HEN the stock market advanced in the face of such conditions of weather on he ditions of weather as have prevailed this week, it certainly gave the most remarkable evidence yet seen of the confidence of the investing and speculating publics. There must be great faith in the permanence of improved business when, instead of declining, as might reasonably have been expected, with one-half of the country snowed under and its progress arrested, even though it might be for a week only, prices advanced and that materially. Not only have there been substantial advances because of new and favorable developments in particular directions, but the market has given signs of broadening, speculation having reached issues that did not respond to the good feeling prevailing in the past two months. Some weeks ago we pointed out that any new upward movement would include these issues. There seems to be be a tacit determination to keep everything favorable to the fore and to overlook what is otherwise. The interruption to business and increased working costs on the railroads will appear later, but are taken to be more than fully offset by the growth of traffic confidently believed to be coming. The inability of national income to meet expenses cuts no figure in the minds of the people who make the stock market, for the reasons given here last week, and because it is taken for granted that the administration will not hesitate to avail itself of its powers to issue income bonds, or other forms of bonds, if necessary to prevent any inconvenience arising to the nation from that source. Later on, maybe, this very fact will be used against the market if it will help to secure a different object than the prime movers in it have now in view, but at the moment it is put aside as inconvenient and without influence. The fact that it renders an early reform of the currency impracticable is also coolly overloked. Back of the bull enthusiasm there is, of course, something more than a mere desire to see prices go up. The improvement in business is growing so rapidly that the setback of this week is accounted as nothing against it. The circumstances of the times enable arrangements to be made which could not have been attempted three years ago. Corporations are able to anticipate the maturing of their mortgage debts, and thereby greatly improve their financial standings; electrical developments are opening up ever larger fields of enterprise, and under the stimulus of greater demand prices are advancing pretty generally all along the line. With such influences as these at work, it is hard to dampen public confidence in corporate securities.

RESIDENT FAURE'S death, the sad news of which has just been received, may serve to check reckless agitation in France and bring the disorderly to a sense of the peril they threaten their country with. That Europe has no guarantee of the long continuance of the present low rates for money seems to be the opinion of the financial authorities; one of the best of them says: "As to the future course of the market, there must be great uncertainty. The expansion of trade, the great development that has recently taken place in stock exchange speculation and the knowledge that a number of foreign loans are being projected, all point to a probable increased demand for money, and consequently a possible hardening of rates." Among the governmental loans recently financed are, the Prussian and German Imperial 3 per cent. loans, together amounting to $50,000,-000; the Chinese 5 per cent. railway loan of $11,500,000, and the New Zealand $5,000,000 3 per cent. loan. Municipal corporations are also becoming large borrowers. Bids for an Edinburgh $5,000,-000 3 per cent. Ican covered double the amount asked for and ranged from 2 per cent. to 5 per cent. premium. An Argentine loan of $30,000,000, secured by the spirit tax, is also reported as placed. The French Parliament has raised the duties on foreign wines. The French shipping trade was unusually active last year, the entries of vessels laden having increased, compared with the previous year, from 14,927,131 tons, to 15,939,106 tons, and the clearances from 10,346,239 tons to 10,670,952 tons. Berlin views with much satisfaction the successful floating of the two home loans previously mentioned. The fact that a single institution, the Deutsche Bank, was in a position to promptly respond to the overtures of the Imperial and National governments, and the further fact that the needs of the two governments are now met for some time to come, creates confidence in the situation. Since, however, it is now reported that foreign investors will get from 25 to 50 per cent. of their bids, it may appear to the outsider this confidence in Germany is a little overdone. What these figures really mean is not clear, but as it is a rule among subscribers to a good loan to ask for several times more than they really wish for, on the theory of proportion a very large part of the loan must be going away from home, a fact that does not sustain the view first presented when the results of the bidding became known, that it was German investment capital that had taken the loan. Fined down, it means that a German bank was able to supply the governmental wants and to secure the profits of issuing the loan, but even the satisfaction arising from this fact is lessened by another, that the bank selected to carry out the operation is the one most in touch with British and American capital. Vienna is still sadly disturbed by the apparent impossibility of Austria and Hungary concluding a satisfactory fiscal agreement, to which is added the injury done by standing anti-Semiticism and a newly developed outcry among the German elements of the Empire against Rome.

THE VINCENT BUILDING.

F the very recent tall buildings the Vincent, at the southeast corner of Broadway and Duane street, which is not yet completed, is the most striking and, perhaps, the most interesting. Nobody who has seen the Times building and the Union Trust and the Prudential in Newark, has any need to ask whose work it is. The authorship is quite unmistakable. The author has reverted, in the present work, to the respectable tradition of these structures, after an escapade which recalls the parable of the Prodigal Son. In this unlucid interval he has produced the second tallest building on Manhattan Island, and the very best abused, and upon the whole justly so, even though the denouncers of it have failed to take fair account of the author's conditions and limitations. It is damning the more recent edifice with praise altogether too faint to say that it is a relief and a refreshment after the other. Now, after the St. Paul, the work goes, comparatively speaking, bravely on.

There is nothing particularly trying or unusual about the problem in the case of the Vincent. The site is a parallelogram on a corner, something like 50 feet on Broadway by 100 on Duane street, and the building, "astonished at its own moderation," stops at what is now for such a site the modest altitude of sixteen stories. It is apparently built of Indiana limestone, really, of course, of a steel frame to whiich the ostensible walls are a mere screen. But it is throughout designed without reference to the actual structure, and is to be considered and judged as a structure of masonry. To say this is to say that it affords no help toward a solution of the real problem of the tall building, and that it is not to be regarded as a serious work of architecture. But that is only to say what must be said of all the other steelframed, tall office buildings in the United States, with half a dozen exceptions. At the very outset, however, it should be made clear and emphatic that in the case of a building which is not "the real thing," but a conventional treatment of a feigned construction, criticism must be also conventional. Otherwise it would consist of denunciation only, and all the tall buildings conventionally designed would be put upon the same level and receive the same condemnation. Whereas everybody knows that there are immense differences among them.

