffs of tobacco smoke blown in their faces or to have the fragrance of tobacco laden breath wafted under their olfactory organs. If brokers are wedded to the narcotic weed, they should try to limit their gratification of this taste to other than business hours, or to such opportunities of leisure as the business may present. While we will freely avow our adhesion to the Astor code of temperance, to wit: indulgence in light wines, and our detestation of commonplace moralizing on temperance, we still feel called upon and warranted in saying that stimulants, particularly spirituous stimulants, are not the proper basis for successful real estate negotiation.

It is rumored that some brokers are in the habit of plying their victims with copious doses of alcoholic stimulants as preparatory to a prospective negotiation; and it is known that some few brokers habitually indulge in alcoholic potations. To average mortals the fumes of incipient inebriety are more offensive than those of tobacco. We can imagine no surer disqualification for success than for a broker to become addicted to habitual tippling. It not only renders the person signally offensive, but is apt to muddle the intellect, to confuse speech, besides arousing an irresistible instinct of suspicion and doubt on the part of clients.

The severest demands of the brokerage profession are made upon the personal habits of the broker; and the highest measure of success that has ever been attained in this calling may be looked for among the men whose characters are untainted with any of the vices which we have enumerated.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD:

DEAR SIR: In your issue of the 18th inst. you say, editorially,—

"It would promote the interest of real estate generally, and be favorable alike to landlord and tenant, if arrangements could be made by which leases should expire at different seasons of the year, according to the taste and convenience of the parties."

Now, sir, whether the accepted "moving day" be the first of May, or the first or any other day of any other month, I submit that a departure from the present plan of holding a regular "season" for the renting of property would result in great inconvenience and perplexity to the tenants, and much greater and more frequent loss to the landlord than they are even now called on to suffer. Once a year regularly and simultaneously property remaining unrented for the ensuing year is placed on the market, the rents fixed upon a practically uniform scale, and tenants invited. The landlord is met at once by a demand—not from one applicant, but from many, and the rule is that his property is rented at current rates. On the other hand, when the tenant appears in the market for a house or store he is not obliged to choose from among the limited number that might happen to be to let under your proposed system, but has hundreds, perhaps thousands, from which to select, and the chances are altogether in favor of his securing premises exactly suited to his wants, both as to accommodation and price. I do not doubt that the tenant class would be the most strenuous opponents of your proposed method.

The trouble of moving is not worth mentioning. It would be just as troublesome to each individual, no matter what day he moved.

You say further:

"This practice obtains largely in the matter of renting wholesale stores, where we believe leases are made to expire in every month in the year, according to the circumstances and wishes of the parties."

THE REAL ESTATE RECORD should be a record of facts, and this statement is emphatically contrary to all the facts, in that it conveys the impression that leases of wholesale stores in this city are constantly falling in on the first of every recurring month. Let me invite you to a canvass of the region known to Insurance men as the "Dry Goods Block." The tenants here found that to move on May 1st was not convenient. Did each then aim to have his lease expire at the most convenient date for him, regardless of other considerations? Not at all. At their solicitation the renting season was advanced three months, and the great bulk of the best property in that district is now placed in the market November 1st, the leases expiring on February 1st, and the moving being done on that date. You will not have to go far from your offices to find that there are very few stores in that district rented from any other date. In fact, below Canal street we may say there are a few leases expiring on January 1st. Almost all the best property in the dry goods district is rented from February 1st, and the remaining property of all kinds from May 1st. The exceptions to the above are so few as only to prove the rule.

In all our statements we aim to avoid fiction and confine ourselves to authentic facts. We happen to know that leases are made in the dry goods district to conform to the exigencies of co-partnership agreements, the lease year coinciding with the fiscal year of given firms. We know also that leases of wholesale stores, in numbers sufficient to establish a rule, do expire in every month of the year excepting perhaps the summer months, the exception according with "the circumstances and wishes of the parties."

The task of moving might be shorn of its terrors if optionally distributed throughout the year, but when concentrated and limited to a single day it becomes a formidable evil.

The owners of apartment houses, like the pew committees in fashionable churches, have found an advantage in establishing lease years different from the conventional one. A business uniformly distributed throughout the year would carry with it mutual benefits to lessor and lessee which are signally defeated in the periodical termination of leases on a single day of the year.—Editor.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The transactions during the week were of very ordinary character, judicial sales engrossing the principal share of attention. No public sales of any interest have been held since our last report, and no reports of private sales have been received.

