DECEMBER 8, 1883.

At the rate subscribers are now coming in it looks as though the 250 names will be secured for the "Real Estate Exchange and Auction Rooms, Limited," by the close of next week. The institution will then be organized and the price of seats will be advanced fifty per cent. A list of the subscribers is given elsewhere. It embraces nearly all the leading real estate dealers and many of the foremost owners of property on this island.

What a chorus of applause went up when Judge Gresham was appointed Postmaster-General. Some enthusiastic journals actually nominated him for the presidency. But his report, just issued, strips a very common fowl of all his gaudy plumage. Our Postmaster-General is simply a small Indiana lawyer. President Arthur has kept one object steadily in view; no member of his Cabinet will be a candidate in the Republican National Convention. His secretarics seem to be good safe clerks, who faithfully attend to the routine of their offices, but who are all of them remarkably destitute of qualities which would commend them to voters for high office. In discussing the postal telegraph, Mr. Gresham shows an utter lack of statesmanlike grip. His utterances are those of a third rate lawyer and hide-bound politician.

There is reason to believe that the Railroad Commission of this State has been captured by the railroad companies. The resolution calling for quarterly reports has been dropped, although it was unanimously endorsed by the business community and the press. The commissioners went to the Grand Central Depot to hear lawyer Depew and Vice-President Blanchard submit arguments against the resolution, and that ended the whole matter, although Wall street people are not aware of it, and are looking for the reports. The only State Railway Commissioners which are known to have been faithful to their trusts are those of Massachusetts, Illinois and Georgia, and much good has resulted therefrom, but the California Commission is notoriously in the pay of the railroads. The general government must take this matter in hand, and when they do it will be a good thing for the companies as well as the public as it will stop wars and rate cutting, as well as prevent excessive charges. Let us have a National Railway Commission.

All propositions looking to additional city transportation facilities should not be looked upon with equal favor. Property holders would do well to watch the scheme for building elevated and surface roads to be run by cable. It is a speculation, pure and simple, by a syndicate of active financiers. They have persuaded Mayor Edson to appoint a very respectable commission to look into their scheme, but the whole matter will bear watching. The franchise will be a very valuable one if granted, and the time has come when the city should refuse to vote away the privileges of our streets to speculators for little or nothing. No company should be permitted to construct any more elevated or surface roads without paying therefor a certain percentage of its gross receipts. Had this policy been pursued with our ferries, gas companies, street and elevated roads, we would now be in receipt of a yearly income that should defray at least half the cost of our city government ; but we have allowed corporations to secure these lucrative privileges gratis. The newspapers demand that these franchises be sold to the highest bidder, but this gives a chance for collusion, from which the city would be the loser. If this cable company is granted any privileges the city should demand at least ten per cent. of the gross receipts; for this the corporation might guarantee the company freedom from vexatious law suits. The next Legislature ought to pass a law authorizing the city to come to some terms with the elevated roads, the latter to pay a stipulated percentage of their gross receipts yearly in lieu of taxes and assessments, the city to protect the company against claims for damages. In the meantime, this cable company should be watched.

The National Bank note issues are by no means of such importance as the daily press seems to believe. There is no danger to the trade of the country if all their issues are withdrawn, provided we retain our present stores of bullion and keep the products of our mines from going abroad. In the past four years the average annual increase in the volume of currency has been $89,453,346, toward which National Bank notes have contributed an average of only $3,958,068 yearly. The total increase in circulation from November, 1879, to November, 1883, was $357,813,486, of which 62.9 per cent. was gold, 32.6 per cent. silver, and 4.5 per cent. National Bank notes. The gold notes and silver certificates have saved the country from a disastrous panic, due to the contraction of the bank paper money. Our best monetary policy would be to let the banks retire from the business of issuing currency and encourage in every way the coinage and circulation of gold and silver or certificates representing the same.

A real estate agent in the Tribune expresses himself as follows: Not one in a hundred of the large—mind, I emphasize the word "large" —real estate transactions are properly reported, even in the official records. You buy a piece of property at $30,000; it is to your interest and that of the seller, who has more lots to sell in the same neighborhood, to report the sale at, say, $50,000. The larger amount is put in the deed as the consideration. It gets registered at the same figure; and from the Register's office the false record goes to the papers as a bona fide sale for the largest amount. It is simply bulling a poor market.

Unfortunately, there is too much truth in this statement. Sales are reported by speculative brokers, which are mere "washes," intended to deceive unwary purchasers. Then "trades" are quite common, in which a cash value is given to "swops" of property, where perhaps little or no money consideration was included. The official transfers themselves are tampered with, and the record is made to lie, for the purpose of bolstering up the price of adjoining properties or to deceive future purchasers. It is lamentable that in dealings in realty, the most certain of all kinds of property, that these practices should be so common. One argument for a Real Estate Exchange is that it would furnish an accurate test of prices in every case where property was publicly sold. An Exchange could not afford to have its good name smirched by "washed" sales or "Peter Funk" auctioneering. Title deeds ought to be honest in respect to price, and property owners should ask the Legislature to pass a law requiring that the sum actually paid shall be inserted in the deed. It is an open question whether a bona fide purchaser cannot under our laws demand of the seller the sum actually named in the deed. Why might not heirs demand an evidence that the price stipulated had been paid? A judge who would give a decision to this effect would do much to bring about honest dealings in realty, and it would create a panic among traders who make a practice of giving false considerations in the titles when property is transferred.

What Congress Should Do.

While the recommendations contained in the President's message, if carried out, would do little or nothing to revive business activity, still they afford a basis which, if Congress builds upon wisely, would do much to improve the trade of the country. The President admits that we ought to have a defensive navy, a torpedo service, and guns and floating batteries sufficient to guard our wealthy seaboard cities. Liberal appropriations for these objects would partially revive our iron and steel industries, and sympathetically affect a vast circle of industries. We have the money in the Treasury, which, if used thus productively, would exert a most beneficial influence.

