FROM last week's crash in prices there has been a sharp reaction upward on the New York Stock Exchange. It may be fairly said that the sudden advance has surprised Wall Street, and has caught many shrewd operators short of the market at the lowest figures. The talent was in agreement that a protracted decline was ahead of us, that the goose that lays the golden eggs—the public—had been killed, and that it would be a long time before a bull speculation could be inaugurated. Within a week of these confident conclusions a rise of from five to twenty points—the latter in Reading—has taken place, stocks like Brooklyn Rapid Transit, Union Pacific, Amalgamated Copper, and many other of the leaders having advanced ten points each. The goose had not been killed, and never is. Only some goslings die. Such a sharp right-about-face of the market is not unusual. It may be always counted upon as the sequel of a collapse important enough to become historic. Wall Street had a like upward movement, and indeed a sustained advance, after the Northern Pacific corner panic of 1901, when the wisest believed that the theretofore bull market was over for good. Again, when the New York Stock Exchange reopened after being closed for about ten days in the panic of 1873, an advance began, to everybody's astonishment, which ended only with a bear panic—the whole street having espoused the short side. If the popular notion that the fundamentals underlying the present widespread prosperity continue sound and healthy, then it may well be that the long-looked-for rise in railroad stocks will be had this summer, following the adjournment of Congress.

SUCH a heartbreaking smash in prices as that of the late crash undoubtedly cripples and puts out of business a host of speculators. On the other hand, the advertisement of the bargains to be obtained brings in new buyers from everywhere, a percentage of whom remain to speculate. A panic in Wall Street has very much the effect of a special offering of print goods on a given day by a big house like the H. B. Claffin Company. Buyers appear from all over the country to secure some of the bargains. The entire dry-goods trade is stimulated by general purchases, and better prices than before result. Already this week several stocks have sold higher than before, and this may continue. The low-priced railroad issues seem the most promising purchases. They may be said to constitute the only form of improved real estate which can be bought for less than the prices of five to seven years ago. An easy money market is assured for the summer. The Klondike gold, amounting to twenty million dollars, will shortly begin to arrive on the Pacific coast, and will help to bring about the large return-flow of money from San Francisco that is expected. The San Francisco banks are now said to hold in cash seventy-five per cent. of their deposits. There will be no such percentage of withdrawals as this, and new and large local deposits will undoubtedly begin to be made as soon as the banks open for business. Other things being equal, the adjournment of Congress and State legislatures throughout the country should have a beneficial effect on the market. When the lawmakers are in session there is often great anxiety on the part of corporations as to hostile legislation, locally and nationally, and this anxiety is reflected in acute sensitiveness in Wall Street. With the ad-journalment of legislatures a fruitful source of disquietude is thus, for the time being, removed. As for the railroad rate bill, there are those who maintain that, should it become a law, the profits of the railroads will be largely increased.

ONLY a question of time it was when New York would have an all-night bank, and now it is here, and will probably become a regular institution. For many decades New York lagged behind other great cities in the conveniences of a metropolis, and there are still some things lacking, among them a cheap cab service. But, when New York awakens to its shortcomings, it institutes very thorough reforms. In New York, for instance, one can travel at any hour of the night on the surface, subway or elevated railroads. In London one cannot. The belated citizen has to fall back on cabs after midnight, for all underground railroad stations are closed at that hour. Neither can one get anything to eat in a restaurant in the mighty British metropolis after midnight, which is a distinct hardship for the tens of thousands of foreigners who make London an objective point. To enter your hotel either in London or the provinces late at night, one almost has to resort to burglar's methods. A sleepy night porter will let a guest in unwillingly. It does not seem to enter the cranium of the British inn or hotel keeper that a guest should be as free to come and go at any hour of the day or night as if in his own house. Nothing of this sort to complain of in New York. As hotels and many restaurants are open all night, and money has thus to be actively in circulation, an all-night bank became a necessity. Its aim and purpose are to consult the wishes and accommodate the convenience of the public. Personal necessities and conveniences call for banking facilities as urgently in other hours of the day or night as the heretofore rigidly conventional hours of between ten and three. As the Night and Day Bank very properly says: "Hours and requirements of business have been extended, household and individual needs for money movement have multiplied regardless of clock time, yet the hours of banking have remained the same."