That the Vincent is, upon the whole, one of the good ones few observers will be prepared to deny. The assumption that it is of masonry is upon the whole consistently carried out. From the illustration, and even from hte building, one could not say decisively that it was inconstructible in stone, or even that it was not constructed in stone. It is true that, given these dimensions and a stone construction the walls would look painfully thin. But it does not follow that they would be dangerously thin. What the piers lack in breadth would have to be made up in depth, and the architect would be censurable, if he had built walls actually so thick as would be required to carry themselves for sixteen stories, not to have exhibited and emphasized their thickness. The single segmental arch of the front, the three segmental . rches of the side, seem to exercise a thrust that requires to be taken up by powerful abutments. But the apparent abutments are provided in the separate and solid treatment of the corners, "spiked," and held firm as they appear to be by the great superincumbent height of fourteen stories. It is true that in the building this abutment is not so visibly supplied as in the drawing. The cuter corner pier would have given a great assurance of stability if it had been made the merely solid mass which the draughtsman, out of craft or uncertainty, has left it. Even in that case it would have not been architecturally appropriate because it would have brought into question all the other parts which should have been equally proportionally solid, but which are in fact disproportionally thin and open. Of course no owner of a commercial building would have acquiesced in such a waste of the most valuable space in his building and no "practical" architect would have ventured to suggest it. As a matter of fact, what in the drawing appears a solid mass of pier, much to the advantage of the building, is in fact a great hole, covered with a projecting show window, and leaving the corner pier, precisely the most important apparent prop of the whole building, without any visible means of support whatever, while the accorway is cut through the counterparting pier at the other end of the front. Of course, this is nobody's fault. But it illustrates one of the conditions that prevent the tall building from being a successful imitation even of a building of masonry, not that like solecisms do not occur in commercial buildings of actual masonry, but they are recognized as fatal by the very architects who have to do them. A metal construction is in all these cases introduced and concealed. In a building of which the whole structure is of metal this and all other solecisms which must occur in the attempt to make it lock like masonry might be avoided by foregoing that attempt.

But upon the whole, with this painful exception, the Vincent building might apparently be of the masonry of which it apparently is. It follows the accepted division into base, shaft, and capital upon which most of the architects of tall buildings are agreed, and which was first introduced with emphasis in the front of the Union Trust building, to which the front of the Vincent bears a very close resemblance. That is only a street front, while this has two sides completely and permanently visible, and a third, the south side, of which the treatment shows an intention to make it at least provisionally presentable. The opportunity here should be correspondingly greater. But the building is not so successful.

It is the Breadway front which most distinctly recalls the earlier work, of the success of which it distinctly falls short. The frontage may be about the same, and the altitude of the later building nearly twice that of the earlier up to the cornice line, sixteen stories against nine. The triple lateral division in the Union Trust, which is really a masonry building, gave an opportunity for solid lateral piers which, if reduced to the minimum, were not reduced below the minimum of apparent sufficiency. In this case, with a skeleton construction, very possibly the most eligible arrangement was that adopted, which had been previously adopted in the front of the Home Life, that is to say, flanking pier, kept as plain and solid as the introduction of a window in every story would permit, and a much lighter and more open centre, to which the two sides should serve as apparent abutments. But with three openings in the centre, the fivefold division here adopted, with the consequent thinning of the pier, would have made them spindle painfully if they had been no taller than those of the prototype. But there are in fact seven stories included here under the arches, against only five in the Union Trust, and the piers are thinned much below what would be an allowable minimum in stonework, while the mouldings that decorate the more massive piers of the lower building are very nearly if not literally reproduced. The effect is not good upon the Broadway front, and upon the longer side, where the arrangement is continued, and which one sees from the side, it is intolerably "liny" and spindling. Still the simplicity and comparative massiveness of the angles effectually frame the two fronts and give them a considerable unity and impressiveness.

Decidedly the best thing in the building is the basement, the architectural base, that is to say, including three stories. The scooping away of the angle-pier is, of course, most injurious, but upon that score the designer is to be commiserated, rather than condemned. But the angles, as they were designed and meant, lock the more solid by contrast with the great segmental arches and seem effectually to enclose and abut them. The cutting of an entrance through the other pier is also unfortunate, although by contrast with the huge central arch the entrance at the side seems a mere postern. On the long side the intermediate piers are reduced to a minimum not only without detriment, but with advantage to the effect of them. The detail of the basement is all well designed and well adjusted in developed Gothic, by the way, instead of the Romanesque of the Times building and the Union Trust.

On the other hand, decidedly the worst thing about the building is the top. In the first place the allotment to it of five stories in a sixteen story building seems excessive. In the next place it seems entirely capricious. It is true a good deal of art would have been necessary to take away that appearance from a division which is really arbitrary, and that art has not been exercised. The side piers, the abutments of the front, are continued through this division without change, and crowned at the top with their own steep hoods. Only a balustrade, a balustrade obvicusly without any other purpose, crosses the front to designate this division, while at the centre are three arches of the same span and treatment as those below, but running through two stories instead of seven. So far, the whole arrangement seems entirely capricious, and its apparent capriciousness is increased by the tormenting of the sky line. At the centre is a gable which seems to be a sham, although it is backed with a visible ridge of roof, as may be seen from above or below. But from across Broadway it looks like a sham, until one gets far enough down Duane street to see that its ridge runs back to a hipped roof. But it is at a distance of blocks that this becomes discernible. Along the side the sky line is broken by gablets which apparently belong to dormers, and these are shams, since the wall is built up to them and there is no roof against which they can be relieved. The two-story dormers of the Times building may leave something to be desired, but they are at least dormers of which only one story is in the parapet-wall, the other being really projected from a retreating mansard. But these gablets are nothing at all, so far as can be seen from the opposite sidewalk, from which they must be viewed at the trying angle of some eighty degrees. Add that the accurate judgment of scale which marks the lower part of the building has here failed the designer and that his finials are exaggerated to grosseness, and it will be seen that the top of the Vincent building is far from being in itself a success. Still, it does in a rough but effective way "crown the edifice," and the edifice is, on the whole, in spite of its faults, a favorable specimen of the skyscraper, by reason of its broad framing piers, of the effectiveness of the basement and of the generally careful and successful detail. One detail of workmanship is worth notice, and that is the elaborate appearance of bonding in the masonry, which would be creditable in a real wall, but has the air of solemn trifling in a mere veneer.