But after providing for the defense of our seaboard, and putting us in a position to resist attack, Congress might go further and authorize the construction of a fleet of fifteen to twenty of the largest and swiftest kind of steel steamers. They should be equal in every respect, and surpass, if possible, the very best and largest of the steamships belonging to the foreign transatlantic lines. With these vessels we could establish direct trade relations with other nations, under our own flag. They would be officered in part by our own naval officers, and so constructed that they could be changed into war vessels in case of international complications. It is not to be expected that they would be self-supporting, but they would be cheaper than maintaining our present navy, which now enjoys the unique distinction, as General McClellan says, of being unable "neither to fight nor run away." These vessels need not interfere with private enterprize, as they could be contracted out to American shipping firms, on terms which would enable them to compete with the great foreign lines which now monopolize the external carrying trade of the country. To supply the country with cruisers, guns, a torpedo service, floating batteries and the ships such as we have above indicated would take a great deal of money, far more than our annual surplus for many years to come, but every dollar so laid out would be worth fifty in its effect upon the trade of the country. It would revive all our great iron and steel works ; our seaboard would again become the scene of great manufacturing activity, while the results of the expenditures would be especially beneficial to seaports like New York.

But it is idle to expect any such farseeing and wise action on the part of Congress. If such a scheme were proposed, nothwithstanding its obvious advantage to this port and the nation, every daily paper in New York would denounce it. For years past any proposition looking towards an encouragement of the foreign trade of the country has been bitterly assailed by our local daily press. The members of Congress from the rural districts have no interest in the seaboard cities, and it is therefore too much to expect any intelligent action from that body looking to the security of our coasts, the extension of our commerce or the revival of our industries.

The Real Estate Exchange and Auction Room (Limited). The following list tells the story of the progress of the new Real Estate Exchange. It embraces one hundred and fifty-three names, all of whom have paid their 10 per cent. on the thousand dollars called for, at the United States Trust Company, 49 Wall street.

The Ludlow committee are quite well satisfied with the names herewith presented. It represents the very cream of the real estate interests of the metropolis. The leading estates, the principal brokers and the legal fraternity, as well as the banks and trust companies, will all co-operate with this Exchange when established. The hundred additional names required will probably be forthcoming next week, when the price of seats will be advanced to $1,500.

Over the Ticker.

THE wilderness roads continue to be the bete noir to scare the bulls whenever they feel like bellowing. It is the Northern Pacifics, Denvers, Union Pacific or their affiliated roads which start the movement towards lower prices.

TROUBLES in the western roads, threats of rate cutting, are also a menace to the market, due primarily, of course, to the building of roads through unproductive regions.

THE West Shore & Buffalo is another course of disturbance. It has been constructed in an extravagant fashion, and is in financial difficulties before completion. The number of accidents on the track shows that its present officers are inefficient. The proposition to sell West Shore bonds to the holders of construction stock for a higher price than they can be bought in the open market, shows folly or worse among the ruling insiders of the West Shore manipulators.

NEW YORK CENTRAL may after all become a 6 per cent. stock. It will need a great deal of money to put it upon as efficient a footing as its great rival, the Pennsylvania Central. The Vanderbilt contingent have more faith in the price of Lake Shore than New York Central, and with reason.

SAMUEL J. TILDEN, Jay Gould and S. H. Kneeland, when they appear before a court, are apt to lose their voices; but they never lose their heads, though they do say that people who dea with anyone of them never make any money. THE threatened war of roads west of the Mississippi does not and should not materially affect the price of the securites of the roads east of that river. Cheap rates in the extreme West means, after the close of navigation, a large business for the lines east-of Chicago and St. Louis.

THERE will be no postal telegraph this year, but undoubtedly Congress will be so worked as to make Western Union stock very lively during certain periods of the session. President Arthur will veto any bill which looks to the incorporation of the telegraph as a part of the postal service of the conntry. Any other scheme is not worth considering. People who want to risk their money in the market would do well to keep track of Western Union.

NORTH RIVER CONSTRUCTION stock is being sold down by the insiders to gather up shares, for which it is said 105 will be given as a final dividend.

THE probabilities for December are a feverish market and lower prices before Christmas.

WE may have a mild boom in January of next year for the same reason that advanced stocks in November-an unusual amount of money seeking investment.

I F Reading is to be a 6 per cent. stock it is certainly cheap at present prices, but what a mountain of debt is on that unfortunate road? Reading may see higher, but it is certain sometime in the future to see lower figures.

W ITH money enough for a dividend already in its treasury, and present net earnings sufficient to pay at the rate of 8 per cent. per annum, it needs no prophet to say that next year 90 will look cheap for C., C., Č. & I.

BRIE & WESTERN since September has regularly earned all fixed charges and 7 per cent. on its income bonds. This has been done with no increase of gross earnings, and is simply the result of a saving of working expenses. The figures are 70 for the income bonds and 50 to 60 for the stock before July next.

ST. LOUIS & SAN FRANCISCO stocks have seldom been mentioned in this column, but the "Ticker" hazards nothing in predicting much higher prices for them in the immediate future. This road with the A. & P., which it owns, is looked upon with hungry eyes by at least two Eastern roads which want a Pacific outlet. The A. & P. income bonds are a good speculative purchase.

PACIFIC MAIL seems to be holding its own better than any other stock on the list. But operators naturally dread dealing in it in view of their past experiences.

MUTUAL UNION will declare a small dividend next month. The Western Union directors have not yet officially endorsed the certificates, and hence the Stock Exchange will not list the new stock.

WHEAT is weak, and with reason, but a foreign war would start the price up. Cotton looks like a sale.

Mr. Glover and Mr. Deyo were recently interviewed about the Elevated Railroad cases. The former desired attention to be directed to the fact that the vital point in his case (and one which makes it more important than any heretofore decided), was that th · property had been bought subsequent to the erection of the main structures and that it had been contended by the railroad folks that where a man bought property with an elevated railroad in front of it, he bought it with the burden. The reply is, that Mr. Glover bought with the knowledge that the railroad was there, just as he might purchase an up town lot knowing that a squatter had his shanty there. That the railroad had in effect squatted on his property, and never having had any right to be there could not claim that any burden xisted. Mr. Deyo was not satisfied with Judge Ingraham's decision, in any respect, and intends to appeal. He stated that he understood the decision to be, that in certain down-town streets, at the extreme end of the city, abutting owners are entitled to certain easements of light and air in the streets which, when interfered with by the structure of the elevated railroad, may be condemned by the railroad and he expected to reverse that decision on appeal.

We were lately told an odd story about a case in the courts where all hands are bothered. He and she were not married, though they knew how to keep a good road-house. They annexed the property round the hotel, claimed it, fenced and improved it. Thirty years passed, and then one and the other died. The heirs of each claimed the lots, which, otherwise, are derelict; but investigation proved that he and she used to fight, and that sometimes one held the fort against the world and the other, and vice versa. And now all hands don't know what to do, and would be very thankful if the heirs of the real owner would show up.