MR. FRANK VANDERLIP'S recent address on the credit of New York City should be printed in pamphlet form and circulated by the Finance Department of this city. Many of the newspapers have been arguing that the city must stop its policy of liberal expenditures for improvements, because of the increasingly high percentage at which its obligations are being sold; but any curtailment of these improvements for such a reason would in the long run cost the city a much larger sum than the additional millions which it will be obliged to pay in interest. The policy of liberal improvements for public purposes must be continued, because it is essential to the economic growth of the city; but these improvements should be paid for, as Mr. Vanderlip suggests, by bonds which have only a few years to run. That is the course which railway companies pursue when they cannot sell to advantage comparatively permanent obligations, and New York City should pursue a similar policy. There can be no doubt that in the course of time the city will again be able to borrow on much better terms. Practically ever since 1901 money has been so scarce that high-grade securities bearing a low rate of interest have been sold at a disadvantage. There was, of course, a period of cheap money in 1903-4, but it did not last long enough really to affect the situation. During all this era of business expansion, when capital could be so advantageously employed in general trade, New York has been obliged to borrow largely, and she has undoubtedly been selling more of her stock than the immediate demand warranted. The time will soon be coming, however, when money will again be cheap, and when general business will be less active. Then New York will be able to sell her securities on much better terms, and she should so far as possible postpone the sale of permanent obligations until that time comes.

SO FAR as can be judged from the fragmentary reports which appear in the daily papers, San Francisco is taking up the problem of reconstruction in a sufficiently serious and responsible spirit. The leaders among its citizens appreciate the fact that to rebuild the city according to ordinary methods would be merely to invite calamity and to undermine the confidence in the city's future without which it cannot retain its existing position. Extraordinary precautions must be taken hereafter against the possibility of severe earthquakes, and of subsequent conflagrations; and the city must take care both that an unusually good quality of building is erected, and that in case any similar disaster should occur in the future its effect will be localized. To this end it is proposed in the first place to divide the city into sections, separated one from another by avenues and streets so broad that a fire originating in one section would not spread to another section. The standard of construction established by municipal regulation in all the business sections is to be very high. It is proposed, for instance, to localize the construction of skyscrapers, and to forbid the erection of very tall buildings on very narrow streets; and it is proposed furthermore, to insist upon some kind of frame or concrete as opposed to masonry construction. The details have not of course, been worked out, but these suggestions certainly look in the right direction. In a city exposed as San Francisco is to conflagrations, it would be very bad business to permit the erection of buildings twice or three times the width of the streets on which they are situated, or to allow tall fireproof structures to be surrounded with houses of an easily inflammable construction. When the time comes to formulate such regulations, and to make them effective, they will doubtless meet with bitter opposition on the ground that they are imposing too heavy a burden upon the economic growth of the city; but any yielding to lower and cheaper standards would be fatal. The city is obviously exposed to peculiar dangers; and it is a matter of life and death that it should be thoroughly fortified against them. As to the Burnham plan, that seems likely to be adopted in part; but the general opinion apparently is that the city cannot afford at the present crisis many of Mr. Burnham's recommendations. It is to be hoped, however, that his idea of a central plaza, with broad radial avenues leading in all the more important directions, will be carried out, because this idea is as desirable from a practical as it is from an aesthetic standpoint. The net result should be—must be—that San Francisco will be changed from one of the worst planned and constructed cities in the United States to the best; and if such is the result, we have no doubt that San Francisco will in the end be generously reimbursed for the losses which she has suffered and the heavy expenses to which she has been put.

About Investments in Manhattan Real Estate.

A REMARK recently attributed in the newspapers to a well-known and successful operator is worth more than casual consideration. This operator is said to have declared that a man investing in Manhattan real estate could be three-quarters wrong and one-quarter right, in his judgment as to where he would buy and how much he would pay, and still make money. In other words, real estate in Manhattan is such an excellent kind of property to own that a man who invests in it cannot very well help making money, provided he possesses a minimum of good judgment and common sense. The investor cannot of course throw all prudence and caution to the winds, and pay an extravagant price for any piece of property which he happens to fancy; but he is protected by the wonderful growth of the city against the consequences of ordinary mistakes. In the stock market the ill-informed and inexperienced speculator does not in the long run have very much of a chance, because it requires both shrewdness and nerve to know when to jump in and out of the market, what stocks to buy, and how long to hold them. But in Manhattan real estate a man can in some measure dispense with expert knowledge and experience. He is pretty sure to make money in case he does not violate certain good general principles, the ignoring of which is fatal, except by accident, to the success of any business transaction. The percentage is in his favor instead of being against him, and he can be three-quarters wrong and only one-quarter right without wholly destroying this favorable percentage.