Notwithstanding the apparent dulness in the real estate market, there are manifestations of great activity in the Department of Buildings. The estimated cost of new buildings, plans for which were filed during the past week, is $467,675. There will be erected on Seventy-ninth street, between Madison and Fourth avenues, five brown stone houses; on Seventy-seventh street, between Madison and Fifth avenues, Mr. S. L. Bradley, purposes building three four-story brown stone front houses at an estimated cost of $36,000. On Willis avenue, One Hundred and Thirty-eighth and One Hundred and Thirty-ninth streets, Wm. O'Gorman intends to erect twenty-eight three-story brown stone houses which, it is estimated, will cost $174,000. At No. 8 East Sixty-eighth street a four-story brown stone house will also be erected, the estimated cost of which is $30,000. We congratulate builders and others on these hopeful signs, and on the prospects of a fuller development of building in many quarters of the city.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICK.—For Common Hards pretty much the old line of quotations remains current, and the tone about steady throughout, but without any special inclination to buoyancy. Demand, probably, has not exceeded the call of last week, but the supply of desirable stock was not over large, and this gave receivers sufficient advantage to enable them to resist any positive reduction on value. A considerable amount of work is progressing favorably, and the promises for a further increase are considered very good, but buyers are careful, and can seldom be found willing to anticipate their wants. There seems to be some trouble over the labor question, and while no serious rupture is advised up to the present writing, there is an evident fear that the workmen mean mischief during the present summer. The offering of new-made brick has been more plenty, indeed, pretty much all that was really fine came under this head, only a few yards now having old stock of merchantable character left to offer. There has been a great deal of washed stock rubbish, etc., sent in to clean up, with the sales naturally at low and irregular rates. On supplies in good condition we retain about former rates. Pale Bricks still in large supply, the demand moderate, and prices weak generally. Possibly $2.50 might be obtained for very choice, but $2.25 is nearer the average top rate, and a large number of sales are making at $2.00 per M. Fronts meet with a demand quite in proportion to the movement on the more common grades, and are ruling steady on price. Even the very choice styles have fair attention, and we learn of considerable deliveries of Baltimore this week on previous contract, with further demand current. Export orders are not very plenty, but reduced freight rates have induced some further movement, and we hear of several charters this week from Sayerville, and one or two from Haverstraw for St. John, N. B., mostly on private terms.

We quote Pale, 1/2 M., $2.00@$2.25; Hards, Up-rivers, $1.25@$1.75; Haverstraw bay, $5.25@$5.50; favorite brands, $5.75@$6.00; Fronts, Croton-brown, $7; dark $8; red, $9; Philadelphia, $2.25@$2.75; Trenton, $2.10@$2.90; Baltimore, $3.00@$3.80. Yard prices, delivery included, $2.25 higher on ordinary and $5.00@$6.00 on fronts.

CEMENT.—Business fluctuates somewhat, but a few dealers report some slight increase in their local and nearby orders for domestic, and manufacturers are doing a fair shipping trade to most of the regular dependent points. Demand, however, is not sharp, or anxious, and not many buyers are taking more than early wants require, while the amount available equals all the necessities of the market, and a larger offering would be found if called for. Prices are unsettled, and while the general quoting rate at this point remains at 9¢/c., sales have been made as low as 8¢/c. per bbl. On foreign there is more or less trade doing, and from the recent arrivals some pretty free sales have been made, but the receipts have been free, nearly 5,000 bbls. this week, and with importers inclined to offer readily, prices on Portland are easier. Sales were made from pier, as low as $2.90, and in jobbing lots from store $3.25 is rarely exceeded. The finer grades of foreign are slow and uncertain.

HARDWARE.—The distribution of supplies continues moderate, and without new features worthy of extended notice. Buyers generally adhere to the practice of taking only enough for immediate wants, and prefer duplicating their orders two or three times over rather than run the risk of carrying a surplus. The amount available and the assortment is kept well up to current wants, and selections can at all times be made without difficulty. Values do not vary to any great extent at present, but a few new rates have recently been decided upon, among which is a revised list on tacks, brads, etc., issued under a uniform discount of 50 per cent., pretty much all manufacturers agreeing to this rate. The American Screw Company have made a reduction to 8¢ per gross on common sizes of knob and cap screws in lots of 100 gross or over. The export demand for American hardware keeps up to pretty full proportions, and is taking out a great many tools and assortments of builders supplies. As we close we learn that the American Screw Co. have published the following discounts on their new patent wood screws: Flat Head, Iron, 55 per cent.; Flat Head, Brass, 50 per cent.; Round Head, Iron, 45 per cent.; Round Head, Brass, 35 per cent. They also quote Iron Cap and Side Knob Screws 8 cents per gross, net, and Brass Side Knob Screws 35 cents per gross, net.