Home Decorative Notes.

-A stroll about our cities at this merry season gives one a keener insight into the wants and fancies of our people than at any other time; tempting wares, both moderate and expensive, are displayed in the windows, and gazed upon by numberless sight-seers from without and within; all manner of means are adopted to make the stores pretty and attractive and to entice would-be purchasers into all sorts of extravagances; we should remember in selecting our gifts to try and obtain something that will supply a want, and not purchase pretty trifles which can only in the end prove an additional care to the recipient.

-The tall bamboo baskets in gilded and bronze effects, with the addition of a bow of broad satin ribbon of some bright color, makes an attractive receptacle for either canes or umbrellas.

-The chased and repousse brass hanging clocks, many of which are backed with cardinal plush are very attractive, a fine variety of these goods can be obtained at J. Cezilly's, of 1308 Broadway.

-Very pretty tea cozies are made of plush, with various applique designs, couched about with gold or silver cord, they should be made very thick with cotton and lined with silk.

-Most beautiful horn goods are now exhibited; a smoking set consists of a cigar and match holder and ash receiver, made from the different sections of the horn and lined with gold, the various pieces are fastened to a branching deer antler.

-Most wonderful figures in terra cotta, displaying extremely beautiful coloring and workmanship, are to be found in every variety and style at Olivotti Bros., No. 1191 Broadway. Several new representations have lately been received, which are particularly worthy of notice. "The Old Hat-Man," "The Water-Carrier," and "The Egg-Seller." An exquisitely carved oak cabinet and a Florentine ch*ir, inlaid with ivory, attracted attention.

-Delicate and dainty are the bureau-covers of orepe lisse, with the ends traced with the lily design in yellow-shaded filoselle. The edges of the cover should be hem-stitched and finished with lace, and then lined with yellow silk or satin, have the cushion of corresponding color, finished with a quilling of satin.

-The spinning-wheel, which was the pride of our grandmothers, and still retains a place in many modern homes, may be very tastefully decorated by procuring some pure white flax, and fastening about it a scarlet ribbon, with bow and ends of irregular length, upon which trace the following words: "Get thy spindle and thy distaff ready and God will send thee flax."

-An extensive assortment of specialties in unbrellas and canes may be found at Linke's, 1188 Broadway. A very elegant and entirely new style of cane was shown, the stick was of bamboo, the handle of the cane was of silver, which opened and disclosed a match-box, fuse and a tube which extended the length of the cane, was arranged to hold cigarettes. Many novelties were also noticed in paper cutters of hazel and box-woods, the latter were beautifully carved with the Kate Greenaway style of figures.

-Plush covered bellows and guitars with a large bow of satin or velvet ribbon fastened on the end are among the latest wall ornaments—and decorate very nicely the side of the fire-place.

-The furniture rooms of F. Hayek & Co., of Tenth avenue and Fortyfourth street, are rich in beauty with exceptionably fine goods, corner seats in every variety and finish; cabinet desks of mahogany, therry and rose wood; plush upholstered drawing-room chairs and exquisite library tables in exceedingly attractive and exclusive designs. A beautiful cabinet was noticed that was manufactured for one of the finest houses in the city, it was composed of ebony, ivory and plate glass, the contrast of the ivory with the ebony, and the reflections of the same in the beveled panels, made a very beautiful piece of furniture.

-Cane chairs that are now so popular can be found painted in colors to harmonize with the furniture of the room cushioned with velvet or plush and ornamented with bows of bright ribbons, are altogether satisfactory.

-Fine specimens of the Doulton, Hungarian and Limoges ware, with glass shades decorated to harmonize with the original form, are among the holiday specialties offered by C. H. Covell of 1150 Broadway; many fine and happy productions in bisque are also exhibited. "The Broken Jug," "The Maskers," and "The Serenade."

-Student or other fancy lamps are made more effective by using colored shades of pink, yellow or blue tints.

-Very graceful liquor stands have the bottles of elaborately ornamented Austrian glass in gilded baskets, around which are suspended the dainty little glasses.

-A peep into the rooms of Lewis P. Tibbals, of No. 820 Broadway, will convince one that Santa Claus has there deposited a large portion of the heavy burden which he usually bears at this season of the year—leaping horses for both girls and boys, swings, printing presses, the new and amusing Mother Goose target, mechanical toys in every variety; in fact, one cannot fail to find something to gladden the hearts of the little ones.

-A novel but pretty arrangement for shedding a soft light over a dinner table is produced by taking a Japanese umbrella, containing many bright colors, and placing at intervals in the handle tin sockets for holding candles. The umbrella is suspended from the ceiling the full length of the handle, and the arrangement for holding the candles is hidden from the view of those at table, the soft light shed through the paper has the effect of stained glass.

-Within the past few years an increased demand has been visible for the higher qualities of decorated porcelain and china, beautiful and rare specimens are constantly being imported. Two pair of Sevres vases decorated by the celebrated artists Malpas and Sabourin are now in the posses sion of Schneider, Campbell & Co., of Uuion square. The following subjects in artistic bronzes are particlarly fine: "Love, Confidence and Fidelity," by A. Carrier; "The Tunisian Merchant," by Peynot, and "The Falconer," by R. J. Mêne. By the death of Mr. Henry Fernbach, New York loses one of the most conscientious and one of the most accomplished of its architects. He has died in the prime of his powers and when, according to common calculations, many years of work were still to be expected of him.

Mr. Fernbach was born in Silesia in 1828, and after receiving his general education in Breslau, and taking a course of architecture at the Building Academy in Berlin, came to this country about 1850, and shortly afterwards entered upon the practice of architecture, which he continued with increasing success as his countrymen increased in number, wealth and importance in New York. Within the past fifteen years he has designed the German Savings Bank at the corner of Fourteenth street and Fourth avenue; the Staats Zeitung building in Tryon row; the Harmonie Club in Forty-second street, and the Mutual Life Insurance Company's building in Philadelphia among secular public buildings, and the synagogues in Forty-fourth street, Thirty-fourth street and at Lexington avenue and Fifty-fifth street, and the parsonage of the Temple Emanu-El in Fifth avenue, having also been associated with Mr. Eidlitz, the designer of that building, during its construction. He was also the architect of the Hebrew Orphan Asylum at Lexington avenue and Seventy-seventh street, and of the Institution for Deaf Mutes at Lexington avenue and Sixty seventh street. If we mistake not, he also designed a Moorish kiosk of considerable architectural interest, which was built on the grounds of Mr. Ottendorfer, and he was the architect of the keeper's dwelling and gate house of the Salem Fields Cemetery.