We believe that everybody familiar with real estate conditions in this city will agree that the advantages of Manhattan real estate as a form of investment are not overstated in the foregoing description. There are, of course, periods in which the favorable percentage is small, and there are periods in which it is large; but it is always there. Perhaps the best proof that it is always there may be found in the enormous increase which has taken place in the speculative buying and holding of Manhattan real estate. There are literally thousands of men who are making at the present time handsome profits by speculative real estate operations in this city. Whole districts in the island have been bought up by them in the expectation of a future rise in prices. The increment in value, which during the early history of the island was so largely swallowed up by big estates, is now being distributed among this swarm of speculative operators, who are buying and selling almost as incessantly as a Wall Street speculator buys and sells blocks of stocks. They make a quicker market for Manhattan real estate than can be found anywhere else in the country, and considering their numbers and their activity, the wonder is that they do not, like the Wall Street speculators, devour each other as often as they do the fruits of business growth. But such does not seem to be the case. Numerous and active as they are, there is a sufficient fund of increased real estate value to go around, and year by year their numbers augment instead of diminish. They fully understand that the percentage is in their favor; and they buy boldly whenever they detect the opportunity and, then, if necessary hold on both patiently and firmly.

But it may be asked: What chance has an inexperienced man in purchasing real estate in a city in which so many thousands of men are continually and professionally occupied in anticipating and appropriating increases in value? Well, of course the inexperienced investor is not likely to make as much money as the experienced operator, but as we have already stated, the percentage in favor of the purchaser of good Manhattan real estate cannot be entirely appropriated by the active speculator. Such a man, just because he is an active speculator, is generally content with a small profit on any one deal. He needs to be turning his money over constantly, because he must live on his profits; and the opportunities of the less experienced investor are generally the result of this situation. The inexperienced investor can usually afford to wait longer. This is the one advantage he has over the active speculator; and if he is wise he will make his real estate purchases with a view to utilizing to the uttermost this advantage. He should be careful not to place himself in a position which would compel him to sell the property that he has bought in a short and definite space of time, because it is in relation to just such a point that he is most liable to make mistakes. He should purchase property which almost if not quite carries itself, and which consequently can be held for a long period without running up heavy deductions for interest and taxes; and after buying he should sit down patiently and wait until the current of improvement happens to come his way. Finally so far as he can afford it, he should buy centrally situated corners which are or have a good chance of becoming available for business purposes. It is in this class of property that the percentage in favor of the investor is largest, and that best repays some years of patient waiting; and we believe that this is particularly the case at the present time. There may be some doubts about the permanent investment value of tenements and apartment houses in Manhattan under the new transit conditions; but there can be no doubt at all about the future of good business property. The very causes which make some observers question whether apartment houses and tenements will continue to pay as well as they do at present—viz., the chances which people will have to obtain accessible and cheap homes in the outlying districts—these very causes will work in favor of business property, the prices of which have not already been forced as high as they are likely to go.

DETAILS of the "Chelsea improvement," so far as it affects the extension of dock facilities between Fourteenth and Twenty-third streets, on the North River, are well known. At a large expenditure the city is constructing, under the direction of the Department of Docks and Ferries, a number of modern and improved wharves for the city commerce, gradually expanding on this side of town. But the extent to which this "Chelsea improvement" will affect the territory tributary to it is not everywhere recognized. West Twenty-third street has already become the ferry terminal of five of the chief passenger lines, the Pennsylvania, Erie, Lackawanna, Lehigh and Jersey Central. All of these lines have freight terminals in the same district, and, besides, they connect with the New York Central terminals at Thirtieth street. West Thirtieth street is the future line of dock development on the West Side, and from Fourteenth to Thirtieth street the Hudson River shore line will be, according to all present indications, as important an outlet for shipping as the Hudson River shore line farther south on Manhattan. There is this difference, however, that north of Fourteenth street the shore line runs diagonally towards the west, and leaves a larger area tributary to the docks than south of Fourteenth street; and, moreover, while the streets between Canal and Fourteenth on the west side are generally irregular, those between Fourteenth and Thirtieth are all at right angles, a condition conducive to the extension of commercial facilities. The completion of the "Chelsea improvement" will not only relieve the pressure on New York docks farther down-town, but will aid in the development of a section of New York that has been backward in receiving its share of the city's growth in real estate values of late.

The Northward Movement.