LATH.—There appears to have been no positive wholesale market during the period intervening since our last report, owing to the absence of supplies. Up to the present writing we can learn of no cargoes coming to hand, and the test of actual sales has in consequence been lacking. Receivers, however, tell us they have had application for a fair amount of stock, and incline to the belief that they can again obtain $1.55 per M., though of course, under existing circumstances quotations are entirely nominal.

LIME.—Matters remain just about the same on the general market. The supply of Eastern is not very full as manufacturers keep shipments down, but there is enough offered for the outlet, and former rates are still quoted on both kinds. State meets with a proportional demand, and the finishing grade, it is said, continues to be sold close up to the amount within reach, with full former rates ruling.

LUMBER.—Matters move along in much the same form on the general lumber market, with possibly a somewhat better tone gaining ground. The local demand has not increased "on account of the large number of building permits issued," as stated by one of our city journals, claiming to be a commercial newspaper, but the issue of the permits affords good grounds for hope that city consumption will improve, and that as contractors gradually settle upon their plans, they may be expected in the market on the look out for supplies. Manufacturing wants, also, appear more promising, and altogether encouraging features are thought to be shown on the outlook for Summer trade. It is, however, very evident that no class of buyers intend to hurry themselves, or to close contracts until they are sure that they have obtained the very best terms possible, and that in many cases any important addition to cost will effectively kill demand. There is also a probability that many would be buyers will not progress rapidly toward ownership of the supplies they may desire, in view of the close settlements dealers have very generally determined upon. The export movement is very good, mainly toward the West Indies, at present, the most important orders for South America having been filled. In small lots there continues to be considerable taken for Europe, mostly as ceiling for grain vessels, the selection of a general character, though hardly including so large a proportion of hemlock as intimated by one of the recent reports from Albany.

Eastern spruce, as it comes to hand, finds a place, a portion of the arrivals being on contract, and the randoms selling here and there wherever buyers can be hunted up, good full lengths commanding a fair rate, say about $12.50@$13.00, but short and undesirable having an irregular tone with sales as low as $11.50. The feeling this week, however, appears to be somewhat firmer, and advices from the Eastward are said to be very stiff. We quote at $12.00@$13.00 for random, possibly $13.20 for choice lengths in small cargo, and $13.00@$14.00 for specials, the extreme for extra difficult.

White pine appears to be held with a fair amount of confidence, and on all desirable parcels about former full rates are asked, but more especially on good lots of shipping stuff. The demand about as last week on West India account, quite a number of parcels being called for, but business with South American ports at the moment is rather limited. We quote at $15@$17 per M. for West India shipping boards; $20.00@$21.00 for South American do; $15@$16 for box boards; $17 for do. wide and sound; and timber to order at $30@$40 per M.

Yellow pine meets with only a moderate and irregular demand on consumptive account, the local market affording little of a promising or encouraging character for sellers. On export orders business is fair, the operation as usual being confined to the sale of cargoes for direct shipment from the points of production. Prices as a rule are steady on all standard grades. We quote random cargoes at about $18@$21 per M.; ordered cargoes, $22@$21 do; green flooring boards, $20@$21 do; and dry do. do, $20@$21. Cargoes at the South, $11@$15.50 per M; hewn timber, $7.50@$14.

Hardwoods are steady on all the principal descriptions, and meet with some little demand on export account with a few orders now and then from manufacturers. Supplies not abundant, but appear to be enough for all present requirements of the market. We quote at wholesale rates by car load about as follows: walnut $77@$85 per M; ash, $33@$36 do; oak, $35@$40 do; maple, $30@$35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@$35 do; do., culms, $18@$20 do; cherry, $15@$17.50 do.; white wood, 1/2 and 3/4 inch, $25@$27.50, and do. inch, $33@$35 do.; hickory, $25@$30 do. for Western, and $40@$50 for good near-by stock.

At the yards, trade keeps along in about the usual channels, fluctuating from extreme dullness to quite a show of animation, and back again two or three times a week. Yet the aggregate outward movement of stock reaches a pretty good volume, and most dealers appear to be very well satisfied. Prices do not change to any great extent, but are a shade steadier if anything.