N naming General James M. Varnum to succeed Surrogate Arnold, Governor Roosevelt has made an appointment which, apart from merely political reasons, will please most real estate people. The Surrogate's office is not, of course, a department that is primarily interested in real estate, yet in the course of time a large proportion of all real estate comes under its operation and jurisdiction. To insure good management, the Surrogate needs to be a man of many qualifications. He must be of unquestionable integrity, a first-class executive, a lawyer of high training and experience, and he ought to be familiar with real estate conditions. Very few incumbents could lay claim to all of these qualifications. General Varnum can, as our readers will recognize this, for he is perhaps quite as well known among real estate men, in whose affairs he has been most usefully active for many years, as he is among members of his own profession.

HERE are those in realty circles who deprecate any further discussion of the increased assessments in Manhattan as rather calculated to injure than benefit the property affected by them. That is to say, that for the sake of the market it would be better to sit in injured acquiesence in the present state of things than to agitate for a remedy. Those who favor this attitude overlook the fact that whatever injury the charter provisions relating to taxation can do to realty in Manhattan has already been done; the daily press of New York was especially careful in seeing that none of their influence for evil was lost. It is fortunate that the announcement of the increased assessment was made at a period of commercial confidence, and when the chances of transferring the burden of increased taxation from landlord to tenant were good. Had that not been the case, the property affected might have suffered more seriously than it did. Despite appearances to the contrary, the additional tax burdens have an adverse effect, if not in producing decline, then in preventing the full measure of advance warranted by the circumstances minus the increase. The apparent indifference of the market to the action of the Tax Department is wholly due to a change in business sentiment so general that realty circles could not escape the contagion. At the same time, an injustice has been done, and it is right and proper for those hurt by it to seek a remedy. Those who oppose discussion to this end might just as logically oppose the treatment of the sick for the sake of appearances, although an agrement to disregard the sickness from which they suffer would not hide it. The injustice to realty in Manhattan having been perpetrated, whatever steps are taken to prevent its continuance nelp it, and its value will improve in proportion as the chances of success are good. The mere fact that the interests affected are not sleeping upon their injuries. but are determined to be vigilant in their own defense, will reflect favorably upon the value of their property.

THE introduction into the Legislature of a Rapid Transit bill, which is not the bill of the Rapid Transit Commission, and which, there is reason to believe, voices the sentiments of the City Hall, shows that any hopes that may have been cherished of seeing the rapid transit movement put upon a practical basis this year, may as well be sent to join similar hopes cherished in other years. It is evident that the Rapid Transit Commission and the City Hall have not found that understanding upon which they can work together, and conflict in the Legislature, with nothing done finally to relieve the distress of the traveling public, is likely to be the result. And this is government by and for the people!

SEWER CONNECTIONS.

In the Council, on Tuesday last, the Committee on Law Department reported recommending the adoption of the following ordinance to regulate the issuing of licenses to plumbers for making connections with sewers, etc., and on the motion of Councilman Mundorf the consideration of the matter was laid over for two weeks:

Be it ordained by the Municipal Assembly of the City of New York, as

Section 1. That all openings into any sewers or drains for the purpose making connections therewith from any house, cellar, vault, other premises, or for making repairs to said connections, or all openings into any water-mains for the purpose of making connections therewith from any premises, or for making repairs to said connections, or any excavaany premises, of for making repairs to said connections, or any excavations, opening or displacement of the carriageway of any street, avenue or public place in the City of New York, or sidewalk thereof, shall be made by persons in accordance with Chapter 602, Laws of 1892, to be licensed by the President of the Board of Public Improvements of the City of New York, in writing, to perform such work; and the said persons, before being so licensed, shall execute a bond to the City of New York in the sum of one thousand ($1 0.0) dollars, with one or more sureties, to be approved by the Comptroller of the City of New York and filed with him. Said bond to be conditioned that they will carefully make the street opening in the manner described by the head of the Department having jurisdiction to permit such openings to be made, and close up the same to the satisfaction of the said head of department.

Sec. 2. Upon such license being issued, the said President of the Board of Public Improvements shall forthwith notify the Commissioner of Sewers, the Commissioner of Water Supply, and the Commissioner of Highways, that such license has been issued, and also transmit to each of the said Commissioners the date of issuing said license and the name and address of the person licensed.

Sec. 3. Neither the Commissioner of Sewers nor the Commissioner of Water Supply shall issue a permit to a person duly licensed, as above provided, for work hereinbefore described, unless the application for said permit is first approved by the Commissioner of Highways.

Provided, however, that no person shall be so licensed who has not previously obtained a plumber's license according to law.

Sec. 4. All ordinances of the former municipal and public corporations or parts thereof consolidated into the City of New York inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

THE BUILDING CODE COMMISSION. ...

The Building Code Commission, being desirous of ascertaining what general objections there are against the existing building laws, and in what particulars changes are desired, are about to hold a series of public meetings in the Municipal Council Chamber in the City Hall, and have adopted the following programme for such meetings:

1. That special invitations be extended to the following Municipal Departments, Officials and Societies, namely:

2. That in notifying the foregoing departments, public officials and societies, specific days be given for hearings in the Borough of Manhattan, and that for the same day invitations be extended to three departments, public officials or societies.

That on each public hearing day following the hearing of the departments, public officials or societies specially invited, if time will permit be-fore the usual hour for adjournment, any person present desiring to be heard, shall be given an opportunity to address the Commission.

4. That at the conclusion of the public hearings above provided for, one (or more if found necessary) hearing shall be given to the general public.

5. That public hearings shall be given in such other boroughs beside Manhattan as the Commission may determine, at such places and on days and hours hereafter to be fixed.

The Tenement House Committee of the Charity Organization Society-of the City of New York, has sent out a circular letter over the signature of George B. Post, as secretary, calling attention to Senate bill No. 375, which proposes to so amend the Charter that the Building Code Commission recently appointed by the Municipal Assembly shall be legislated out of office, and that any building code which may be established by the Municipal Assembly shall be of no force or effect; and Senate bill No. 376, which authorizes the Governor of the State to appoint a Commission which shall report to the Legislature in January of next year a building code for the City of New York, the said Commission to be composed of the chief of the fire department of the City of New York; one representative of the health department of the City of New York; one member of the tenement house commission, appointed pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 479 of the Laws of 1894, who shall be an architect; one representative of the board of fire underwriters of the City of New York; one civil engineer, to be chosen from a list of three names, to be submitted to the Governor by the American Society of Civil Engineers of the City of New York; three architects, to be chosen from a list of nine names, to be submitted to the Governor by the New York Chapter of the American Institute of Architects; one practical builder of at least five years' experience in the construction of modern fireproof buildings; one attorney and counselor-at-law who has been admitted to practice in the State of New York for at least The circular letter gives the following reasons for five years. advocating these two measures:

1. Building operations in this city have never before been controlled by city ordinances, but always by State laws. It seems most unwise to depart from this well established custom. The Municipal Assembly has at present the power to amend such ordinances on any day by a bare majority vote, without public discussion, and on the day the amendment is introduced.