Under the Tenement House Code, and the enforcement of certain of its provisions against old-law houses, an aggregate expenditure estimated at ten million dollars will be required from owners. After proceedings in the courts, the enforcement of the sections referred to was begun a year or more ago by Commissioner Crain, and regularly since batches of notifications to owners, ordering the necessary alterations, have been issuing from the department. Several thousand houses have undergone plumbing operations, and thousands more are to be so improved. No less than eight hundred dispossess notices were served last week, principally in Yorkville and the lower East Side, owing to the desire of the owners of the tenements to comply with the commands of the Tenement House Department for improved sanitation of houses. In these cases the alterations cannot be made with the houses tenanted. Under the circumstances, in evicting these eight hundred families, rooms are at a premium in the sections affected, and landlords having vacancies are obtaining high prices. But rather than pay the increased rates, families are moving northward and into the Bronx, and filling many of the new tenements. Were not the Long Island shore already overcrowded, it would get a great deal of the overflow.

These enforced changes have temporarily greatly changed the aspect of the rental market for tenements, both in the Bronx and on our East Side. They have worked together with other necessities and compelling forces to organize a formidable northward migration. In Manhattan it is manifested by a feverish pressure for rooms on the East Side and, in consequence, a sharp rise of rentals in the neighborhoods most affected. Eight hundred families constitute a decidedly strong renting demand, without adding the displacements caused by the multiplying encroachments of business and the normal changes of habitation. When the sanitary improvements are finished, there will be eight hundred apartments to fill again, and hence another state of affairs interesting to real estate observers. Still higher rents as a matter of course will be enforced for the improved properties. Under present circumstances with the search for apartments so very intense, landlords are deriving a large percentage on their investments.

In the Bronx it is admitted that the crisis on the East Side has improved the real estate outlook in that borough, as the pressure which was relaxing is being renewed. Mr. J. Clarence Davies says there is too great a disparity in values between property on Manhattan Island and property in the Bronx. "When, in the fall of 1905, millions worth of Bronx property was sold at greatly increasing values, there were those who predicted that there would soon be a decrease, but the reverse has been the case, as property sold at that time has very largely been built upon with 5 and 6-story apartment houses, which has caused a further and more stable increase in values, which in turn has spread to all points in the borough. While this has been going on, the value of Manhattan property has increased proportionately, thus still leaving as great opportunities in the Bronx as ever existed.

"Builders can buy accessible lots in the Bronx for twenty to fifty per cent. of the value of lots in Manhattan, can erect buildings thereon and obtain almost as large rentals as are obtained in the crowded district, the reason being the new and modern built apartments with a large amount of air and light to each room, and the advantages of a new district where there is plenty of air and sunshine and parks and schools."

Foreign Appreciation.

The London Architect concludes a very thoughtful and extended consideration of the new San Francisco with this paragraph:

"In the earthquake at Lisbon in 1775 it was found that the most solid buildings were the first to fall. Every parish church, convent, nunnery and public edifice was either thrown down or shattered. Both the king and the people were in such despair that a long time must have elapsed before any efforts were made for the removal of the ruins if it were not for the extraordinary energy of Pombal, the minister. It now seems mysterious that Pompeii, which at one time was believed to be essential to the existence of well-to-do Romans, was allowed to remain for nearly seventeen hundred years without any effort to remove the lava. Some of the inhabitants may have returned in order to carry off such treasures as were obtainable. But no attempt was made to restore the city. With all their energy the Romans seem to have been paralyzed by the spectacle, or to have accepted it as if it were an inevitable fatality for which there was no remedy. At the time of the fire of London, which foreigners seemed to think was a judgment from Heaven, the citizens made no efforts to quench it, but ran about screaming as if they were distracted. If it were not for the garrulous Pepys, who wrung from the king authority to pull down houses in order to isolate the fire, the destruction would have been far greater. With such examples before us the conduct of the Americans becomes heroic, and demonstrates at least that the vigor of some races of humanity has not deteriorated under modern influences."

A Bronx Opportunity.

Building operations in the Bronx this spring have presented a noteworthy feature in that they have shown a decrease in the amount of flat and apartment house construction and a corresponding increase in the number of plans filed for one and two-family houses costing from $3,000 to $7,500.

From recent statistics of the Building Department in the Bronx, for four successive weeks, it appears that out of a total of 157 projected structures, 102 are one and two-family dwellings.

Values established in the older parts of the Bronx during the speculative period of eighteen months ago have been sustained to a remarkable degree, but that the present demand is for low-priced lots is shown by the large proportion of current buying in the outlying parts of the borough, where low prices, within the means of the small individual purchaser, still prevail.