Besides these more or less monumental buildings, Mr. Fernbach designed more commercial buildings in Broadway and elsewhere than almost any other single architect since the death of Mr. Griffith Thomas. The most conspicuous of these works are the addition of the roof stories to the building of the New York Life Insurance Company in Broadway, and the store of Messrs. Stern Brothers in Twenty-third street. And possibly the most conspicuous of all his works is the new Musée Grevin in Twenty-third street, near Sixth avenue, which is still unfinished.

This is a wide range of work for a single architect in purpose and in style. Those of the commerical buildings which were merely warehouses are less elaborately designed, naturally and properly, than those which had more of a monumental character, including such commercial buildings as were designed for the use of commercial institutions. But all of Mr. Fernbach's work was thoroughly done, and carefully detailed to that degree of elaboration which he thought desirable. None of it was slighted, and the architect never spared any pains to make his works what he thought they ought to be, going so far, sometimes, as to request the return of drawings already in course of execution in which improvements had suggested themselves to him. As a result of this painstaking and thorough habit of work he secured the respect of all the owners and of all the mechanics who had dealings with him.

By preference Mr. Fernbach worked in academic Renaissance, in which he was at least as thorougly versed as any member of his profession in this country. The granite buildings of the Staats Zeitung, of the Mutual Insurance Company in Philadelphia, and of the German Savings Bank, are in this style. We name them in whit seems to us the order of their architectural merit, although the second is much the costliest and most important of the three. The Staats Zeitung building-a basement of Quincy granite with a superstructure of lighter granite-is perhaps Mr. Fernbach's masterpiece. It is, or, before the erection of the City Hall station of the elevated road was, very fortunately placed, and was worthy of its place. It has no striking individuality, nor indeed was there any attempt at originality in Mr. Fernbach's most successful works. It derives its effect, which is one of much dignity, from the careful adjustment of the parts with relation to each other, from the careful adjustment of the detail to the mass in scale and from the purity of the detail in itself. These qualities are shown, though in a less degree, in the Philadelphia building, which also has some careful interior detail. We can understand how a French critic of the architectural exhibition at the Centennial, looking at the exhibition from the point of view of a French architect, should have awarded Mr. Fernbach's work, as such a critic did award it, the highest rank among the architecture of this country. There was in it less offense against the architectural canons which are observed in Paris than in the work of almost any other American architect who could be named. And what is true of the best of Mr. Fernbach's work is true also of the less good. It fails sometimes of being positively effective, but it is never positively offensive, never violent and never vulgar, always restrained and always moderate. And intelligent restraint and intelligent moderation are qualities which American architects perhaps need more than they need any others.

The latest work of Mr. Fernbach, the unfinished museum in Twentythird street, may seem an exception to this statement. It is not fair to criticise it as yet, but in its unfinished condition it certainly has the air of being overloaded and excessive. It is very florid and very French. Yet even in this work, florid as it is, with its long row of terminal figures and its crowded pediment, it is true that there is less than in almost any other building equally florid to offend the trained sense of architects brought up in the schools of continental Europe.

We here touch the weakness of Mr. Fernbach's work, which is simply the weakness of the architectural education of the present day in continental Europe. Architecture produced in virtue of that training does not deal directly by modelling with the objects of construction, but applies to them a certain agreed system of architectural members derived from the forms which constructional members actually assumed in antique architecture. And that is only another way of saying that it is conventional. This is a reproach not against an individual, but against a system, and there is a very wide range between the refinement and study and the rudeness and recklessness which are possible under this system. Mr. Fernbach was one of the architects who understood its refinements and got out of it very nearly all that itican yield. Of the synagogues designed by Mr. Fernbach, that in Forty-fourth street, a simple composition of three arches over a triple portal, with a dome crowning it, the wall banded in two colors of sandstone, is much the best, and this is very effective and dignified. The Saracenic detail of the synagogue in Lexington avenue is thoroughly studied, but the general composition is stiff and monotonous, and the expedient of little bulbous domes by which it has been attempted to relieve its monotony is not fortunate.

There is no building of Mr. Fernbach's, perhaps, which in strictness of speech we can call a thoroughly admirable and expressive piece of architecture. But there are several which we can properly describe as accomplished and dignified works, notably the Staats Zeitung building and the synagogue in Forty-fourth street. And, what is more important, there is not one of which we can say that it is offensive, or that it tends to vulgarize the taste of those who see it daily. This, though negative praise, is really, considering what has been done and what is doing in New York, very high praise. A series of architectural works which, if sometimes tame, are never wild, and which always show a sense of measure, of restraint and of decorum, is calculated to exert a wholesome influence upon architects and entitles the author of these works to respect and honor.

Concerning Men and Things.

 The name of Courtlandt Palmer is well known among old real estate dealers. The son, who bears his father's name, is achieving distinction in quite a different sphere. He attempted last year, with success, to estabin this city social gatherings similar to the Paris salon-in other lish words, he persuaded a great many fashionable people to spend one evening every two weeks in listening to the address of some literary or scientific celebrity, and to hear the comments thereupon by distinguished invited The "Nineteenth Century Club," as it is called, resumed its meetguests. ings last week for the season. It is a novelty in New York society to see the leaders of fashion and the repres ntatives of our rich families listening, in full evening costume, to the discussion of high philosophic themes, oft n of an extremely heterodox character. The remarkable feature of these gatherings is the widely differentiated lines of thought which are represented at these meetings. Mr. Palmer is himself a positivist, while several well-known agnostics are frequent speakers ; yet the meetings are largely attended by orthodox clergymen, as well as leading representatives of the most conservative religious sects. But any man is a public benefactor who can induce rich people to understand that there is something better worth living for in this mysterious world of ours than attending the opera, or employing all one's spare time in mere amusement.