2. With the Municipal Assembly amending a code of ordinances and the State Legislature passing new building laws from time to time, there will always be endless conflict and confusion.

always be endess connect and contusion.

3. A Commission to codify the building laws of the State, should not represent merely the interests of the builders, whom it is sought to control, as the Commission appointed by the Municipal Assembly does, but should represent the interests of the people, and should be composed for the most part of architects, engineers and lawyers, who alone possess the requisite expert knowledge.

4. The Commission appointed by the Municipal Assembly has no power to amend the Tenement-House Act, which needs amending, as some of its provisions are unnecessarily severe, and others not sufficiently strict, to secure the health of the occupants.

As these measures will undoubtedly be opposed by certain speculative builders and others, it is important that all persons interested in Tenementhouse reform, and in having safe and sanitary buildings, should support Senator Ford's measures.

OUR ALBANY LETTER.

Albany, Feb. 16.—There was a less number of bills relating to New York presented this week to the Legislature than in previous weeks, but one of large importance was introduced—which has no earthly chance of passing. The bill in question was one presented by Senator Grady, authorizing the sale of a rapid transit franchise by the Rapid Transit Commission to a corporation, an individual, or to an existing railway corporation in New York. The reason it will not pass is that the Republican majority in the Legislature would not consent to the supervision of the construction of the road by the Democratic administration of New York.

It is reported here on good authority that the Rapid Transit Commissioners will have a bill here on Tuesday next, authorizing them to sell the franchise for constructing a rapid transit road.

A large number of bills have been introduced amending New York's charter, but thus far they have not escaped from the hands of the committees which have them in charge.

The bills introduced this week with the names of the introducers and introductory numbers are:

Senator Marshall (Intro. No. 436), abolishing the fees of the sheriff of Kings County and substituting a salary of $15,000 a year; (Intro. No. 437), abolishing the fees of the Register of Kings County, and substituting a salary of $8,000 yearly; (Intro. No. 438), abolishing the fees of the County Clerk of Kings County and giving him an $8,000 salary yearly in lieu thereof. In each case fees received are to be turned into the Treasury of the City of New York.

Senator Coggeshall (Intro. No. 445), amending Sections 19, 20, 61, 77, 78 and 81 of Chapter 415 of the Laws of 1897 in respect to the inspection of scaffolding, ropes, blocks, pulleys and tackles. The amendments give the factory inspector authority to require proper scaffolding, ropes, blocks, pulleys and tackles in cities, to require the protection of persons employed on buildings in cities, to appoint fifty persons as factory inspectors, to forbid the employment of a woman or a minor under 18 years of age in a factory after 9 p. m.; to require protection from employes operating machines, and giving the factory inspector authority to enforce the amendments referred to above.

Senator Stranahan (Intro. No. 485), amending section 471 of Chapter 410 of the Laws of 1882, so as to declare that if the exterior wall of a building "shall extend not more than (four) ten inches upon any street it shall not be removable."

Senator Grady (Intro. No. 477), amending the Penal Code's provisions in regard "to conspiracies and acts not expressly forbidden (boycotting)." The words "wrongfully interfering" are inserted in the bill. It amends sub-divisions five and six of Sections 168, 170 and 675 of the Penal Code. Sub-division 5 will read as follows, after its amendment: "5. To prevent another from exercising a lawful trade and calling, or doing any other lawful act by force (threats, intimidation) or by wrongfully interfering (or threatening to interfere), with tools, implements, or property belonging to (or used by) another, or with the use or employment thereof; a"

Senator Grady (Intro. No. 496), adding the following subdivision to Section 4 of Chapter 908 of the Laws of 1896, which says, "The following property shall be exempt from taxation." 18. A bond, debt, or other demand, secured by mortgage upon real estate within the State of New York, to an amount not exceeding the value of said real estate, and not exceeding the value of said real estate over prior incumbrances thereon; provided the rate of interest on said bond, debt or other demand does not exceed 5 per centum per annum." This bill would exempt from taxation mortgages paying less than 5 per cent.

Senator Norton (Intro. No. 491), authorizing the Comptroller when authorized by the Municipal Assembly and the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, to issue bonds for the laying of water mains, providing hydrants, stop cocks, connections and the driving of wells when and where necessary.

Assemblyman G. W. Meyer, Jr. (Intro. No. 758), ratifying the action of the municipal authorities of New York in laying out the lands between 84th and 86th streets, Avenue B and the East River for a small park.

Assemblyman Adler (Intro. No. 761), providing that where an assessment for a local improvement has been annulled in whole or in part by the judgment of a court, any sum of money which has been heretofore or shall be hereafter paid thereon or on account of any assessment upon property included in the same assessment roll for such local improvement may be refunded with interest from the time of such payment. "If not so refunded within one year from the time of such judgment or order so annulling such assessment an action may be maintained to recover any sums so paid as aforesaid with interest thereon."

any sums so paid as aforesaid with interest thereon."

Assemblyman Brawn (Intro. No. 752), changing the dower law to read that a widow shall be endowed of the third part of all the lands whereof her husband was seized of an estate of inheritance "at the time of his death." The law at present reads at "any time during the marriage." Sections 171, 186 and 187 of Chap. 547, Laws of 1896, will be hereby repealed.

THE DISPUTE IN THE MARBLE TRADE.

The decision of William C. Whitney to stop all work on his new house at 68th street and 5th avenue, has developed an unexpected phase in the dispute that has been going on for some time past between the employers of the marble industry and certain employees in that trade. The incidents leading up to the disagreement between the marble employers and their employees extend over a period of some months past, and their beginning can be traced to a misunderstanding in the trade union between the marble cutters and the polishers and helpers.