The first sale of property of this character announced for the near future is that of the tract of 336 lots on the Eastern Boulevard, opposite the Westchester Country Club, and owned for many years by the Sisters of St. Vincent de Paul. Topographically, this property is in all respects similar to the Country Club's tract—selected by a score of wealthy people for their villa sites—which is a sufficient recommendation of it from the point of view of natural surroundings. Pelham Bay Park, the largest of the city's pleasure grounds, is within a few minutes walk. The property is now accessible by the West Farms road trolley line from the subway station at 177th st and also from the Simpson st station by trolley along Westchester av. Waterbury av, which intersects the tract, is a continuation of Westchester av, and is included in the approved route of the extension of the subway out Westchester av and through Westchester Village, with a terminus at the Eastern Boulevard and Pelham road. The sale will be conducted by Auctioneer John L. Parish in the Vesey Street Salesroom on Tuesday, May 22.

The New Auction Rule.

As no remonstrance has been heard against the action of the Real Estate Auctioneers' Association, in increasing the knock-down fee for property bid in, it is presumed that the new rule is generally acceptable. It is pointed out that it does not forbid property from being bought in, as it is realized that circumstances often times compel owners to protect themselves; but the ruling of the board implies an intention not to encourage the exception to become the rule. The fee in such cases will hereafter be ten dollars.

Speaking of the action of the association, Mr. R. E. Simon remarked this week that he believed the rule to be a good one, and thought the results would be beneficial. "There is a serious objection," added Mr. Simon, "to a large number of voluntary auction sales, for the purpose of either procuring a large price, or for the purpose of testing the market, to ascertain, or create an apparent, value for a piece of property. Those owners who offer their property at auction with the intention of letting it go at a reasonable figure, and one at which they feel the property should appeal to the purchaser, should be willing to chance the paying of an additional fee in case the property is not sold; and if an owner were deterred from offering his property because of this additional fee, it would be because he felt that the chances of his selling it were slight and the probabilities were that he would have to buy it in, in which case it would be better for the market were the property not offered."

THE REALM OF BUILDING

Labor Situation.

Open shop was proclaimed in the structural iron erecting trade this week by the National Erectors' Association, which action simply extends the condition that has been prevailing generally in New York to all other cities in the country. It is hoped by this measure to reassure real estate and investing interests of the stability of labor conditions in this line by a more perfect command of the working forces, and to put an end to embroilments and disruptions. With as good or better wages than have prevailed heretofore, it is believed by the employers that all well-meaning workmen will be satisfied to withdraw from the control of arbitrary leaders. The pronouncement reads in part as follows:

"The relations of the members of our association with the Bridge and Structural Ironworkers' Union have become so unsatisfactory that a renewal of them seems not only inadvisable but out of the question. At least, with the union as it is at present organized and managed.

"The association has therefore decided to conduct work on the open shop plan, making no discrimination between union and non-union men. This doesn't mean the open shop as generally understood; that is, the hiring of men by each employer for any wages he can get them for. The association has adopted a set of working rules, including a minimum scale of wages, hours, provisions for overtime, holidays, etc. These rules will be posted upon every job, and will become part of the contract of every man employed by any member of the association. In New York the scale is 56¼ cents an hour for an eight-hour day."

Bickerings between dual unions on the new Custom House are interfering with the dispatch of work in some lines, and involving the plastering, painting, plumbing and electrical work. Otherwise peace, or what is a splendid imitation of it, prevails in New York. The troubles that at rare intervals occur are, compared to what business used to suffer from, of slight consequence.

Building Operations.

Also a brick and steel fireproof storage warehouse, at 140th st and Rider av, and at the rear of their present waterside power station, 39th st and 1st av, an employees' headquarters building of steel and brick construction. The Murphy Co. has awarded the structural steel and ornamental ironwork on the two latter buildings to the Cooper Iron Works, of Newark, N. J., and 1 Madison av, Manhattan.

The structure will be especially arranged and designed for insurance purposes for Edmund Dwight, of No. 76 William st, the lessee, he representing the Employers' Liability Assurance Corporation, of London, which will have its New York headquarters in the building. Messrs. Butler & Rodman, 16 East 23d st, are the architects. (See issue March 10, 1906.)

BUILDING NOTES

It will soon be understood that the Anti-Smoke League are determined men of wealth and influence. Then public rights will be better respected.

Prof. Woolson conducted a fire test of a plaster block partition constructed by H. W. Bell, at the Columbia Fire Testing Station, on May 9, under the supervision of the Bureau of Buildings.

Pretty good joke on the Edison crowd, getting convicted of maintaining a smoke nuisance, seeing that they are such high advocates of a "smokeless city," with all the machinery run by electricity.

E. Litchfield, of the firm of Lord & Hewlett, architects, has a

Work has been begun in earnest in clearing away the old Coal and Iron Exchange building, southeast corner of Cortlandt and Church sts. The site forms part of the plot on which the City Investing Co. will build its 25-sty skyscraper office building. Francis H. Kimball, 71 Broadway, is architect. No contracts for building have yet been issued. (See issue Feb. 10, 1906.)