"Tom" Nast, the famous caricaturist, aspires to be a business man as well as an artist. His real estate investments have been profitable, though as much cannot be said of his mining ventures. He is now acting as the secretary of a new sleeping car company, which seeks to compete with the Pullman system. One of the cars, called the "Traviata," is now in use on the New York, New Haven & Hartford line. The sleeping berths and seats, i stead of being lengthwise with the car are placed sideways, and are divided into compartments with four beds in each, the entrance to them being from a hallway on one side of the car. They are very handsome in appearance and the berths are readily made up. These sleepers are the nearest approach to those on some of the English lines than any we have beretofore had in this country. The public will be sorry if "Tom" Nast makes so much money out of sleeping-cars that he will be tempted to lay aside his powerful and laughter-moving pencil.

Ex-Mayo Hall receives kindly mention from the press on the occasion of his retirement from the editorship of Truth. The fact is Hall is a failure as an editor. He is a remarkable man in many ways. A reporter in early life, he has been a lawyer, an official, a politician, an actor; in short everything by turns and nothing long. The profitable part of his career was when a politician, acting in conjunction with other politicians like unto himself. But neither his nature or training ever fitted him for the peculiar work of a newspaper office. His great ambition of later years has been to be connected with the Herald, and, though in his time he has done many favors for that paper and its editor, Mr. Bennett has never given his old friend a chance on his journal. The policy of the Herald has been to h we nothing to do with celebrities. The rule of the office is that no one is to be known but James Gordon Bennett.

It seems that the Ninth Avenue Road cannot extend its line without reference to the Corporation Counsel Andrews who has sent a letter to Superintendent Walling, asking him to "instruct the police to arrest all persons attempting to interfere with the pavement or lay railroad tracks in the Boulevard near Sixty-fourth or Sixty fifth streets." The letter continued: "Disregard any order of court or of a judge, authorizing such interference with pavement or laying of track Such order, if granted, will be without jurisdiction and a nullity." An order to this effect was sent out by the Superintendent. But what a pity it is that the extension of rail cannot be used by this and other roads. The Ninth Avenue cars runtoo far to the west below the Central Park. If the Eighth Avenue, or better still, the Broadway cars could run up the West side, it would be a very good thing for that region.

Executors and trustees of real estate are often in doubt what to do when the income is needed by their wards and when tax and assessment liens have accumulated. Surrogate Rollins' decision in re Chester will be good news for many, as he says that when there are funds in the executor's hands, being realizations of the principal of the estate, such funds may be applied to paying off arrears of taxes and assessments, while thê whole of the income may be paid to the ward. Mr. J. J. Stoutenburgh appeared for the ward and Mr. Robt. Davidson for the executors.

Real Estate Department.

The past has not been a very active week, although the list of Conveyances looks large, which is always the case the first week of every month. One disquieting feature of the market is the large number of "trades" which are taking place. Instead of houses and lots being sold for honest cash and a mortgage they are disposed of for other property. Houses renting from one thousand to twenty five hundred are in demand, as there are but few of them in the market, but suites of rooms in apartments do not rent as readily as they did.

There was a very large attendance at the Exchange last Wednesday when Mr. Harnett disposed of quite a lot of good property. Four lots on Sixtysixth street, near Ninth avenue, were offered by another auctioneer, but no bids being tendered the property was withdrawn. There was a mortgage of $16,000 on the lots, which are also rocky. It is a noticeable fact that mortgaged lots do not sell well at auction.

The official returns of Conveyances for the past week, as compared with the corresponding week of last year, are not encouraging. They show a falling off in transactions and the amount of money invested in realty. Here is the table :

On Saturday last no sales were held at the Exchange. On Monday the sale of property of the American Heating Co. on Gold street was adjourned to December 17. On Tuesday there was a good attendance and besides city realty two houses in Hoboken were spiritedly contested for. On Wednesday the sale of the Forgay estate attracted a large crowd and all the property was sold at good prices. The parcel on the northwest corner of Clinton and Grand streets, size $50.3\frac{1}{3}$ x81.9, brought \$47,000. It may be added that the southwest corner opposite is held at \$50,000. Four lots on Sixty-sixth street, west of Eighth avenue, were withdrawn, as no bid could be obtained. Eight lots on the northwest corner of Seventh avenue and One Hundred and Fortieth street were knocked down at \$28,000. On Thursday two lots on Vermilyee avenue and a house on West Thirty-third street were sold. On Friday a sale of houses on Pleasant avenue was adjourned.

Next Saturday the seven-story brick apartment house on the southwest corner of Fourth avenue and Sixty-second street will be sold under foreclosure to satisfy a mortgage held by the New York Life Insurance Company, on which about $136,000 is due.

The following table gives the official record of the Conveyances and Mortgages recorded in the Register's offices for the eleven months of this year compared with the same period in 1882. It will be noticed that the aggregate transactions and their amounts are both less. It is discouraging to note that while the amount in transfers is less by over nine millions the mortgages show an increase of over six millions. The number of nominal considerations in both years is heavy, showing that the actual total is very much larger than that given in the tables. Although official, these figures are not entirely trustworthy, due to the practice, altogether too common, of falsifying the amounts actually paid in the deeds in order to deceive future purchasers. The figures published in the daily press are very misleading in this respect. However, the amount of mortgage indebtedness can be entirely relied upon. The following is the table :

Investors would do well to read the advertisement in our columns of the choice Brooklyn property offered for sale. It is a plot which is admirably suited for a first-class hotel or apartment building, such as our sister city very much needs. It is on the corner of Remsen and Clinton streets.

On Thursday next Louis Mesier will sell at the Exchange the estate of John Suydam, which consists of improved property in the lower part of New York. Among the parcels is the house 189 Broadway. Other portions of the estate are in Beaver, Water, Pearl, West, Front and South streets. This will be a rare chance for shrewd investors.

Brooklyn.

The building plans for Brooklyn do not show any great advance over last year. The cost of the buildings projected during the first eleven months of 1882 was $9,814,928, while this year during the same period it was $10,521,611. As in New York, the active building movement was in the early part of the year, the later months show a heavy falling off. Unless Congress should do something to stimulate the trade of the country there will be less building in 1884 than there was during the past year.

Out Among the Builders.

Lester J. Wallack intends to erect an additional five stories above the entrance to his theatre on the east side of Broadway, between Thirtieth and Thirty-first streets, covering a frontage of 50 feet. It has not yet been decided whether the addition shall form an extension to the southern part of the Grand Hotel, or whether it will be used for office purposes. The cost of the improvement will be from $30,000 to $35,000. The plans are being prepared by W. Holman Smith.

The building will have a frontage of 50 feet on Cherry and 50 feet on Monroe street. All the windows will have a front light. The owner estimates an expenditure of $25,000 on this improvement. The architect will probably be Edward Waring.