Culled logs.....	10 00@12 00

The Albany market is reported by the Argus to May 14th, as follows :

The trade in the District in pine lumber has been moderate. Receipts are fair and stocks ample and well-assorted. Quotations are steadily held. Several large lots of Canada lumber, aggregating not far from 10,000,000 feet, have been recently sold to leading firms at New York and vicinity on terms that have not transpired. This purchase would seem to show some anxiety on the part of the trade to secure stock at present quotations.

In coarse lumber there has been a large business, and the supply in market is good. It is estimated that the business which will have been transacted in the District on June 1st will be the largest of any season, to that date, since the organization of the District. The assortment is good and prices are without change.

We spoke last week of the free exports of lumber from New York. The following which we condense from the N. Y. Journal of Commerce, shows for one week the extent of the trade and how widely it is scattered : Ystad, 13,000 feet; Copenhagen, 11,000 feet; Hamburg, 26,000 feet; Hull, 10,000 feet; Great Grimsby, 26,000 feet; Penarth Roads, 11,000 feet; Penzance, 8,000 feet; Dundee, 15,000 feet; Aberdeen, 16,000 feet; Glasgow, 2,000 pieces; Cork, 120,000 feet; Queenstown, 2,000 feet; Dublin, 2,600 feet; Newry, 717 pieces; Gibraltar, 57,100 feet; British Honduras, 93,000 feet; Havre, 12,000 feet; British Guiana, 8,000 feet; British Australia, 18,000 feet; British West Indies, 68,000 feet; Dunkirk, 16,000 feet; French West Indies, 54,000 feet; French East Indies, 30,000 feet; Cuba, 102,000 feet; Venezuela, 16,000 feet; Bayonne, 10,000 feet; Bordeaux, 10,000 feet; Cetze, 12,000 feet; Cadiz, 44,000 feet; Castlewave, 17,000 feet; Lisbon, 8,400 feet; Madeira, 50,000 feet; Hayti, 33,000 feet; Cipriate Republic, 310,000 feet; making an aggregate of 876,010 feet; this of course does not include the coastwise shipments.

At Saginaw, recent sales of 600,000 feet dry at $6.50, $13.00 and $30.00 per M. feet; of green, 600,000 feet at $6.00, $12.00 and $28.00 per M. feet. Some Western dealers think the stock of secured logs this season will fall far below the estimate made a few weeks ago, and to which we alluded in our report of April 30th. In the Lake Michigan district, most of the logs in the streams will probably come out; but in the Chippewa and Black River country, the outlook, it is now said, is not so promising. The Western (Mississippi) rivers are delivering logs, but heavy and continuous rains are needed to move those that have a long distance to run.

At Belleville (Ontario) on the 15th inst. the first of this season's cut logs were arriving. The drive, so far, has been favorable.

The receipts at Chicago since January 1st, 1878, are 137,458,000 feet against 75,060,000 feet for a corresponding period in 1877. The shipments, 174,602,000 feet against 142,032,000 feet. The stock of lumber at Chicago on May 1st was 196,892,000 feet against 245,508,000 feet on April 1st and 189,887,000 feet on May 1st, 1877. The receipts of lumber at Buffalo for the week by lake are 6,852,000 feet; by rail, 60 car loads.

The receipts at Oswego for the week 4,396,800 feet; the shipments by canal 2,278,200 feet. Freights from Buffalo and Tonawanda to Albany are $1.70 per M. feet; from Oswego, $1.70. Freights from Saginaw to Tonawanda are $1.37 per M. feet.

The receipts at Albany by canal from the opening of navigation to May 15th, are :

Bds. & Setg. ft. Shingles, M. Timber c. f. Staves, &	415,200	....	....
1878 ...	17,760,000	759	....

The receipts at tide-water from the opening of navigation to May 15th, are :

Bds. & Setg. ft. Shingles, M. Timber, c. f. Staves &	2,150,400	....	20,000
1878 ...	29,931,200	759	2,812,400

THE WEST.

The Lumberman and Manufacturer of Minneapolis has the following :

The lumber trade of the West is now in a more satisfactory condition, so far as the demand and prices are concerned, than it has been for many years. The limited stock of dry lumber is disappearing as rapidly as should be desired, considering the length of time which must ensue before a new crop will be available. The prices realized are fair—nothing more, and holders are more confident in the propriety of holding stocks than they have ever been. Only an occasional one can be found who is still suffering from the old fever to sell cheaper than other folks do. The serenity is new and one strangely misses the prophesies of evils yet to come which for years have filled the air. A few from sheer force of habit, mutter over threadbare tales of how cheap lumber is "Just over there," but none are found willing to concede only the odd cents which compensate customers for the difference between trading with them and some one of their competitors. In such compromises as this the customer always gets the worst of the bargain, as he ought to have three times as much reduction.