C. S. Goss & Co., dealers in masons' building materials, with yards at 51st st and 11th av, this city, have sold their Brooklyn yards to the American Building Supply Co. M. Geier, the former manager for C. S. Goss & Co., will remain with the new firm. C. S. Goss & Co. inform us that their reason for disposing of the Brooklyn yard was their inability to give it their personal attention.

The new Prentice excise law requires that within thirty days after it goes into effect the Superintendent of Buildings shall turn in reports to the Excise Department of the State regarding all hotels in his borough. The period ended one day this week with the inspection work incomplete, as the Bureau could not do the impossible. Supt. Murphy says he will carry forward the inspections as rapidly as possible.

After being under construction for four years, the giant Hotel Belmont opened this week with four hundred guests. Built of necessity, rather than of design, by the subway interests, as part of a bargain for right of way and easement, the house promises to be fashionable and successful. The furnishings are very costly and the mechanical equipment the best that can be devised. Mahogany doors and furniture and rose colored marble columns and wainscoting give the keynotes of color. Dark red velvet curtains are in the windows, and the rugs are of the same color. Otherwise the woodwork in the upper part of the house is a delicate drab. B. L. M. Bates, the proprietor of the Hotel Belmont, also conducts the Murray Hill Hotel, a block away. He is also associated with his father, William Bates, in the management of the Everett House.

The Movement to South Brooklyn.

Mr. F. Hall, of 480 1/2 5th av, a leading agent and broker of South Brooklyn, remarked this week that "there is perceivable a constant vigilance on the part of home seekers aware of the future possibilities of South Brooklyn and Bay Ridge, and though there has been a most decided rise in prices, here as elsewhere in the greater city, there has been no apparent abatement in the demand. There is more of a demand for two than one family houses. This office predicts a very promising future for South Brooklyn, particularly in the outlying districts."

One of the largest investors in Queens and Nassau suburban tracts is former Borough President Joseph Cassidy, of Queens. He is said to have purchased more than $250,000 worth of realty since his retirement from office at the end of last year. Before the present demand attracted attention he also bought heavily. He has just purchased the Watson House hotel property at Babylon, which was sold under foreclosure. The price paid was only $27,000, which is reckoned a great bargain. The hotel is one of the best known summer places on Long Island.

Messrs. Parish, Fisher & Co. will sell at auction in the Real Estate Salesroom, 14-16 Vesey st, on May 29, the Dickinson estate, consisting of 369 lots situated on Jerome av, Mosholu Parkway and vicinity. Title to both these properties will be insured free to purchasers. The location is especially fine. Maps and full particulars of all these lots may be obtained from the auctioneers at 149 Broadway. For further particulars see adv.

The auction sale of the property on the Eastern Boulevard, formerly owned by the Sisters of St. Vincent de Paul, will be conducted by Auctioneer John L. Parish, of Parish, Fisher & Co., of 149 Broadway, in the Real Estate Salesroom, 14 and 16 Vesey st, on Tuesday, May 22. The property—opposite the Westchester Country Club, near Pelham Bay Park and within a few minutes' walk of the water front—is, so far as its surrounding is concerned, in one of the most attractive parts of the Bronx. The land is level, slightly above grade, and with the work of development now being carried forward by the owners will be practically ready for building. Several hundred laborers are now engaged in opening and grading 6,000 ft of streets and constructing sewers in many of them. To what extent property in this section is commanding attention was shown in the recent sale of the St. Joseph's Orphan Asylum tract.

REAL ESTATE NOTES

Foreclosure sales are few, but if the annual mortgage tax were not going off, many families would be giving up the struggle to keep their dwellings.

Orders are issuing to the New York Central Railroad to remove their tracks from Jerome avenue. This refers to the spur to the former Jerome Park race track.

Shaw & Co. sold for Mrs. Blakemore the Sutton homestead, on Croton av, Ossining, N. Y., to one of their clients, who intends to occupy the premises after improving same.

The Taxpayers' Alliance of The Bronx has adopted resolutions declaring for the appointment of a Bronx citizen on the Rapid Transit Commission, and naming Adolph C. Hottenroth.

The report of a sale by Lowenstein, Papae & Co. in our last issue of 58-60 East 116th st was an error, and should have read 58-60 East 106th st.

Never so earnest as now was the search for home sites by New Yorkers. The unusual demand makes prices high, and the high prices, in turn, have a great deal to do with making the demand.