The cutters, being skilled workmen, objected to the dictations through equal representation of the polishers and helpers, who were classed as unskilled workmen and were especially opposed to sympathetic strikes which deprived them of their means of livelihood for periods of varying length while matters really concerning other trades were being adjusted. The Building Trades Council reorganized during the past year, and the principal features of their new constitution were the measures taken to prevent sympathetic strikes. The marble cutters and the polishers and helpers recently joined the council and their strained relations were renewed. The employers would not recognize the polishers and helpers as a body, but wished the privilege of hiring unskilled labor where they pleased. A large number of helpers left the Helpers' Association and went back to the shops under the protection of the Employers' Association.

The helpers who did not resume work were in the minority, but they closed the books of the association and refused to admit any new members without an initiation fee of $100. In addition to this they proposed to impose a heavy fine on all the helpers who resumed work, before they can be reinstated in the association. No new men are joining the association, and the employers need twice as many men as there are regular members. One of the rules of the association is that a cutter who is a setter in a building must have a helper, and when work grew pressing there were not enough helpers to accompany the setters, and feeling began to manifest itself between the skilled and unskilled workmen. The control of matters was, however, in the hands of the Helpers' Association.

The principal cause of the recent strike was a misrepresentation made by a committee of the Building Trades Council, which held a conference with the executive committee of the Marble Industry Employers' Association, and reported back to the Council that the Marble Industry Employers' Association refused to do anything further in the matter, whereas the Employers' Association claim they only asked for a postponement of action a few days until the entire Marble Industry Employers' Association would be in session. They additionally claim that there is no non-union marble being used in either the Whitney house or the University Club, as has been reported, and are willing to bring affidavits to support this statement.

THE WEST END ASSOCIATION.

The usual monthly meeting of the West End Association was held on 6th inst. Cyrus Clark, president, was in the chair. Theodore T. Baylor, 35 Nassau street; Wm. E. Gaillard, 76 West 94th; George N. Gardiner, 348 West End avenue; George F. Langbein, 315 West 89th; Louis Ottman, 38 West 73d, and James G. Wentz, 312 W. 82d, were elected members. Resignations of H. D. Cooper, Wm. B. Ellison, Andrew Mills and John H. Mooney were accepted.

The Committee on Legislation, Law and Schools reported that they had provided for payment to Treasurer People's Committee of $500.00 appropriated at January meeting in Amsterdam avenue matter. Two suits have been begun, one by St. Michael's P. E. Church, one by Home for Destitute Blind, to prevent the establishment of four tracks with electric cars on Amsterdam avenue; argument for injunction pendente lite had been made, and case was waiting decision of Justice Scott. In the matter of Senator Grady's bill to establish garbage dumps on Riverside Park water front, the committee expected to defeat the measure. They had arranged to attend a hearing before the Local Board for 19th District, on 7th inst., on a petition asking the repeal of the law which prohibits dumps on Riverside Park water front; also at Albany, on 10th inst., on bills to prevent laying of four tracks for electric cars on Amsterdam avenue, except feet between track and curb. On motion of Mr. Card, the whole matter of the bills and hearings regarding dumps was referred to the Committee on Legislation, Law and Schools.

Messrs. T. E. Crimmins, Boker and Vaux, a contractors' committee, asked that the Association withdraw its opposition to the maintenance of a dumping board at foot of West 79th street, and this matter was also referred to the Committee on Legislation, Law and Schools. On motion of Mr. Pumpelly, the Commissioner of Public Buildings was requested to have avenue and street names placed upon Amsterdam avenue street langs. On motion of Mr. Quinn members were requested to write as individuals to the Mayor, asking his approval of municipal assembly resolution changing name of Boulevard to Broadway.

TRADE NOTES.

THE MANHATTAN BRASS CO.

The fire at the factory of the Manhattan Brass Co. this week did only a moderate amount of damage. The injury was mainly to the 28th street building, the foundry, rolling mill and casting shop being left practically intact, so that they are able to supply all materials and all sorts of castings without any delay whatever. The foundry and rolling mill started up again last Wednesday, and, as to the bronze railing and grille work for buildings, the company has rented the 5-story double building at Nos, 413-415 East 25th street, and bought machinery which is being installed, so that they will be ready to put steam on there in a few days. In fact the fire causes only a few days' delay in conTotal No. Amount in Number n tracts in hand, and the company remains in the market as before for additional business.

THE POWHATAN CLAY MFG. CO.

The Powhatan Clay Mfg. Co. will hereafter occupy the commodious offices, Nos. 507-8 Townsend Building. The persistent efforts of this company have met with unprecendented success during the past season, and, taking into consideration that this was an "off" year, the record of their Cream White Brick being used in fully 80% of the operations in which that class of brick was specified, is one of which the officers of the company can well be proud. Their Gray Brick is coming to be well known and liked by architects and contractors generally for its purity of color and general excellence and has already been used in apartments and dwellings in the best portions of the city, although practically introduced only last year. Mr. Sol. Rosenbaum, 2nd

Vice-President of the company and Manager of the New York office, has been indefatigable in his efforts to place the product of the company at the top, and has certainly met with an unqualified success. Mr. H. K. Terry, Vice-President and General Manager, is in charge of the company's factory, and the perfection of the brick in regard to color and workmanship and the prompt manner in which deliveries are made, prove that the management of this concern is in excellent hands. Noteworthy where the brick manufactured by this company have been used are the Chesebrough Building, Pearl and State streets; the apartments at 79th street and Amsterdam avenue; "The Livingston," at 86th street and Central Park West; the stores and lofts, 580 to 590 Broadway; the Powhatan and Tecumseh apartments, 34th street, near 7th avenue; Christ English Evangelical Lutheran Church, Brooklyn; the Hammerstein Co.'s new theatre; "The Victoria," 42d street and 7th avenue, and a hundred other representative buildings.