Three three-story and basement brick and stone private dwellings will shortly be erected on the east side of St. Nicholas avenue, between One Hundred and Forty-ninth and One Hundred and Fiftieth streets, to cost about $30,000. The architect, Carl Pfeiffer, is drawing the preliminary designs.

William Hall & Sons, sash makers, who have just filed plans for a threestory brick factory, on the south side of One Hundred and Sixth street, 450 feet east of First avenue, 104x100, also intend building boiler, shaving and drying rooms on the north side of One Hundred and Fifth street, 450 feet east of First avenue. Arnheim, the tailor, will, on January 15 next, commence extensive alterations and additions to his establishment at Nos. 190, 192 and 194 Bowery, to cost about $10,000. Architect, J. B. Franklin.

The plans for Kiralfy's Theatre, on the west side of Fourth avenue, between Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets, are progressing rapidly. The building will be three stories high and 78.10x180 feet in dimensions. The stage, it is stated, will be the largest in the United States. The building will contain an elevator; the material for the front, the design of which is ornamental, is not yet determined. Messrs. Kiralfy Brothers anticipate an expenditure of $150,000 on the new theatre, where they will continue to produce their great spectacles on a larger plan than "Excelsior." The architects are Messrs, J. B. McElfatrick & Son, of 30 East Fourteenth street.

Geo. Robinson, Jr., has the plans in hand for a two-story brick and stone structure, 50x80, to be erected on the north side of One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, between Sixth and Seventh avenues. The first-story will contain stores, while that above will be used as a dancing academy by Mr. Brady, who has leased it for a number of years. The owner, John Harney, will spend about $12,000 on this improvement. The same architect has the plans for a four-story brick and brown stone livery stable, 44x65, to be built on West Eleventh street, 22 feet east of Washington street. There will be stores on the first floor. Owner, John B. Caden; cost, about $10,000.

S. Haberman will shortly improve the plot 100.11x180, on the southeast corner of Fourth avenue and One Hundred and Second street, though he has not yet decided as to the character of the improvement.

John Brandt has the plans under way for a five-story brick, stone and terra cotta tenement, 25x70, to be erected on the north side of [Sixty-ninth street, 200 feet east of Second avenue; owner, Mary McManus; cost, about $18,000.

The Beekman estate, it is reported, will erect a large cigar factory on Second avenue, between Sixty-fourth and Sixty-fifth streets

A plot of ground owned by Anthony Smyth on the north side of One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street, between Seventh and Eighth avenues, will be improved, probably by the erection of four three-story and basement private dwellings. The sketches are being drawn by Cleverdon & Putzel.

It is understood that the buildings recently destroyed by fire, on the northwest corner of Ann street and Theatre alley, are to be re-erected either by the owner, R. H. Goff, President of the Knickerbocker Ice Co., or the insurance company with whom the buildings were insured.

Henry J. Barrett intends to improve the building on the southwest corner of the Bowery and Prince street.

Brooklyn.

Th. Engelhardt has the plans for four three-story frame tenements, each 25x50, to be erected on the south side of Park street (Nos. 16 to 22), 150 feet east of Broadway, for George Straub, at a cost of $4,000 each ; also, for Louis Stutz, three three-story frame tenements, each 25x55, to be erected at Nos. 15 to 19 Ellery street, north side, 125 feet east of Broadway-cost, $4,200 each; also, for Jacob Schwille, a three-story brick dwelling, 25x42, with a two-story brick stable in rear, 25x16, to be erected on Myrtle avenue, near Magnolia street, the cost of which will be $7,500; a two-andone-half-story frame dwelling, 25x50, with extension, 25x18, to be erected on the southeast corner of Patchen avenue and Decatur street, at a cost of $4,000-owner, George Hochspring. The same architect also has plans for fifteen two-story frame (brick basement) dwellings, each 18.6x45, to be erected on the south side of Heyward street, 100 feet west of Marcy avenue, for Henry Grassman, at a cost of $4,000 each.

Amzi Hill is preparing plans for a four-story brick flat, 25x65, projected front, with all modern improvements, to be erected on the northeast corner of Washington and Gates avenues, for David H. Fowler.

Contractors' Notes.

Bids will be received by Commissioners of the Health Department, at 301 Mott street, until December 18th, at 2.30 o'clock, for the erection of an administration building on North Brothers Island, this city.

Sealed proposals for furnishing the material and labor, and doing the work required for constructing a house for the Fire Department, to be erected on Riverdale avenue, for Engine Company No. 52, will be received by the Board of Commissioners at the head of the Fire Department, at Nos. 155 and 157 Mercer street, until 10 o'clock A. M., Tuesday, December 18.

Special Notices.

Geo. B. Christman has lately completed the five-story flat No. 80 Morton street, 25x80, which contains the latest improvements. The building was done by day's work, and is in one of the best blocks in the ward. It is now offered for sale by Mr. Christman, who is willing to dispose of it at a reasonable figure. The owner can be addressed at No. 66 First street. Mr. Christman, it may be added, gives estimates for all kinds of carpentry work.

A. W. Budlong has two desirable lots (leasehold) to dispose of on the south side of Twenty-third street, between Tenth and Eleventh avenues. It will be remembered that the Fowler Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of spring beds, are erecting a six-story factory on this block, 40x 90. These lots would be valuable as a site for a factory or other building, and are located within a stone's throw of the elevated road. Persons desirous of learning the price and other particulars of the lots should address Mr. Budlong at the corner of Eleventh avenue and Twenty-second street.