The annual outing and dinner of the House and Real Estate Owners' Association is set for June 21 at Donnelly's Grove, College Point. A regular meeting was held last evening in Turn Hall, 85th street and Lexington avenue.

A high-class restricted residential section is to arise from the old Morris Park race course, the title to the remaining three hundred acres of which passed this week to the Fidelity Development Co., a corporation capitalized at $4,000,000.

Mr. W. H. Goldy, of 982 Flatbush av, says that advancing prices have had the effect of increasing the demand for houses in Flatbush. He notes particularly a good call for two-family brick houses, as well as for their frame houses, of which he sold 125 last year.

Small buyers seem to be hungry for suburban lots which can be purchased at from 5 to 10 per cent down, but they are wisely discriminating in insisting on having property near the centers. Some operators have cut up property outside of the paths of travel and find it very hard to dispose of.

Close to 12,000 deeds and mortgages have been filed in the Queens County Clerk's office since the beginning of the year. While the sales have for the most part been to purchasers of small plots, and nearly all have been of unimproved land, the transactions represent more than $2,000,000.

The legislative bill giving the aldermanic board power to "legalize" certain encroachments over the building line, being clearly unconstitutional in view of recent decisions by the highest courts, is not likely to receive the Mayor's approval. This is the verdict upon this week's hearing on the measure.

Tuesday's sales in the Vesey Street Exchange were especially numerous and successful. They included several large plots on upper Riverside drive, lots on Westchester and Tremont avenues, as well as a large number of flats and tenement properties in various sections. Prices for lots on Westchester avenue (running through to Tremont avenue) averaged about $3,500.

Howard C. Pyle & Co. say that not in a single instance have buyers defaulted in taking title to properties recently bought in the Jamaica section. There was considerable apprehension as May first drew near regarding these titles, and many pessimistically inclined people have pointed out that the boom in Queens County is simply a speculation, and that there would be many who would default when it came to taking title.

In relation to the revision of the street system of the Kingsbridge section, in connection with depressing the Harlem Railroad tracks and changing the route of the Central Railroad, the local board has approved the map of the revision as a whole, and the widening of Kingsbridge avenue in particular, with the understanding that, as in the case of Olin avenue and Williamsbridge, 70 per cent of the cost of the widening will be assumed by the city. Part of the thoroughfare in question will be needed for a bridge approach. The petition for grading 210th street also stands approved.

The lot market is coming around again for its share of public favor. Mr. Kennelly had a very successful auction on Wednesday, in the Lower section of Yonkers, in spite of a stormy day. Prices swung between nine and twenty-two hundred dollars. Mr. J. Romaine Brown bought four on South Broadway for $2,200 each, besides a number on other streets. Property in this vicinity will come in for the subway extension privileges, the anticipated effect of which will soon begin to be very prominent. (Reference is made to the extension which the citizens of Yonkers are intending to build from the city line to Getty sq.) Lots in the Bronx are in hands almost too strong for the good of the general public, and a general loosening up would benefit everybody. On Tuesday Mr. Day sold from the block high-class property on upper Riverside Drive, for which he obtained good values.

Mortgage Tax Meeting.

A final manifestation of public opinion upon the Mortgage Tax, representative of the whole State, was made at the Real Estate Exchange, 14-16 Vesey st, on Monday afternoon, under the auspices of the Allied Real Estate Association. Edmund L. Baylies was in the chair, and among those who spoke were Senators Albert R. Page and Thomas F. Grady, Assemblyman J. M. Wainwright and Judge Wm. N. Cohen. Resolutions were passed reciting that the present Mortgage Tax law has resulted in general dissatisfaction, and urging the Governor to sign the Page bill on the ground that the present bill has failed of its purpose of imposing the tax upon lenders of money; that therefore the borrower is doubly taxed, and that the law has imposed such duties on lenders on mortgage securities that conservative lenders will not invest.

Senator Page was properly received with great applause, appreciative of his high service in the Legislature; and the reception accorded Senator Grady and Assemblyman Wainwright was also pronounced. The whole effect of the meeting was to testify to the overwhelming desire of the people that the Governor should append his signature.

Senator Grady said in his address: "From my knowledge of the Governor, whose personal friendship I am proud to enjoy, I feel assured that he will sign this bill. Years ago, when he sat as Senator, he voted for a recording tax bill, and I don't believe he is the kind of man to reverse himself, for he has a conscientious desire to do his duty as he understands it for the benefit of the whole State."