In view of the fact that this has been a short week, and in view of the further fact that travel for a couple of days was practically suspended as a consequence of one of the severest snowstorms in the history of the city, the business of the private sales' market has been unexpectedly large. There was a tendency in some quarters to attribute the comparative quiet of last week to the influence of the increased tax assessments, although experienced brokers say that February is usually a quiet month, being largely devoted to preparation for the spring renting and selling. As to the influence of the increased assessments, no one but a theorist would speak dogmatically on that subject with the limited data at hand. It is five weeks since the tax books were opened. A comparison of the private sales' business of this period with that of the corresponding period last year falls out distinctly in favor of the present year, so that it would be quite as easy for a sophist to prove that the increased assessments have benefited the real estate market as to prove the con-The total number of private sales reported in the five weeks in question in 1898 was 284, and the stated consideration, given in 79 transactions, was $5,148,025. In 1899, 345 sales were reported, and the stated consideration, given in 78 transactions, was $8,712,350. The war scare, it will be remembered, did not begin to affect the real estate market until after investigation had disclosed the nature of the Maine explosion. At any rate, the Maine disaster did not occur before February 15. There is every reason to believe that, whatever the influence of the tax assessments, the conservative improvement in the private sales' market which became apparent in the autumn, and which has quietly gathered force ever since, will continue uninterrupted, although anything like a boom is not expected while speculation maintains its present pace in the Stock Exchange. The total number of transactions given below is 59, with considerations given in 17, and amounting to $1,718,250; corresponding figures for last week were 54, 6 and $947,200.

There were twenty-five parcels scheduled for sale at foreclosure in the Real Estate salesroom this week, and twelve voluntary, partition and executors' offerings. As to the properties connected with foreclosure proceedings the sale of seven was adjourned, two were withdrawn, while ten were purchased by the plaintiffs and six by outsiders. Of the voluntary, partition and executors' offerings six were sold and the other six bid in or withdrawn.

Geo. R. Read announces in our business pages for Tuesday next, 21st inst., the auction sales of No. 60 Cedar street, 5-story building; No. 51 Nassau street, 4-story building, running through to Liberty place, and the 4-story brownstone dwelling, No. 141 East 34th street. The sale is ordered by the executors of an estate, and the parcels to be sold, it need hardly be stated, are attractive from an investor's point of view. Maps, etc., can be obtained of the auctioneer at No. 10 Wall street, and No. 1 Madison avenue.

Richard V. Harnett & Co. will sell on Tuesday next, 21st inst., the tenement parcel No. 124 West 49th street, and on Thursday, 23d inst., the northwest corner of 8th avenue and Jane street, a plot 115x40x87.6x110, with 3- and 4-story buildings thereon. Details will be found in our advertising pages, or will be furnished by the auctioneers on application, at Nos. 71 and 73 Liberty street. The same auctioneers announce for March 2d the sale of a number of attractive investment parcels located on East 26th, 27th and 28th streets, which will be found more particularly described in the auction notice in our business pages, and which should have attentive examination. They are to be sold by order of the receivers of the John Stephenson Co., Limited, for whom Sullivan & Cromwell, No. 45 Wall street, are attorneys.

Philip A. Smyth will sell at auction on Thursday next, 23d Inst., the southwest corner of Columbus avenue and 90th street, three 5-story and basement brick and stone apartment houses and stores. The corner house has a front of over 100 feet on the avenue and 30 feet on the street. The dimensions of the other two are 30x100.81/2 each. It will be seen from the announcement on another page that the terms are extremely liberal. The auctioneer will furnish particulars at his office, No. 11 Pine street.

Bryan L. Kennelly has a notice in our business pages of several important auction sales for nearby dates. On Thursday next, 23d inst., he will sell among other parcels a plot, 75x100, on the southeast corner of Broadway (late Western Boulevard) and 102d street. The added importance given to this thoroughfare by the change of name and the demand lately developed there for vacant land for improvement makes this an especially attractive parcel. On the 28th inst., he will dispose of a number of tenement and flat parcels in live sections of the city, a list of which will be found in his advertisement previously alluded to. The auctioneer's office is at No. 66 Liberty street, where full information can be obtained.

Attention is directed to the announcement of the Amos R. Eno auction sale which is to take place on Tuesday next, 21st inst. under the direction of Peter F. Meyer, auctioneer. The list of parcels to be offered on that occasion will be found in our business pages, and while, as stated last week, it does not embrace the very choicest holdings of the estate, it contains so much that should interest would-be purchasers for investment that this sale must be one of the great events of the auction market. Interested parties are directed to apply to the auctioneer, at No. 111 Broadway, for book-maps, terms of sale, etc.

We will pay a liberal price for copies of The Record and Guide Nos. 253, 930, 1454, 1475 and 1556, delivered at our office in good condition.

Gentleman, thoroughly experienced in every branch of, and well known in Real Estate, desires position. Address "JAMISON," care James Bailey, 1489 Broadway.

REAL ESTATE NOTES,

Daniel Birdsall & Co. have sold a property on Duane street, east of Broadway; particulars cannot be given this week.

William K. Porter is the buyer of the northwest corner of Park avenue and 65th street, not 64th street, as stated in our last issue.

Beverly Ward is reported to be the buyer of Nos. 215-217 West 34th street, of which sale was reported in our last isue. He gives in part payment two dwellings, one on West 68th street and one on West 76th street.

Mayor Van Wyck has signed the ordinance passed by the Municipal Assembly changing the name of the Boulevard from 59th street to Spuyten Duyvil to Broadway. This change of name for the Boulevard will make Broadway one of the longest streets in the world, extending as it does from Bowling Green to the city line.

A resolution was passed this week by the Board of Aldermen requesting the Comptroller and the Commisioners of the Park Department to sell immediately the buildings upon the lands acquired for a public park and bounded by the north side of 111th street, south side of 114th street, east side of 1st avenue, and the Harlem River. In the Council a similar resolution was referred to the Committee on Parks.

The executive committee of the House and Real Estate Owners' Association of the 12th and 19th Wards, have been directed by the association to investigate the complaints of members in regard to the new assessments on real estate, with a view to suggesting a remedial course of action by the association. Commissioner Conrad Harres and J. Fred. Boss are ex-officio president and secretary, respectively, the counsel being Adolph Bloch.

J. Sergeant Cram, president of the Dock Board, has announced that new dock improvements include 1,500 ft. of sea wall, extending from Catharine slip to Market street, and five piers, each 450 feet long, with space enough in the slips to receive any vessel except the large Atlantic liners. These piers will be set apart for Cuban, Porto Rican and South American trade, and they will also be used by vessels engaged in the East Indian and China trade, which is increasing in the East River.

The Committee on Streets and Highways of the Board of Aldermen was to have held a hearing Wednesday on a proposed ordinance to prohibit the driving of trucks along 5th avenue, between 23d and 59th streets, between 3 and 6 o'clock p. m. Owing to the absence of a majority of the members of the committee, the hearing was postponed. Several residents of Madison avenue were present ready to speak against the ordinance, which they claim will divert the traffic to Madison avenue, which is now little used by truckmen.