Prices at Chicago are off again on cargoes, piece stuff again being quoted as low as $7.50, but trade seems to be opening up in Illinois, and other regular tributaries of that city which keeps a reasonable degree of firmness in the yard trade.

The news of the week from all parts of Michigan confirms the original estimates of The Lumberman made in February, that the shortage in the State would be 50 per cent. The fates seem against the Chippewa, Black, St. Croix and Wisconsin lumbermen this year, the present outlook for the drives being very poor indeed. Not to exceed 100,000,000 has been secured so far, and most of the mills on the Mississippi river must remain idle for some time for want of logs.

There is no news of special importance from the drives on the upper Mississippi, except that the Willow river drive, containing 15,000,000 feet, was at Aitken Wednesday night. The probabilities for the other drives on the river are about the same as reported last week. At Beef slough they have rafted out fifteen million and shut down. Fifty million feet secured on Black river and being rafted out at La Crosse. Preparation is being made to improve the river by a system of dams. The Wisconsin drive is hung up.

Or the Minneapolis market the Lumberman writes:

We have little of interest to note since our last. The shipments for the week were 2,052,030 feet, against 2,280,000 the corresponding week in 1877. The local and wagon trade has been large, and is increasing, as are orders from the interior of the State and some portions of Iowa. At the present rate of sales the stocks of dry lumber will be exhausted before the new cut can be sufficiently dried for shipment. The very large immigration into the Northwest is sure to still further increase the demand. The far Southwest trade is light, and, with full stocks, it would take some time to regain the trade from that section diverted by the cut in freights from Chicago to the Missouri river; but, with present or prospective stocks here, very little more could be done than to hold the trade that must come to this market for supplies. With full stocks, however, and an equitable freight tariff, city dealers would soon push their trade into all the territory formerly occupied by them.

Prices have not varied during the week, but as the mills commence their season's work it is not unlikely that some reductions may be made in price lists. Some logs have come into the booms, and reports from the various drives give assurance that nearly all the last winter's cut and those hung up in 1876 will reach the mills. It is now estimated that from 120,000,000 to 135,000,000 feet will come down. Several of the mills have commenced work, and all will be in operation in a few days.

The Bay City Tribune says:

The Pine River drive contains 25,000,000 feet. The logs began shooting the dam at Alma on Sunday, and it will require two weeks for the whole drive to pass, logs shooting to dam at the rate of thirty per minute. The Flat River drive is blockaded between Fallsburg and Lowell, the recent heavy rains have caused Grand River to overflow its banks, and Superintendent Sprague has not deemed it advisable to put any logs adrift on its troubled bosom until the water shall subside. The head of the river is at Fallsburg.

A dispatch from St. Charles says the following is the amount of logs expected to come out from the small streams, tributaries of the south branch of the Bad river:

From the Limbarker Creek, James Bros. .... 690,000 Pine Creek, Amos Gould ..... 2,500,000 Potato Creek, Jared Fish ..... 90,000 Miscellaneous, lots of oak and ash ..... 500,000

Secretary Stockbridge, of the Chicago Lumbermen's Exchange, publishes the following figures giving the stocks on hand and for sale at the city yards, $5 in number, on the dates named:

Oregon Timber.—An Oregon paper says: Possibly this State may become as preeminent for its ship-building interests in the future as the Pine Tree State has in the past. The attention of shipbuilders has of late been directed to this side of the continent, and they have found inexhaustible forests of red and yellow fir, from which immense sticks, 150 feet in length, are easily obtained. Planks 60 and 90 feet in length, can be procured easily, and in strength they are considered equal to Eastern white oak, and bolts driven through them will break before they draw. In them iron does not become "sick," as shipmasters say. The tide land spruce of Washington Territory and Oregon is thought to be equal to the hackmatack of the Eastern States, and is suited for the top timber, knees and breasthooks. The fine grained and durable yellow cedar that grows along the coast from Coos Bay to Port Orford, is fine deck material, and trees 175 feet high are frequently met with. White cedar is abundant in Washington Territory, and laurel for keelsons and sternposts is easily procured. For treenails and stanchions the locust which grows in the warm valleys can be obtained. A cargo of masts, spars, decking and ship keels was recently taken to Bath, Me., from Puget Sound, Washington Territory, and gave such satisfaction in the yard of one of the largest shipbuilding firms there that other shipments of the same kind will be made.