The Union Fire Proof Company are furnishing all the fire proof material for the apartment house erecting for Mr. C. L. Tiffany on the northwest

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.-No very radical changes have taken place on the market for Common Hards during the week under review, and we have really little of positive in. terest to advise. A pretty steady outlet has been offered for all first-class stock, and the poorer assort-ments dragged with the tone on values corresponding therewith, but neither buyer or seller securing any-thing in the way of a permanent advantage. At one time appearances favored the belief the best stock was about in shape to work up a fraction, but the slightly sharper character of the demand was in a creat measure neutralized by an addition to the offer-ing, and it was only on exceptional cargoes that higher bids could be obtained. Receivers, however, seem to think that the market is now shaping up in better form, and that the selling interest cannot lose much ground for the balance of the season, so far as first-class desirable stock is concerned. Buyers, how-ever, are particular over quality, and when they con-sent to handle anything at all "off" they will expect preater allowances than when the extreme hurry of business made them blind to minor faults. Dealers are now fairly stocked, and many of the j-bs with facilities for piling have accumulated considerable stock against early consumptive ability. On quota-tions the figures may be placed for a general range at about $5.5060.625 for Jersey ; $57266.50 for "Up Rivers," and $7.00@7.75 for Haverstraws, with now and then something a little extra on the several grades doing a trifle better. Paies have a $3.00 for M continues to better than last week, and $3.00 for M continues to heve been ushed out of the way, mostly in the direc-tion of Brooklyn, it is said, and this with the light offering of good lots selling readily at $4.00, and the indication that 25c. more would be paid for fine in-duces a more cheerful tone. Fronts firm, and selling using the measure is all the torne if anything a trifle on the market for Common Hards during the week under review, and we have really little of positive in CEMENT .- Domestic remains steady and fairly active at former rates, with the tone, if anything, a triffe better, as with this week the production is virtually suspended for the season. Foreign is not active, but a little better demand has at times developed, and this, in conjunction with only fair arrivals and a com-paratively moderate accumulation, induces a feeling of greater confidence among holders.

LATH.—Receivers appear to have slightly over-estimated their ability to "hold the market," and were compelled to submit to another shading of some were compelled to submit to another shading of some 50c, per M. Demand was fair, indeed at times quite a number of buyers could be found more or less disposed to operate, but they were quick enough to discover the advantage of holding off in the face of the full daily arrivals until the accumulation in first hands became toppy and the break followed. At $3.00, how-ever, the demand revived somewhat again, and with the exception of some rejected lots we do not hear that the above rate was shaded. Considerable com-plaint is made over the quality of the receipts from all points, and some lots are said to bear all the evi dences of having been rushed through the mills, with no other idea than to make quantity. New York is a pretty fair place to sell almost anything, but buyers know good from bad quality. and expect to have proper allowances made in fixing price. The amounts now due from the provinces are small, but receivers are "doubtful" about the shipments from Maine.

LIME .- The cost of stock has not changed, and the market remains about where it stood for many weeks past. A little more stock came to hand, but buyers were found waiting for it, and supplies are now all cleaned out from first hands.

LUMBER .- Business moves along in a slow and dreary sort of way in a great many cases, with nat urally more or less grumbling, but some dealers find grains of comfort and seem to think that the situa-tion is fully in accord with general trade. At this season of the year, operations become more con-tracted almost as a matter of course, in a wholesale way, because primary sources either grow difficult and costly to reach or are shut off altogether, while the distribution shrinks as contracts are completed, and consumers desire to handle as little as possible until after the holidays. It is, therefore, very natural that the prospects are not regarded as favorable for any early change for the better, and indeed, if it holds its own for two or three weeks it will do well. Quite a fair amount is sold for export either from stocks of white pine or on f. o. h. orders for yellow pine at the South, and old rates are very well maintained. Among the yards, trade is irregular, some doing al-most nothing, and others quite fairly active, but just now this is to a considerable extent a matter of loca-tion or of a carefully gathered stock admitting of a good general selection without much trouble to the buyer. Nothing from interior points has any special influence here at the moment, though the Trade appear to think the showings are not of an unfavorable character. Eastern Spruce has been disposed of as it came to hand and in much the same manner as during the entire season. Anything positively attractive such as the regular local dealers could put away for stand-draw at least a reasonable bid to commence negotia-tions, with buyers occasionally creeping up a fraction rather than lose their opportunity of securing a use-ful cargo. On the other hand faulty offerings were not wanted at all, and were taken so much as an ac-commodation that the buyer generally could name a price anywhere within reason and be met. Produc-lion is now of course much curtailed with no induce-ment to hurry work. Quotations are placed at $18.00 @16.00 per M, but extra difficult would do better, and udeed agents look for some little advanc urally more or less grumbling, but some dealers find grains of comfort and seem to think that the situa-

White Pine has very little home demand at present except of a jobbing sort of character, and this is filled at irregular rates, according to size of invoice, the selection made, etc. Dealers are not among the cus-tomers, as even those who bought lightly in the in-terior have not as yet disturbed their stocks sufficient-ly to require additions. The export trade, however, is doing fairly in filling orders from rejular sources for both South American and West India shipment and obtaining full rates. Some arrivals have taken place but most of the stock expected is now at hand. We quote $1850@32 for West India shipping boards, $23@30 for South American do.; $16@18 for box boards, and $150@19 for extra do. Yell w Pine can still be reached to the full extent of the demand, and apparently always a little over, yet there is no decided effort made to realize beyond the natural wants of the market, and matters are kept under reasonably fair control. Some of the agents complaints of more or less erratic action among manufacturers which results to the advantage of sharp buyers who are on the watch for all chances, but the tendency to unprofitable competition is gener-ally disappearing as the weak operators step down and out. We do not hear of many really new calls on local account, but for export from primary sources sales are not uncommon. A scarcity of water con-tinues at the South, but its influence is overrated. We quote as follows: Randoms, $20,322 per M; Specials, $21,623 do.; Green Flooring Boards, $24,625; Dry do., do., $25,324; Step Plank, $30,35 do ; Car-goes f. o. b. at Atlantic ports, $14,316 for rough, and $10,21 for dressed. Cargoes f. o. b. at Gulf ports $13,615 for rough, and $18,620 for dressed. Hardwoods are "without change" again according to most reports, and we find little of interest to advise Manufacturers of fu niture, etc., are curtailing pro-duction somewhat, and this tends to lessen the volume of demand, but still, all things considered, there is a fair outlet for choice lots for walnut, ash, poplar, cherry and oak with quarter-d lots of the latter espec-ially in favor. All arrivals of medium or common, however, go begging and have no regular value. We quote at wholesale rates by car-load about as fol-lows: Walnut, $65,0110 per M; ash, $35,040 do.; oak, $30,055 do.; maple, $20,3250 do.; chestnut, $25, 30 do.; cherry, $40,075 do.; whitewood $4 and $6 inch, $25,830 do. do., and do. inch, $28,335; nickory, $45 (55 do. GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE STATE.