Questions and Answers.

LEASEHOLD.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

G dies and leaves F a life interest in a leasehold with remainder to B. B sells whatever interest he has in the leasehold to W, though F is living. G previously had mortgaged the leasehold to S. Neither the lease nor mortgage has ever been filed of record, and F refuses W to put the lease of record. (1) Now, what title has W legally? Has he all the title that B had? That is, when F dies, does the leasehold belong to W? (2) Suppose B should, after selling and signing a transfer of his interest in the leasehold, have judgment against him before F dies, would that affect W's title? (3) Can W compel F to record the lease? (4) Suppose the mortgagee should demand his mency, how would it legally be divided as to F and W raising and paying the same? (5) Suppose repairs become necessary, and F does not do them, what can W do?

Answer.—(1) Yes. (2) No. (3) No. (4) It is a matter of computation, according to what is known as the "Northampton Ta-Upon this subject Washburn on Real Property has the following: "The rule, as now settled, seems to be as follows: tenant for life is bound to keep down the current interest, but not to pay any part of the principal. Now, if, for example, there is a tenant for life, and a remainderman in fee of an estate, subject to a mortgage which is due and must be paid at once to save fereclosure, and the remainderman, to save the estate, pays the mortgage, he is not obliged to take the share of the tenant for life in annual installments of interest to continue as long as he shall live. He is entitled, as equitable assignee of the mortgagee, to immediate payment, and the sum which he thus has a right to claim, is whatever the present worth of an annuity equal to the amount of the annual interest would be, computed for the number of years which the tenant will live. This is assumed by the courts to be fixed, for this purpose, by tables of longevity, which are recognized as reliable in their computation of the chances of life. Whatever this sum may amount to, is deducted from the gross amount paid for redemption, and the balance is the proportion to be paid by the remainderman. Of course the same rule of computation is applied if the tenant redeems and calls on the remainderman for contribution." (5) He can bring an action against F for the damage to the reversionary estate occasioned by the failure to repair.-Law Editor.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

The following letter is a copy of an answer to your reply to my questions I asked in the issue of Dec. 31, 1898, wherein I asked you in reference to a lease, time of expiration. Your reply was the tenant was responsible up to May 1, 1899. I sent him a copy of the Record and Guide, so that he might know that I was about right; his reply is the following: "Jan. 13, 1899. Dear —, I received by mail a copy of the Record and Guide which you sent me, and I note what Law Editor says in answer to your inquiry. I have submitted this answer to my lawyer, who states that if Law Editor will go to the trouble of looking up the law on this question as carefully as he himself has, and especially refer to Judge Daly's decision in a recent analogous case, he will probably change his opinion. At any rate, he offers to bet the price of a good dinner that he is right in the matter and Law Editor is wrong. Yours very respectfully, ———"

Answer.—In reply to the previous query I might have said that

I could not give a definite answer, as sufficient details were not given, as to the provisions of the lease expiring May 1, 1897, but I took certain things for granted. The previous lease or leases have nothing to do with the question. If the last lease contained a provision that the rent, though the letting was for seven months only, was at the annual rate of so many dollars per year, no matter at what period it was payable (which was what I took for granted), then if the tenant held over after the first of May, 1897, he could be held for the year expiring any first of May thereafter. If, however, the last lease merely said that the rent should be paid so many dollars monthly, then, if the tenant held over after the first of May, 1897, and vacated the house on Dec. 1, 1898, he could be held for the rent until Jan. 1, 1899. You do not state what the opinion of the tenant's lawyer is as to how long the latter shall continue to pay the rent. I should like to have a reference to the decision of Judge Daly which you mention.— Law Editor.

The Building Long Island

MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICK.—There was no brick moved during the past week from Haverstraw and up-river points, and very few, if any, from yards. The demand was very light, owing to the unpropitious weather, and little or no sales were made. Prices are nominal at last quotations. The misplacement of a semicolon last week gave our quotations an appearance of error. They should have read: Prices are steady at $6.25@$6.75 for special and first grade commons; and pales are $4.00. Nothing is moving in New Jersey brick, and manufacturers are not making prices.

LATH.—There are virtually none in the market, and manufacturers are not quoting prices.

LIME.—Trade in Rockland is inactive this week. No shipments are arriving, and there is none in first hands. Manufacturers are not making prices for futures. State lime is quiet with prices nominally at 70c. for common and 90c. for Jointa.

CEMENT.—The demand for Rosendale is very light. There is practically none here, and shipments are not arriving. Manufacturers are not making prices for future delivery. There is an excellent demand for domestic Portland. Manufacturers are not pushing sales, preferring to accumulate stocks for spring delivery, unless they can obtain full values. Immediate deliveries are difficult, if not impossible. Prices are firm at about $1.95@$2.00. Very little imported Portland is arriving, and there being a light demand at present on account of the severe winter, manufacturers are not seeking trade. Owing to the heavy demand throughout Europe, there will not be as much as usual coming to this country during the regular season, and probably only on contract at advanced prices. The stock laid in by dealers during the late fall will probably be sufficient for current needs until spring arrivals are here.

NAILS.—The demand for immediate shipment is quiet, owing to the bad weather, which interrupted a good current trade. Prices this week are, for cut nails: $1.35 f. o. b. cars, Pittsburg, with no concessions: $1.50 on dock, New York, and $1.60 small lots out of New York stores. Wire nails are $1.65 f. o. b., Pittsburg, with a rebate of 5c. to buyers of 1,000 kegs or over: $1.80, single carloads on dock, New York, and $1.90, small lots out of New York stores. Terms 60 days or 2% discount if paid within 10 days of date. A seasonably active trade is expected on the advent of favorable weather, and a further advance in wire nails is anticipated.

OIL.—Regular business having been interrupted by storms, manufacturers have experienced great difficulty in filling orders, and it will probably be until the end of the month before regular trade is resumed. Prices for raw oil are: 41c. for 5-bbl. lots and over, 42c. for smaller quantities. Boiled oil is 43c.@44c. Out of town oil is at 40c., and Calcutta is 54c.

GLASS.—Trade in glass is quiet, owing to the storm. Prices remain unchanged at 80 for plate, 80-10 for French window and 80-20 for American window.