NAILS.—Demand now and then reaches a point of animation, but it is only spasmodic and disappears about as quickly, or even more so, than it develops. Indeed, the general movement is small as compared with amount of stock in one way and another seeking an outlet, and the harmony of the market is still broken by strong competition. The list rates remain as before, but it is notorious that dealers can buy 10¢ or more per keg under the rates named. We quote: 10d. to 6d., common fence and sheathing per keg, $2.60; 8d. and 9d., common do. per keg, $2.85; 6d. and 7d., common, per keg, $3.10; 4d. and 5d., common do., per keg, $3.35; 3d. and 4d., light, per keg, $4.10; 3d., fine, per keg, $4.85; 2d., per keg, $4.85, Cut spikes, all sizes, $2.85. OILS.—As a rule the former general range of prices is asked on jobbing parcels, and dealers are not greatly inclined to waver. The wholesale market, however, is not over strong, and this is reflected to some extent upon the smaller operations with rates shaded somewhat to hasten sales. We quote: Linseed, about $5@6. 1/2 gallon; lard, 50@55¢; for winter; 51@54¢ for No. 1, and 49@51¢ for No. 2; crude cotton seed, 35@40¢, and refined summer yellow do, 50@51¢.

PAINTS.—Demand does not greatly increase from any quarter, and we find a rather dull market. Local consumption has fallen off materially of late. Interior wants are small, and buyers carefully adjust their orders to pressing necessity, even on the most ordinary run of standard goods, leaving supplies as near first hands as possible to be carried. The amount and assortment accumulated are not large or difficult to manage, as production and importation have been carefully adjusted to the wants of the market, but there is a little surplus and holders are on the lookout for customers. Prices are nominally steady all around, but the tendency is to favor the buyer if business will be hastened thereby.

PITCH.—A slow, regular distribution is made on the ordinary outlets, for which the amount of stock available is quite sufficient, and a little to spare. There is no great surplus, however, and rates retain a basis of steadiness. We quote at $1.57@2.12 1/2 for city delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—Dealers continue to distribute small lots to a fair extent, and at about the former average cost, but the wholesale market has been less active, and prices declined. At the present writing the feeling is somewhat unsettled, and we quote at 29@33 according to quantity of stock handled.

TAR.—Demand has been fair, and the market held about steady on the former general basis of cost. The amount of stock within reach equals most calls, but is not large, nor does it tend to increase. We quote at $2.05@2.15 for Newbern and Washington, and $2 10@2.25 for Wilmington.

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C. and C. a. G. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows: 1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed in which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or incumbered.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

DAMP WALLS.

Buildings in an exposed situation, and houses constructed of brick and stone, owing to the porosity of the material employed, are subject to damp walls, which not only injure the health of the occupants, but also destroy the building. Various compositions have been tried to remedy these difficulties, but none were successful until the Silicate Paint Company of England, some six years ago, manufactured an article which is best termed "Petrifying Liquid," or Solution of Silica—made from a deposit of almost pure Silica, found in North Wales. This deposit has been analysed by several chemists, including Professor Flageolet, with the following result:

Silex.....	79	Water.....	13
Oxide of Iron.	3	Alumina.....	4
Magnesia.	1.

The "Petrifying Liquid" has the property of hardening and rendering impervious to water, all kinds of brick, cement, stucco and masonry. It penetrates into every pore, petrifying and hermetically sealing the outer surface, and is a protection against the destructive influence of the atmosphere, and the changes of temperature.

The Petrifying Liquid is made transparent, so as not to alter the appearance of any surface to which it may be applied. If used on newly plastered walls it renders them at once fit for papering. If applied externally the plaster will become quite as durable, and far more pleasing to the eye than cement. It makes a most effective, durable and economical washable distemper, inasmuch as it does not rub off. For corridors, stairs, kitchens, wards of hospitals, asylums, prisons and other public buildings, it is highly recommended.

Another important specialty of the Silicate Paint Company is their Silicate White Paint, which has been favorably known for a long time, the demand or it increasing so rapidly that they have recently constructed works at Charlton, Kent, England.

It possesses great advantages over white lead and other paints; is non-poisonous; will not dissolve, even in the fumes of gas, and does not crack or rub off.

These materials of the Silicate Paint Company can be obtained of Howard Fleming, 10 Pine street, who is sole agent for the United States.