Judge Cohen marshalled the arguments against the bill in this brief paragraph:

"In substituting a recording tax for the annual Mortgage Tax an effort has been made to right a grievous wrong, because (a) already the real estate bears out of all proportion its share of the tax burdens; (b) because the Mortgage Tax law was so cumbrous that it drove off mortgage investments by cautious capitalists and invited the speculative and grasping; (c) it unduly oppressed tenants; (d) it hindered the natural development of our city and State."

One Way of Getting Rapid Transit.

Mr. Wm. G. Morrisey, the oldest established real estate broker of Bath Beach, where he first started business in 1879, and a member of the Taxpayers and Rentpayers' Association of the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Wards, Brooklyn, who has seen the lower end of the Thirtieth Ward rise from a popular summer resort to a flourishing residential centre, is an advocate of the mono-rail system of rapid transit.

"To my mind," says Mr. Morrisey, "what the people want is a system of real rapid transit that they can reasonably be sure of obtaining within a short space of time if they decide to adopt it. A subway is a very desirable thing and would, no doubt, give us rapid transit. No one objects to a subway; in fact, we are all in favor of it. But the question is how soon can we get it? This talk of getting a subway within eighteen months is only calculated to mislead and deceive. From the opinion of experts who are in a position to know, a subway along New Utrecht av is not likely to be realized within six or seven years, if then. According to the evidence of engineers, it will take at least four years to construct and equip the subway. Then there is the all-important question as to whether bids will be made at all on the proposed route.

"An elevated system such as is in use in parts of the borough now could be built in shorter time and at less cost, but this the residents will not stand for because of the unsightly structure and its obstruction to light.

"The best and most practical method of speedy transit yet introduced is unquestionably the mono-rail system. Here we have a system that is at once the most rapid, far and away, of any other—one that will give a speed of 110 miles an hour with absolute safety. From Flatbush av to Bath Beach and Coney Island via New Utrecht av or some other route, a mono-rail system of transit can be installed within ONE YEAR. It can be built at ONE-FOURTH THE COST OF A SUBWAY.

"This mono-rail system must not be confounded with the old bicycle railway at Brighton Beach. There is no more comparison between them than between chalk and cheese. The monorail system is in use in Ireland and in Belgium, and after the most severe tests has been found absolutely practical. An accident has never happened on it. At the present time the mono-rail system is being constructed between Manchester and Liverpool, in England, a distance of thirty-four and a half miles. The cars are scheduled to travel the distance in twenty minutes.

"Although the mono-rail is an elevated system, it is not an objectionable or unsightly one. It is clean. It is designed with an eye to artistic effect and it only takes up four feet of the roadway.

"In advocating this system and asking people to consider it and investigate it to their own satisfaction, I have no axes to grind. All I desire, and all I think the people at large desire, is that system of comfortable rapid transit which we can readily obtain within the shortest period of time and at the least cost, and at a popular fare, and I care not who gives it to us so long as we get it."

CONVEYANCES

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows; 1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty. 2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered. 3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street or avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works. 4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given. 5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2;482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10. 6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

Telephone Duplication

Statement of New York Telephone Company

Asked by a member of the General Laws Committee of the Assembly of New York, "If it is the desire of your Company to serve the public interest, why should you oppose a competing Company?" an officer of the New York Telephone Company, on April 4, 1906, said:

"We have no desire to assume an attitude of unconcern, but without regard to our own interest, I shall try to answer your question as you have put it. Even where real grievances exist a second telephone company is the most wasteful and ineffective regulator that the public can resort to. The advantages claimed for competition are a larger system, better service, fairer rates.

"In the cities of the United States having 150,000 population or more the development is less where two companies operate than it is in such cities where only one company operates. The cities which have the best service at the least aggregate cost to the public are unquestionably those where there is a unified service rendered by one company. Not one of the world's great cities has a larger system or a more efficient service than New York, or has given more convincing proof of the reasonableness of its rates, and its desire to satisfy its patrons, and deal fairly with the public.

"In no other business is so-called competition so burdensome and full of annoyance to the public. The telephone is intended to bring people together. Two telephone systems in the same district divide them into separate groups. Competition does not increase but lessens the usefulness of the facility. Unlike gas, electric light, water, or any other commodity, it is of the utmost importance that one secure his supply of telephone service from the same source as his neighbors and business correspondents. In the supply of these other commodities unification is highly beneficial; in the supply of telephone service it is absolutely essential. Where there are two companies the patron can not dispense with the service of one company by taking that of the other. He must take both and submit to double charges and many vexations, or secure only a partial service.

"Therefore, there is every reason from the standpoint of public interest, for opposing in every proper way the establishment of a second company in New York City."