PAINTS AND VARNISHES.—Trade in paints and varnishes, like other branches, and for the same reason, has been quiet. Values on component materials and those incidental to manufacture are stiff, so that prices on dry and mixed paints, as well as varnishes are firm at last quotations.

LEAD.—Owing to restrictions to trucking and shipping and the general hindrance to business, lead has been quiet. Prices remain unchanged from last quotations.

NAVAL STORES.—The market for spirits of turpentine was quiet, difficulty being experienced in trucking. There was a firm undertone in sympathy with a rising tendency in the southern market on account of light receipts. A moderate trade was effected on a basis of 45½c. for machines, but subsequently values advanced to 46c. on receipt of advices from Savannah reporting moderate offerings at 43c. The market closed quiet and firm at 45c. for southerns and 45½c. for machines. Tar was quiet, but steady, at $1.70@$1.75 for regulars and $3.10@$3.15 for machines. Pitch was neglected at $1.70@$1.75.

LUMBER AND HARDWOODS.—The conditions of the lumber and hardwood market this week are analogous to those of last, with perhaps the difference that the situation is a little stiffer. There are no very radical changes in prices, and stocks are diminishing gradually, as it is as yet too early for new stocks to arrive in the market. All woods find an easy market at firm prices, and the market demand for poplar and white pine previously quoted continues.

OF INTEREST TO THE BUILDING TRADES.

Fred. Jacobsen, architect, has removed to No. 54 West 18th street.

Milliken Brothers have removed to the 13th floor of the Bowling Green Building.

There will be a meeting of the Mason's Arbitration Board on Thursday evening, Feb. 23d, at 8 p. m.

It is rumored that the Department of Buildings are contemplating a change of the location of their main offices and the consolidation of the Bronx office therewith.

It is reported that a sash, door and blind pool, to embrace all the principal factories of the United States, was to be effected in New York on Tuesday of this week. Inquiries at some of the leading sash and blind manufactories elicited the information that they knew nothing of the deal.

The annual election of officers of the Building Trades' Club will take place on Monday next, 20th inst. Polls will be open from 1 p. m. until 5 p. m. A meeting of the Board of Managers will take place at 1 p. m., and the annual meeting of the club will be held at 8 o'clock of the evening of the same day.

The Committee on High Buildings of the New York Board of Trade and Transportation, G. Waldo Smith, John H. Washburn, Simon Sterne, Richard Deeves, and Charles T. Wills, have sent a letter with a draft of a proposed ordinance regulating the construction of high buildings to the Board of Public Improvements. Their proposition is the same as that embodied in the Board's bill now at Albany, and has as much chance of being accepted in the one place as in the other.

A Chicago press dispatch states that at a meeting of the new radiator combination, known as the American Radiator Company, organized under the laws of New Jersey, with a capital of $10,000,000, the following were elected officers and directors of the company: John B. Pierce, Edward A. Sumner, Clarence Carpenter, John Fertig, E. W. Middaugh, George W. Parker, Joseph Bond, Clarence M. Woolley, J. L. Kinney, Frank O. Lowden, W. S. Russell, Henry Bond, William T. Baker, H. Hill, and W. B. Dill.

At Wednesday's meeting of the Board of Estimate the Comptroller was authorized to issue $7,673,640 worth of bonds for the purchase of new school sites and the erection of schools. Provision was made in the budget of 1899 for the payment of the interest on that amount of school bonds. The whole amount was authorized, so that the Comptroller may sell school bonds from time to time as they are needed without going through the formality of galling the Board of Estimate together.

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

Ist.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title, and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

BOROUGH OF BRONX.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgager, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's Office to be recorded.

are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's Office to be recorded.

When the letters "P M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

PROJECTED BUILDINGS.

THE LAWS AFFECTING BUILDING.

There has not been any book on the market containing all the laws and regulations relating to building in New York City; yet the need of such a volume is plain enough, because a building from its foundation to its final demolition is subject not only to the building law, but to special regulations of the building department concerning passenger elevators, fire-escapes, light and ventilation and plumbing. There is also a law limiting the height of dwelling houses and another requiring temporary flooring. There are the tenement house and lodging house laws, laws relating to the extinction and prevention of fires and explosives, and the storing of combustible materials in buildings. Moreover, there are very important fire department regulations which must be observed in the installation of electrical apparatus, and there are, of course, all the regulations of the department of public works concerning Croton water rates and the use of water, the opening and refilling of trenches and restoring of street pavements; in addition to ordinances pertaining to the inspection of steam boilers. The architect, builder, building material man and real estate owner must be familiar with these laws and regulations; if he is not, he suffers. They are now all gathered together (with a directory of architects) for the first time in one volume, illustrated, indexed and supplied for $2.50. Record and Guide, Publishers, 14 and 16 Vesey street.

The first name is that of the owner; ar't stands for architect; m'n for mason; c'r for carpenter, and b'r for builder.

When c racter of roof is not mentioned, it is to be understood that the roof is to be of tin.

Questions and Answers.

MORTGAGE-REALTY TRUST COMPANY.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

If I purchase a house through the Realty Trust on a mortgage of three to five years and pay regularly my interest. the trust goes into a receiver or bankrupt, could my mortgage be foreclosed if it stated that I had the privilege of renewal and I wanted to renew it? Or could they foreclose on me if I paid up to date, as long as I wanted to carry it on? If clause in mortgage called for the payment of interest at six per cent and thirty dollars quarterly off principal and I paid the interest all right but defaulted in the payment of the quarterly thirty dollars off principal, could they foreclose? And what notice would I get? And what chance to redeem myself?

Answer.—The receiver or the trustee in bankruptcy would have no more power over you than the company itself. If you have the privilege of renewal you may renew if you desire. There can be no foreclosure if you comply with the terms of the mortgage as to payments. If there is a clause in the mortgage, as undoubtedly there is, permitting foreclosure in case of default in the payment of the quarterly thirty dollars, then in case of your default they can foreclose. If foreclosure is commenced, you will be served with a summons and complaint. A sale of the property could not take place until nearly three months after the service upon you of the summons and complaint, and you would have all that time to make your arrangements for paying up.-Law Ed-

STAMP ON RENEWAL OF LEASE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

If a lease is about to expire and the tenant renews upon the same terms and conditions, is it necessary to stamp the renewal? Answer.-Yes.-Law Editor.

MORTGAGES:

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgage. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's Office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.