The following is the Argus' report of the Albany lumber market :

[FOR THE WEEK ENDING DEC. 4, 1883.] A large amount of lumber left the district during the week, principally of previous sales, though there have been some buyers in the district looking after kinds of stock of which they were short. The Super-intendent of Canals has kindly left this level open that boats arriving late might discharge, and to ena-ble those loading the canal to complete their car-goes before locking out into the river. All vessels are now loading outside, but the number is few, and the thickness of the ice induces them to complete their cargoes and get away as soon as possible. Probably the shipments hereafter will be small, though a change of weather may enable more to load. The dealers are all prepared for the rail trade, which last year was considerable, and promises to increase here-after. Pine is in good stock and assortment on the yards, and much of it is well seasoned, and prices have not as yet advanced, though firmly hell. Should the cut of logs be diminished, as the manufacturers ware on those that have ruled this season. There is a fair, but not large, stock of Spruce and Hemlock on the yards. If necessary to supply the winter demand, it can, to some extent, be replenished by rail. Shing-es are in fair supply and are going off steadily. Lath come in by rail, and the manufacturers will keep a sufficient quantity on hand to suppir the demand. The receipts of lumber at tide water, during the week and from the opening of navigation, to and in-ution the 30th day of November, 1883, are as fol-[FOR THE WEEK ENDING DEC. 4, 1883.]

SAGINAW VALLEY. LUMBERMAN'S GAZETTE, BAY CITY, Mich.

Bay Cirry, Mich. Nearly all the mills on the river have closed down, and work along the docks is almost suspended. Bird-sell & Barker's mill and a few ohers are still slashing away, night and day, and will continue to do so as long as the weather will permit. Thomas H. McGraw, whose logs are being cut at Birdsell & Barker's, is still considerably behind on his contracts for lumber sold, and hence his desire to fill all his orders will pre-vent the s opping of the big mill so long as the logs can be moved in the booms. The weather is cold, and there is some ice in the river. Navigation is closed of or the season, so far as any departures are concerned. although the C. H. Green and tow and a few other ves-sels are still expected to arrive here and go into winter quarters.

sels are still expected to arrive here and go into winter quarters. The manufacturers on the river with whom we have conversed take a very hopeful view of the future, and insist that the reports from every direction of the ex-gives a very assuring idea of what may be anticipated. It is thought that, notwithstanding the large amount of unsold lumber on the docks, it will all be called for previous to the commencement of operations by the mills next season. If mere assertion is to be relied on, there will cer-tainly be a considerable reduction in the output of logs during the logging season upon which we are just en-tering; but the Guzette desists from expressing any very decided conviction in that direction at the presen-during the past week, at the published quotations. There appears to be little inclination to grant any if asked. The present business of the lumbermen on the Sag-inaw River appears to be making preparations for next year's operations.

a generally dull and uneventful market, the business keeping mostly within the limits of the immediate and positive wants of buyers. Offerings have proven ample for all calls and rates essy, the latter failing to ample for all calls and rates esy, the latter failing to stimulate demand. We quote at 15c. for Lake down to 14c. for the less attractive branc's. Manufactured copper in a general way appears dull, but still there is quite a fair amount moving into consumpt-ion, and values are steadily held. We quote as follows: Brazier's Copper, ordinary size over 16 oz. per sq. foot, 25c. per bl.; do do. 16 oz. and over 13 oz. per sq. foot, 25c. per bl.; do do. 16 oz. and 13 oz per sq. foot, 25c. per bl.; do do. 16 oz. and 13 oz per sq. foot, 25c. per bl.; do fain and pattern sheets, 25c. per 10.; docmotive fire box sheets, 25c. per 10.; Sheathing Copper, 36c. per 10. IRON-Scotch Fig very duil all around, and the market at times somewhat stupid As a rule, buyers appear unwillin. to handle anything beyond the limits of the most clearly defined necessity, and have advantage enough to compel importers to accept an easy basis of valuation. Arrivals, however, are small, and the market not overstocked. We quote at $20.00(23.00 per M, according to brand, etc. Ameri-can pig has been more active in both foundry and mill grades, some of the leading companies securing several very good-sized contracts. It is, however, somewhat uncertain about the continuation of the dsmand, and the influence of the movement has not yet proven sufficient to stimulate values, about all the business taking place on a basis of for mer value stime. 21 (21 Contracts were closed by both the East-ern and Western mills. There is, however, more or less uncertainty. The quotation named is $55.00 per ton, but rumor, and a great deal of it, insist that con-tracts have been made at $12.200 per ton less. Old rails, science, closed by both the East-ern and wester mills. There is, however, are exist, $24.00(23.2150 for selected do., $15.00(10.00 for dear wheeis, and $22.0023.50 for No. 1 wought scrape exist, $34.00(23.250 for No. 1 wought scrape exist, $35.00 west, $25.50(25.00 for dear wheeis, and $22.0023.50 for No. 1 wought scrape exist, $35.00(23.50 for No. 1 w

METALS .- COPPER-Ingot has continued to show

NAILS .- Trade is dull and likely to continue so for some little time to come. A few exporters are calling for stock to fill their orders, and there is, of course, more or less wanted on home account, but no anima more or less wanted on home account, but no anima-tion to the demand, and the supplies fully balance all outlets. Values about as before on most sizes when handled in small quantity, but on large invoices con-cessions would be allowed to a fair extent. We quote 10d to 60d, common fence and sheath-ing, per keg, $2.80@2.85; Sd and 9d, common do., per keg, $3.35; 6d and 7d, common do., per keg, $3.50; 4d and 5d, common do., per keg, $3.85; 3d, per keg, $4.65; 3d, fine, per keg, $5.35; 2d, per keg, $4.70. Cut spikes, all sizes, $3.35; floor, casing and box, $3.86 @4.60; finishing, $4.10@4.85. Clinch Nails.—114 inch, $5.20; 134 inch, $4.95; 2 inch, $5.10; 23/@234 inch, $4.5; 30; inch and longer, $4.90.

PAINTS, OILS. ETC .- A spasmodic sort of demand prevails, and it does not reach volume enough to have any great influence upon the market. Dealers, how-ever, consider the situation as seasonable, and they are prepared to accept a light trade for some weeks. Goods are held at former rates, and the tone about steady. Linseed oil has been moderately steady at 56@57 for domestic, and 58@70 for foreign. Spirits Turpentine has further doclined. but closes with greater firmness at 36@38c., according to quantity, delivery, etc.

PITCH AND TAR .- The market pretty dull all around, and beyond a fairly steady tone on values there is not much to note. We quote pitch $2.25@2.30 per bbl., and tar $2.50@3.00 do., according to quantity, quality and delivery.
